

FEATURED GRANT RECIPIENTS

Since 2013, Edison International has provided a total of 15 scholarships to Pepperdine students majoring in STEM fields, with the goal of encouraging students to pursue career paths and post-graduate education in STEM. This past year, EDISON INTERNATIONAL awarded Seaver College $35,000 to continue its support of STEM education at Pepperdine. Edison International's STEM scholarship funding has had a tremendous impact on our students majoring in chemistry, physics, mathematics, and computer science, directly impacting the educational aspirations and goals of deserving and academically outstanding students at Pepperdine University.

THE GETTY FOUNDATION awarded the Frederick R. Weisman Museum of Art a $5,000 grant as part of the Getty's Multicultural Undergraduate Internship program. The grant supported a curatorial internship at the museum this past summer, where the selected intern worked hands-on with Director Dr. Michael Zakian and assisted in researching and developing content and programming for the exhibition: Al Hirschfield: Capturing Celebrity. The curatorial intern helped to write and assemble publicity materials, research works, and create wall label copy for the fall 2016 exhibition from the collection of the Weisman Art Foundation. In addition, the internship supported the Weisman Museum's projects in archiving past exhibitions for the museum's new, enhanced website and updating its social media sites.
