

Supervisor Town Hall: Planning a Return to Campus

Monday, March 29, 2021
11:30 AM-12:30 PM

Human Resources is pleased to invite all supervisors to a town hall to plan returning to campus.

The University remains excited at the prospect of additional students returning to campus, which will require additional employees' on-campus presence. Because of continued health and safety protocols, not all employees can return at once. Supervisors are responsible for planning any on-campus presence in their department and communicating with their employees.

In this town hall, Human Resources will identify some criteria supervisors may use in determining which of their team members, if any, should return as more students populate campus. Additionally, supervisors will be reminded of available resources for their employees and have the opportunity to ask questions. Human Resources remains grateful for supervisors' in the ways they manage, lead, and mentor their teams.

Registrants will receive the Zoom link for the town hall one hour prior to the start of the session.
