Pepperdine is a Christian university committed to the highest standards of academic excellence and Christian values, where students are strengthened for lives of purpose, service, and leadership.

As a Christian university, Pepperdine affirms:

That God is

That God is revealed uniquely in Christ

That the educational process may not, with impunity, be divorced from the divine process

That the student, as a person of infinite dignity, is the heart of the educational enterprise

That the quality of student life is a valid concern of the University

That truth, having nothing to fear from investigation, should be pursued relentlessly in every discipline

That spiritual commitment, tolerating no excuse for mediocrity, demands the highest standards of academic excellence

That freedom, whether spiritual, intellectual, or economic, is indivisible

That knowledge calls, ultimately, for a life of service

PEPPERDINE UNIVERSITY
GENERAL INFORMATION
President’s Message

The School of Law at Pepperdine is a distinctive educational institution, as is the University of which it is a part. The law school is increasingly known for its excellence, its human dimension, and its emphasis on values and faith, as well as the study of law.

Beginning in the academic year 2004-2005, there is another reason for people to look closely at the law school. The appointment of the Honorable Kenneth W. Starr, former solicitor general of the United States, as only the third individual to be given a full-term deanship in the history of the Pepperdine School of Law, is causing great interest among the legal community. The integrity, professionalism, and leadership of Ken Starr are widely recognized.

Judge Starr served as a trial lawyer before becoming counselor to U.S. Attorney General William French Smith in 1981. He was subsequently appointed to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia in 1983. From 1989 to 1993, he served as solicitor general of the United States, arguing twenty-five important cases before the U.S. Supreme Court. Judge Starr has established himself as a leading legal scholar and author. Of course, he may be best known for his service as independent counsel in the Whitewater matter, beginning in 1994, an experience which he has described as sobering.

Dean Starr has had strong connections to Pepperdine for decades, serving on the law school Board of Visitors for many years, as a frequent visiting law professor, and as a staunch friend of the University. His appointment as dean will, we believe, serve to advance the school in many places and among many people.

Thank you for your interest in a very different kind of law school. Our University founder, George Pepperdine, put energy and ingenuity into his dreams. The institution he founded has continued to dream and to be an encourager of vision. We often quote Daniel Hudson Burnham, who, at the turn of the twentieth century, said, “Make no little plans; they have no magic to stir men’s blood…. Make big plans, aim high in hope and work.”

You have chosen to study and train for what we believe is a noble profession—one that is filled with challenges and rewards. We trust that you have a heart for excellence and a soul that makes big plans and aims high. It is our conviction that, without a foundation of ethics, character, and faith, true success is impossible.

Welcome to Pepperdine. We hope your academic journey is a rich experience.

Andrew K. Benton
President
History of the University

Pepperdine University is an independent, medium-sized university enrolling approximately 8,300 students in five colleges and schools. Seaver College, the School of Law, the Graduate School of Education and Psychology, the Graziadio School of Business and Management, and the School of Public Policy are located on the University’s 830-acre campus overlooking the Pacific Ocean in Malibu. Courses are taught in Malibu, at six graduate campuses in Southern California, and at international campuses in Germany, England, Italy, and Argentina.

The University was founded in 1937 by Mr. George Pepperdine, a Christian businessman who started the Western Auto Supply Company. For the first thirty years of its life, the institution was a small, mostly undergraduate college. University status was achieved in 1970 as the institution added graduate and professional schools. In 1972, the University opened its new campus at Malibu.

Pepperdine University is religiously affiliated with the Churches of Christ, of which Mr. Pepperdine was a lifelong member. Faculty, administrators, and members of the Board of Regents represent many religious backgrounds, and students of all races and faiths are welcomed. It is the purpose of Pepperdine University to pursue the very highest academic standards within a context that celebrates and extends the spiritual and ethical ideals of the Christian faith.

Colleges and Schools of the University

The School of Law provides an excellent legal education within a values-centered context. One of the most rapidly developing law schools in the country, it is fully approved by the American Bar Association, and holds membership in the Association of American Law Schools. It has a limited enrollment of about 670 full-time students who come from across the nation and around the world to study law in a unique, supportive environment. Among its newest degree offerings are the LL.M. in Dispute Resolution, administered by the School of Law’s internationally acclaimed Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution, and the Juris Doctor/Master of Divinity, in conjunction with Seaver College. Other joint degree programs include the JD/MBA, JD/MPP, and JD/MDR. It has a fall semester and summer session in London, where students may study international law in one of Europe’s most exciting cities. The School of Law is also home to the newly created Institute on Law, Religion, and Ethics, and the Center for Entrepreneurship and Technology Law.
Seaver College is the University’s residential college of letters, arts, and sciences, enrolling approximately 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students who are expected to maintain the highest standards of academic excellence and personal conduct. An interdisciplinary curriculum requires each student to develop as a broadly educated person. The bachelor’s degree is offered in thirty-eight fields of study, and the master’s degree is offered in seven areas.

The Graduate School of Education and Psychology enrolls approximately 1,850 students. With its main headquarters located at the West Los Angeles Graduate Campus, the Graduate School also offers select programs at graduate campuses in Malibu, Irvine, Encino, and Westlake Village, as well as online. The Graduate School of Education and Psychology offers a total of ten master’s and doctoral programs in education and psychology, all of which are founded on the theoretical understanding of service through leadership. The education programs prepare teachers to serve as leaders in technological innovation and collaborative learning environments, as well as train administrators to create vision and manage change in business, health, and other social service professions. Students in the psychology programs are educated in the current and emerging human service fields, including clinical psychology and marriage and family therapy. Emphasis is placed on the practitioner-scholar model of learning, highlighted by discovery, scholarship, research, and clinical application. In conjunction with an excellent professional education, students are provided with personal attention in a Christian, values-centered context.

The Graziadio School of Business and Management is the nation’s eighth largest graduate business school accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB International) and enrolls approximately 2,400 students in its full- and part-time programs. Founded in 1969, the school is named for its benefactor, the co-founder and former CEO of Imperial Bancorp, George L. Graziadio. Its mission is to develop values-centered leaders for contemporary business practice. Degrees granted by the Graziadio School include the Master of Business Administration (MBA) for full-time students, working professionals, and high-level executives; the International Master of Business Administration (IMBA); the Master of Science in Organization Development (MSOD); and the undergraduate Bachelor of Science in Management (BSM). Special programs include a joint BSM and MBA program, joint degrees with Pepperdine University’s School of Law (JD/MBA) and School of Public Policy (MBA/MPP), and non-degree executive education programs that can be customized to meet an organization’s specific learning needs. Degree programs are offered at the Graziadio School’s headquarters located in West Los Angeles; the Drescher Graduate Campus in Malibu; and additional campuses located throughout Southern California including Encino, Irvine, Long Beach, Pasadena, and Westlake Village. The Executive MBA program also is available in Northern California.
The School of Public Policy (SPP) offers a Master of Public Policy (MPP) degree built on a distinctive philosophy of nurturing leaders to use the tools of analysis and policy design to effect successful implementation and real change. This requires critical insights that only a broad exposure to great ideas, courageous thinkers, and extraordinary leaders can encourage. It is based on the conviction that an elevated and elevating culture, as well as personal moral certainties, are the valid concern of higher education and as important as the tools of analysis. This unique perspective is reflected in the curriculum and unashamedly differentiates it from most other public policy programs. Joint degree programs included the MPP/JD degree in conjunction with the School of Law, the MPP/MDR degree in conjunction with the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution, and the MPP/MBA degree in conjunction with the George L. Graziadio School of Business and Management. The Davenport Institute, the research and special program division of SPP, is dedicated to addressing current issues through major conferences, seminars, and published research.
Dean’s Message

Pepperdine University School of Law is committed to the “highest standards of academic excellence and Christian values, where students are strengthened for lives of purpose, service, and leadership.” These words from the mission statement capture the essence of this school – an extraordinary place where great things are being done, with even greater contributions to the law and to the country just around the corner.

At their best, lawyers are ever disciplining and training themselves and those around them to serve in what, at its best, is a helping, caring profession. The study of law is a rigorous undertaking because our society entrusts lawyers with grave responsibilities. One’s choice of which law school to attend can set the tone for what kind of lawyer one will become. Knowledgeable, zealous representation of clients is an ethical obligation. But zealousness does not require mean-spiritedness. The mission of Pepperdine Law School calls upon students, faculty, administration, and staff to be of genuine service in building and encouraging, and that mission translates into an educational environment that produces effectively trained lawyers who know how to practice law as, in the words of St. Francis of Assisi, instruments of the Lord’s peace.

It is with humility and gratitude that I embark on this first year of a solemn, but happy responsibility of service to Pepperdine Law School as its dean. I look forward to listening, learning, and striving to help everyone in the law school family define dreams and achieve aspirations. As you consider which law school to attend, I urge you to carefully consider joining us as we seek to strengthen lives for purpose, service, and leadership.

Many blessings,

Kenneth W. Starr
Dean and Professor of Law
Roger P. Alford
Associate Professor of Law
B.A., with honors, Baylor University, 1985
M.Div., Southern Seminary, 1988
J.D., with honors, New York University, 1991
LL.M., magna cum laude, Edinburgh University, 1992

Prior to joining the faculty in 2000, Professor Alford served as a senior legal advisor with the Claims Resolution Tribunal for Dormant Accounts in Switzerland, the tribunal established by the Volcker Commission to resolve claims to Holocaust-era dormant Swiss bank accounts. From 1995 to 1999, he was an associate with Hogan & Hartson, Washington, D.C. He clerked for the Honorable James L. Buckley, U.S. Court of Appeals, District of Columbia (1994–95), and the Honorable Richard C. Allison, Iran-United States Claims Tribunal, in The Hague, Netherlands (1992–94).

He is the founder and editor-in-chief of International ADR (www.internationalADR.com), a comprehensive online international arbitration portal that provides information on relevant treaties, arbitration laws, arbitration institutions and rules, and arbitration awards and decisions. He has authored and edited a number of scholarly articles that have been published in the American Journal of International Law, the New York University Law Review, International Lawyer, the Virginia Journal of International Law, the Berkeley Journal of International Law, and the Cornell International Law Journal.

Professor Alford has served as an adjunct professor at Georgetown University School of Law and the University of Maryland School of Law. He is a member of the bars of Florida and the District of Columbia, the Council on Foreign Relations, and the American Society of International Law. Presently, he co-chairs the American Bar Association’s International Courts Committee, is general editor of the International Lawyer Year-in-Review project, and is co-chair of the American Society of International Law’s 2002 annual meeting.

Professor Alford teaches Contracts, Commercial and International Dispute Resolution, International Trade and Finance, and International Litigation.
Thomas G. Bost
Professor of Law
B.S., summa cum laude,
Abilene Christian University, 1964
J.D., Vanderbilt University, 1967

Order of the Coif and Founder’s Medalist (First in Class) were just two of the honors Professor Bost received as a student at the Vanderbilt University Law School. He was the note editor for the Vanderbilt Law Review and upon graduation served for a year as an assistant professor of law at Vanderbilt.

Professor Bost became associated with the Los Angeles office of Latham and Watkins in 1968 and was a partner in the firm from 1975 through 1999. During his legal career he has been a frequent lecturer on legal topics for numerous groups including the American Bar Association Section of Taxation, the University of Southern California Tax Institute, the National Association of Real Estate Investment Trusts, the New York University Institute on Federal Taxation, the Tennessee Tax Institute, the California Continuing Education of the Bar, the University of Texas Ethics Institute, the Christian Scholars’ Conference and the Religiously-Affiliated Law Schools Conference. Professor Bost has served as a professor at Lipscomb University and as an adjunct professor at the School of Law and at Seaver College. He is a member of the American Bar Association, the American College of Tax Counsel, the State Bar of California, and the Los Angeles County Bar Association.

Professor Bost has also served as a member and Chairman of the Board of Regents of Pepperdine University. He is currently a member of the Board of Trustees of the Pacific Legal Foundation, having completed a two-year term as Chairman of the Board in 2002.

Professor Bost teaches Business Planning, Corporations, Taxation of Business Entities, and Securities Regulation.
Kathryn Lee Boyd
Associate Professor of Law
B.A., with highest honors, University of Virginia, 1986
J.D., cum laude, Harvard University, 1989

A Harvard law graduate, Kathryn Lee Boyd was on the executive boards of the Harvard Human Rights Journal and the Harvard Law School Prison Legal Assistance Project. She was also a Ford Foundation Fellow in the Harvard Human Rights Program. After graduating in 1989, she clerked for the Honorable Hector M. Laffitte, U.S. District Court, in Puerto Rico, and shortly after joined the New York County District Attorney’s Office. In 1993, she moved on to accept an associate position with Loeb and Loeb in New York City where she handled general commercial litigation including bankruptcy, civil RICO, white-collar criminal, real estate, and contracts.

Relocating to Los Angeles in 1995, Professor Boyd was a visiting assistant professor of law at Whittier Law School where she taught Criminal Law, Professional Ethics, Interviewing, Counseling and Negotiation, and Trial Advocacy.

A member of both the New York and California state bars, Professor Boyd is also a member of the ABA sections on Litigation, International Law and Practice, International Law Association, and the American Society of International Law. She also participates as counsel in international human rights litigation.

Professor Boyd teaches Civil Pleading and Procedure, Public International Law Complex Litigation, International Litigation, and Human Rights Seminar.
Laurie Buchan
Director of Clinical Education
and Assistant Professor of Law
B.A., University of California, Davis, 1974
J.D., cum laude, Southwestern University
School of Law, 1979

Professor Buchan practiced law for twenty years, mostly as a criminal defense attorney. She represented indigent defendants as a deputy Los Angeles County public defender and as a private trial lawyer appointed by the Los Angeles County Superior Court in felony, juvenile, and misdemeanor cases.

Before joining the Pepperdine faculty in the summer of 1998, Professor Buchan represented indigent felons on appeal for the California Appellate Project. In that capacity she wrote appellate briefs, argued several cases in the California Court of Appeal, and brought a number of petitions in the California Supreme Court. She specialized in homicides, sex offenses, and Three Strikes cases.

Shortly after graduation from law school, Professor Buchan served as director of the Lawyer Referral and Information Service of the Los Angeles County Bar Association. There she supervised attorneys and law student volunteers in an in-house legal clinic. In 1988, Professor Buchan was appointed a judicial research attorney with the Appellate Department of the Los Angeles County Superior Court. Thereafter she was named supervising judicial research attorney by the presiding judge.

Professor Buchan teaches Advanced Criminal Procedure, Criminal Pretrial Practice, and various clinical seminars. She supervises Pepperdine’s Special Education, Union Rescue Mission, Family Law and Adoption Clinics. In addition, she runs Pepperdine’s externship program under which students receive law school credit for working in such varied placements as the State Department, federal courthouses, entertainment companies, and public interest law offices.

Harry M. Caldwell
Professor of Law
B.A., cum laude,
California State University, Long Beach, 1972
J.D., Pepperdine University, 1976

Prior to joining the Pepperdine faculty, Professor Caldwell was a trial deputy with the Riverside District Attorney’s office and later served in a similar position with the Santa Barbara District Attorney. He focuses his teaching on trial advocacy, criminal procedure, and criminal law. With Professor Perrin, he is the faculty advisor to Pepperdine’s highly successful trial advocacy program.

Professor Caldwell has written extensively in the areas of criminal procedure, trial advocacy, and the death penalty. In addition to numerous law review articles, he has written, along with Professors Perrin and Chase, The Art & Science of Trial Advocacy (Anderson). His other trial advocacy book is The California Criminal Trial Book (West).

Professor Caldwell was honored as the nation’s premier trial advocacy teacher by the Roscoe Pound Institute of the Association of Trial Lawyers of America in 2000. He was also distinguished as a two-time Luckman Distinguished Teaching Fellow in 1991 and 2000.

Professor Caldwell regularly represents inmates on California’s death row in their appeals before the California Supreme Court.

Carol A. Chase

Professor of Law

B.A., summa cum laude,

University of California, Los Angeles, 1975

J.D., University of California, Los Angeles, 1978

Before joining the Pepperdine faculty, Professor Chase was an assistant U.S. attorney for the criminal division in Los Angeles. She has been an associate in the Los Angeles offices of Hughes, Hubbard & Reed, and Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher and Flom. She is a member of the American Bar Association, the California State Bar, and is admitted to practice in the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, and the U.S. District Court for the Central and Eastern Districts of California.

Professor Chase regularly teaches Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Evidence, and Trial Practice, and has been honored as a Luckman Distinguished Teaching Fellow from 1994 to 1999. She has commented extensively in the media on various legal topics, including the proceedings in People v. Simpson appearing for CNN, FOX-TV, E! Entertainment, KCET, and CBS-TV (Canada).

Her publications include a trial advocacy textbook, The Art & Science of Trial Advocacy (Anderson 2003), which she co-authored with Professor Chase has also worked as a volunteer with elementary school children, teaching them about the American justice system and assisting them in participating in mock trials. She is an active volunteer in children’s sports and holds an “F” license to coach soccer.

Robert F. Cochran, Jr.
Director, Institute on Law, Religion, and Ethics and Louis D. Brandeis Professor of Law
B.A., magna cum laude,
Carson-Newman College, 1973
J.D., University of Virginia, 1976

He is the founder of Pepperdine’s Institute on Law, Religion, and Ethics.

A 1994–95 and 1997–98 Rick J. Caruso Research Fellow, Professor Cochran teaches Torts, Legal Ethics, Religion and Law, Alternative Dispute Resolution, and Family Law. “I teach because I think that truth is important. My hope is that, in interaction with my students, we will discover the truth,” he says.

After graduating from law school, Professor Cochran clerked for the Honorable John A. Field, Jr., United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit. He went on to practice with the firm of Boyle and Bain of Charlottesville, Virginia, and has been a visiting professor at T.C. Williams School of Law, University of Richmond, and Wake Forest University School of Law.

Jack J. Coe, Jr.
Professor of Law
B.A., with distinction,
University of California, Los Angeles, 1975
J.D., Loyola Marymount, 1979
LL.M., University of Exeter, 1982
Ph.D. (Law), London School of Economics and Political Science, 1999

A specialist in private international law, Professor Coe has studied extensively in Europe. He received his LL.M. at Exeter, where he was a Rotary International Graduate Fellow. Before coming to Pepperdine, he was the assistant director and lecturer-in-law at the McGeorge School of Law International Programs in Salzburg, Austria. He also holds the Diploma from the Hague Academy of International Law, a Ph.D. from the London School of Economics, and has been a clerk to the Honorable Richard C. Allison at the Iran-U.S. Claims Tribunal, the Hague. He has been a guest lecturer in international law at the University of Amsterdam, and has taught classes in Edinburgh, Guadalajara, London, Mexico City, Moscow, and Salzburg.

Professor Coe has contributed to several monographs on international business planning, and has co-authored Protecting Against the Expropriation Risk in Investing Abroad (Matthew Bender 1993). His recent books are International Commercial Arbitration-American Principles and Practice (1997), a one-volume treatise, and NAFTA Chapter 11 Reports (with Brower and Dodge).

Professor Coe has been a Salzburg Seminar Fellow, twice a Rick Caruso Research Fellow, and is an elected member of the American Law Institute. He is admitted to practice in California and Washington, and is a member of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, London, England. He is also vice-chairman of the International Commercial Arbitration...
Committee of the ABA’s International Law Section. Professor Coe is a frequent speaker before learned and professional societies, consults in the field of international dispute resolution, and has argued international arbitral claims under NAFTA.

Richard L. Cupp
Associate Dean, Academics
and John W. Wade Professor of Law

B.A., magna cum laude, Pepperdine University, 1983
J.D., University of California, Davis, 1987

Dean Cupp teaches Products Liability, Remedies, and Torts. As a law student Dean Cupp served as editor-in-chief of the UC Davis Law Review, and centered his studies loosely on tort and litigation issues. Upon graduation he joined the San Diego law firm of Gray, Cary, Ware and Friedenrich as a litigation associate, and later served as associate general counsel for Pepperdine University.

Dean Cupp enjoys studying and writing about torts and products liability, and is an elected member of the American Law Institute. He has published numerous law review articles, including several in prominent journals such as the N.Y.U. Law Review, Northwestern University Law Review, University of Illinois Law Review, and George Washington Law Review. He serves on the executive committee of the Association of American Law Schools Section on Torts and Compensation Systems, and on the editorial board of The Brief, a large-circulation periodical published by the American Bar Association’s Tort and Insurance Practice Section.

In addition to his interest in torts and products liability, Dean Cupp has written extensively about moral issues surrounding animal law. He has frequently been invited to participate in conferences, symposia, and media interviews addressing tort law and animal law issues.
David Davenport
Distinguished Professor of Public Policy and Law
B.A., with distinction, Stanford University, 1972
J.D., University of Kansas, 1977

Professor Davenport served as president of Pepperdine University from 1985 to 2000. From 1980 to 1985, he was the university’s general counsel, executive vice-president, and a professor of law. He is also a Research Fellow at the Hoover Institution at Stanford University and writes regular newspaper columns for the Scripps Howard News Service and the San Francisco Chronicle. Professor Davenport serves on the board of the National Legal Center for the Public Interest and other corporate and nonprofit boards. He is a member of Order of the Coif and, in law school, won the Jessup International Moot Court Competition and was an associate editor of the law review.

James Allan Gash
Associate Professor of Law
B.A., summa cum laude,
Abilene Christian University, 1989
J.D., summa cum laude, Pepperdine University, 1993

After majoring in finance at Abilene Christian University, Professor Gash continued his education at Pepperdine University School of Law. As a law student, he finished first in his class and served as the editor-in-chief of the Pepperdine Law Review.

Upon graduation, he went to work for the small litigation firm of DeSimone & Tropio. The following year, he had the privilege of serving as a law clerk to the Honorable Edith H. Jones, United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit. He then joined the Washington, D.C., office of Kirkland & Ellis where he focused on appellate and commercial litigation. He relocated to Kirkland’s Los Angeles office in 1997, where he worked until joining the faculty in 1999.

During his first year of law school, Professor Gash decided that his career goal would be to return to teach at Pepperdine where his passion for the law was ignited and his spiritual life was enriched by the faculty, administration, and community. He teaches Torts, Evidence, Toxic Torts, and Products Liability.

Professor Gash is a member of the California and Washington, D.C. Bar Associations, is admitted to practice before the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals, and the United States District Court for the Central District of California.
Gregory M. Gilman
Director, The Center for Entrepreneurship and Technology Law and Assistant Professor of Law

B.A., cum laude, Tufts University, 1996
J.D., University of Southern California, 2000

While at USC Law School, Professor Gilman was a member of The Southern California Law Review. Now a member of the State Bar of California, Professor Gilman is admitted to practice in U.S. District Court for the central and southern districts of California. Immediately prior to joining the Pepperdine faculty, he was practicing at the law firm of Gilman/McFadden LLP in Los Angeles, where he was the head of the firm’s transactional practice. Focusing on entertainment and new media, Professor Gilman had the opportunity to serve as counsel for a number of established and emerging artists, including Billboard, Clio, and Emmy award winners.

Professor Gilman was executive vice president for business/legal affairs and business development of The Athlete Dotcom, a privately held internet venture. He also served on the board of directors for the company. He had previously served as director of business and legal affairs for Full Circle Music, an independent music production company.

Christine Chambers Goodman

J.D., Stanford University, 1991

While at Stanford Law School, Professor Goodman participated on the board of directors for the Annual Women of Color and the Law Conference, worked as a teaching assistant in the political science department, and was an assistant editor for a new journal on gender issues. After law school she worked as an associate at Manatt, Phelps & Phillips (1991-93) and Gipson, Hoffman & Pancione (1993-1995), engaging in civil litigation in state and federal courts. In 1995, Professor Goodman began teaching at UCLA, and created and taught a course in lawyering skills for public interest attorneys.

Professor Goodman joined the Pepperdine faculty in 2001. She teaches Race and the Law, Criminal Law, Evidence, and Trial Preparation and Settlement. Professor Goodman also serves as an advisor to the Black Law Students’ Association and the Women’s Legal Association, as well as a mock trial team coach. Professor Goodman writes on equal protection topics, including affirmative action, preferences and racial privacy. She is member of the Los Angeles County Bar Association, Women Lawyers’ Association of Los Angeles, and the California State Bar Association.

Naomi Harlin Goodno

Douglas W. Kmiec
Professor of Constitutional Law and Caruso Family Chair in Constitutional Law

B.A., with honors, Northwestern University, 1973
J.D., University of Southern California, 1976

One of America’s best known scholars and popular commentators on the law, Professor Douglas W. Kmiec holds the endowed chair in constitutional law at Pepperdine Law School. He came to this position after serving several years as dean and St. Thomas More Professor of Law at The Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C., and for nearly two decades, on the law faculty at the University of Notre Dame. As dean at Catholic University, Professor Kmiec did what many said would be impossible; he greatly increased academic quality and student selectivity at the same time he deepened the school’s religious commitment. During his tenure, the law school moved into the upper tier of the U.S. News ranking from tier three. At Notre Dame, he was director of Notre Dame’s Center on Law & Government, and the founder of its Journal of Law, Ethics & Public Policy. Beyond the university setting, Kmiec served Presidents Ronald Reagan and George Bush during 1985-89 as constitutional legal counsel (Assistant Attorney General, Office of Legal Counsel, U.S. Department of Justice).

A wide-ranging writer and engaging speaker, Professor Kmiec writes a syndicated column for the Catholic News Service, and for several years wrote a regular column in the Chicago Tribune. He is also a frequent contributor to the pages of the Los Angeles Times, Wall Street Journal, and other periodicals. He is the co-author (with legal historian Stephen Presser of Northwestern) of three books on the Constitution -- The American Constitutional Order; Individual Rights and the American Constitution and The History, Structure and Philosophy of the American Constitution. Another recent book, Cease-Fire on the Family (Crisis Books/Notre Dame) attracted scholarly and popular acclaim for proposing realistic ways for families to “end the culture war” by renewing personal virtue and civic responsibility within itself. He has also written The Attorney General’s Lawyer (Praeger 1992), and several respected legal treatises.

Professor Kmiec’s scholarly research spans legal and non-legal subjects, from the Constitution and the federal system, to land use and the organization of America society. He is a frequent guest on national news programs, such as Nightline, the Newshour, and NPR’s Talk of the Nation, analyzing constitutional questions.

A White House Fellow (1982-83), Professor Kmiec is one of a few individuals who has received the Distinguished Service Award from two cabinet departments -- the Department of Justice in 1987 and Housing and Urban Development in 1983. In 1988, he was awarded the Edmund J. Randolph Award by the attorney general. He has lectured on the U.S. Constitution in Asia as a Fulbright Distinguished Scholar.

An honors graduate of Northwestern, Professor Kmiec received his law degree from the University of Southern California, where he served on the Law Review and received the Legion Lex Commencement Prize for Legal Writing. He is a member of the bar of the U.S. Supreme Court and the state bars of Illinois and California.
Kristine S. Knaplund
Associate Professor of Law
B.A., Oberlin College, 1974
J.D., University of California, Davis, 1977

Professor Knaplund began her career in law teaching in 1983 at UCLA Law School, where she taught Property, Torts, and Wills and Trusts. She enjoys working with students, and has been recognized for her efforts by winning every teaching award at UCLA. In 1991, she received the Rutter Award for Excellence in Teaching, in 1995 she received the University-wide Harriet and Charles Luckman Distinguished Award, and she was selected as Professor of the Year by the 1997 graduating class.

Professor Knaplund is a member of the board of trustees of the Law School Admission Council, and has served on the LSAC Minority Affairs Committee and the LSAC Test Development and Research Committee for many years. Before moving to Los Angeles, she practiced law for four years with Queens Legal Services in New York City, and with a private law firm in New York and Washington D.C., primarily handling Title VII plaintiffs’ employment discrimination cases. She also has served as a full-time volunteer with the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund in New York. She is a member of the New York bar, and a member of the Estate Planning, Trust and Probate section of the California state bar. Her most recent article is “Post Mortem Conception and a Father’s Last Will” Arizona Law Review, Spring 2004.

Edward J. Larson
D&L Straus Distinguished Visiting Professor of Law, Spring 2005
B.A., Williams College, 1974
M.A., Ph.D., University of Wisconsin, 1976, 1984
J.D., Harvard University, 1979

Professor Larson is joining the faculty in the spring semester as the D&L Straus Distinguished Visiting Professor. He is the Talmadge Chair of Law and Russell Professor of American History at the University of Georgia, where he has taught since 1987. Professor Larson received the Pulitzer Prize in History in 1998.

The author of five books and over sixty published articles, Professor Larson uses an historical perspective when writing about law, science, and medicine. His articles appear in a wide variety of publications, such as Atlantic Monthly, Scientific American, and the British Journal for the History of Science, as well as the Michigan and Virginia law reviews. His most recent publications included Evolution: The Remarkable History of Scientific Theory, and a property law casebook, co-authored by Professor Jim Smith.

Professor Larson has delivered endowed or funded lectures at forty colleges and universities around the country, and has given papers at academic conferences around the world. He has also taught in China, France, Austria, and the Netherlands. He is a frequent guest on the History Channel, Court TV, CNN, C-Span, and on major programs for PBS.

Prior to beginning his teaching career, he served as associate counsel for the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Education and Labor, counsel for the Office of Educational Research and Improvement, and as an attorney with a large law firm in Seattle. In the spring, he will teach Health Care Organization, Financing and Ethics.

Samuel J. Levine

After graduating from law school, Professor Levine served as an appellate prosecutor in the Kings County District Attorney’s Office. He then received an advanced degree from Columbia Law School and accepted a position at St. John’s University Law School, teaching Jewish Law, and Legal Research and Writing. Professor Levine also was an adjunct professor at Fordham University, teaching Jewish Law. Following clerkships with United States District Court judges David N. Edelstein and Loretta A. Preska in the Southern District of New York, he returned to St. John’s as research professor of law, teaching Professional Responsibility and Jewish Law.

He is chair of the AALS Section on Jewish Law and serves on the Executive Committee of the AALS Section on Professional Responsibility.

This year Professor Levine will be teaching Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure and Jewish Law. In the past he has taught Legal Ethics, and Comparative Law.

L. Randolph Lowry
Director, Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution and Professor of Law
B.A., Pepperdine University, 1974
M.P.A, Pepperdine University, 1977
J.D., Hamline University, 1981

As the founder and director of the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution and a professor of law, Professor Lowry is one of the nation’s leaders in the dispute resolution field. As a professor he provides academic leadership to Pepperdine’s extensive dispute resolution program, and is consulted regularly by other universities regarding their work in that field. He has served as a visiting professor at Vermont Law School, University of New Mexico, University of Idaho, Abilene Christian University, Hamline University (Modena, Italy), City University of Hong Kong, as well as Bond University in Australia. As a teacher he trains more than 4,000 lawyers, judges, and managers in more that twenty-five states and several foreign countries each year. Organizations that have utilized his training include Federal Judicial Center, National Judicial Institute (Canada), Nike, Lexis-Nexis, State Farm Insurance, and Chevron. He is the co-author of two books and numerous articles on dispute resolution.

Professor Lowry is also a practitioner of what he teaches, regularly mediating complex cases. Such experiences range from the resolution of multi-million dollar civil cases and public policy disputes in the United States to the resolution of organizational conflict in Nairobi, Kenya. In addition, he regularly consults with public and private sector organizations on the effective management of conflict.

Professor Lowry is the co-founder and the first president of the Southern California Mediation Association, and co-founder and board member of the Ventura Center for Dispute Settlement. He was a gubernatorial appointment to the California Dispute Resolution Advisory Council, which established California’s community dispute resolution programs. He served on the Judicial Council’s Task Force on the Quality of Justice, looking at dispute resolution and the courts. Recently he was appointed by the chief justice of the California Supreme Court to the Blue Ribbon Committee on Arbitration Ethics. He has also held leadership roles in many professional associations, including the American Bar Association’s Torts and Insurance Practice Section.

As director of the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution, Professor Lowry administers its certificate program and master’s degree program and teaches Alternative Dispute Resolution Processes, Dispute Resolution and Religion, Negotiation, Mediation, and Advanced Mediation.

Richardson R. Lynn
Professor of Law
B.A., Abilene Christian University, 1973
J.D., Vanderbilt University, 1976

After graduating from Abilene Christian University, Richard Lynn taught speech classes and coached the ACU debate teams. During his law school career at Vanderbilt, he was on several interschool moot court teams—an interest that carried over into an extensive trial and appellate practice in Nashville, Tennessee. He also enjoyed representing clients in the music industry. While in practice, he was an adjunct instructor at the Vanderbilt University School of Law, teaching appellate advocacy and coaching Vanderbilt’s Jessup International Moot Court teams.

Professor Lynn originally came to Pepperdine in 1980, teaching Civil Procedure, Appellate Advocacy, and Copyright. In 1986 he served as a visiting professor at North Carolina’s Campbell University School of Law. He then returned to Nashville to be the professor of business law and ethics at the Jack C. Massey Graduate School of Business at Belmont University, where he also directed Belmont’s excellent Music Business program. He rejoined the Pepperdine School of Law faculty in 1990 and became associate dean for academics in 1993. After serving as interim dean for the 1997–98 year, he was appointed dean of the law school, serving through the 2002–03 academic year. During the 2004-05 academic year Professor Lynn will be teaching Civil Procedure, Social Psychology of Conflict, and Trademarks.

The author of four books, Professor Lynn has served as an associate editor of Litigation, the journal of the American Bar Association’s Litigation Section for five years. He is admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court, as well as the U.S. Courts of Appeal for the Fifth, Sixth and Federal Circuits. He is a member of the bar in Tennessee and Nebraska. Professor Lynn is serving a three-year appointment on the Membership Review Committee of the American Association of Law Schools.
Daniel W. Martin
Associate Dean, Library and Information Services and Professor of Law
B.A., Cedarville College, 1972
M.L.S., Indiana University, 1976
J.D., University of Texas, 1989

Professor Martin began his library career on his sixteenth birthday, working as a page at the Crawfordsville Public Library in Crawfordsville, Indiana. In the ensuing years he has worked for six additional libraries, including a ten-year term at the University of Texas Tarlton Law Library. He is the author of the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth editions of Henke’s California Law Guide (1995, 1998, 1999, 2002). He is a member of the state bars of Texas and California, the American Bar Association, and the American Association of Law Libraries. He is a past-president of the Southern California Association of Law Libraries.

Professor Martin teaches Advanced Legal Research and lectures about research in the first-year course, Legal Research and Writing. He is the coordinator of the fall British moots and is the tournament director for the annual WESTLAW Table Tennis Tournament.

John P. McCrory
B.S., J.D., University of Wisconsin, 1955, 1960

Professor McCrory joined the Pepperdine faculty in 2001 after teaching at the Vermont Law School since 1975, where he had been the director of the Dispute Resolution Project since 1983. He has been a visiting professor at Melbourne, Sydney, Wollongong, and Murdoch Universities in Australia; Rhodes University, South Africa; University of Strathclyde, Scotland; University of Leicester, England; and the Puget Sound Law School, Washington.

He has recently taught courses in Alternative Dispute Resolution, Environmental Dispute Resolution, Arbitration, Evidence, and Labor Law.

Professor McCrory is a member of Associates in Conflict Resolution (formerly the Society of Professionals in Dispute Resolution), American Bar Association, and Wisconsin Bar Association. He is a practicing arbitrator, mediator, and fact-finder. His publications include “Mandated Mediation of Civil Cases in State Courts: A Litigant’s Perspective on Program Model Choices,” Ohio State Journal on Dispute Resolution; “Confidentiality in Mediation of Matrimonial Disputes, Modern Law Review: Environmental Mediation—Another Piece for the Puzzle,”
Anthony X. McDermott

Professor of Law

A.B., University of California, Los Angeles, 1961

LL.B., University of California, Los Angeles, 1965

Tony McDermott’s first position in legal education was as the assistant dean of the UCLA School of Law, where one of his primary responsibilities was to establish the UCLA Legal Education Opportunity Program—the first of its kind in the nation.

After teaching Corporations and Business Planning at the University of Denver College of Law, Professor McDermott went on to teach at Loyola, Oregon, and Santa Clara Law Schools, as well as returning to UCLA for five more years as an assistant dean before coming to Pepperdine. He has taught extensively in the areas of taxation and corporations, but it was his volunteering to teach Civil Procedure that led to his being selected as a Luckman Distinguished Teaching Fellow in 1995. He continues to teach that class, as well as Federal Income Taxation and Antitrust Law.

Professor McDermott has served on the board of trustees of the Law School Admissions Council, and as a consultant to the Council on Legal Education Opportunity and the Committee to Study the Bar Examination Process for the State Bar of California. He has also been a federal public defender, a California probate referee, and the business manager of a thoroughbred breeding and training farm.
Barry P. McDonald

As a student at Northwestern, Barry McDonald received the Order of the Coif, the Arlyn Miner Legal Writing Award, and was an associate editor of the Northwestern Law Review. After law school he clerked for the Honorable James K. Logan of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Tenth Circuit, and then went on to clerk for Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist of the U.S. Supreme Court. He was a visiting professor of law at the University of Missouri at Kansas City in spring 1989. He was an associate at Gibson Dunn and Crutcher from 1990 to 1993. From 1994 to 1997, he was the information technology counsel for Bell Atlantic Video and Network Services, and then general counsel for Bell Atlantic Internet Solutions, Inc. from 1997 to 1998. He then went on to be vice-president and general counsel for SICPA Product Security, Inc. and SICPA Securink Corp.

Professor McDonald is a member of the California and District of Columbia bars, and is a certified public accountant. He teaches Contracts, Intellectual Property, Constitutional Law, and a Law and Biotechnology seminar.

Nancy L.N. McGinnis
Assistant Dean, Public Affairs, and Assistant Professor of Law
B.A., California State University, Fullerton, 1968
J.D., cum laude, Pepperdine University, 1985

Suburban mom and community volunteer turned lawyer, Dean McGinnis is responsible for public and media relations for the law school. She also teaches Honors Appellate Advocacy and serves as faculty coach/advisor for Pepperdine’s nationally recognized moot court program. She has been a faculty member since 1988. Although a child of the ’60s, Professor McGinnis remembers graduating from then-fledgling California State University, Fullerton in 1968 with a bachelor of arts in English.

Before becoming a stay-at-home mom, she was the public information director for the American Cancer Society in Orange County. Once her children were in school, she entered law school, serving as literary editor for the Pepperdine Law Review. She graduated cum laude in 1985 and is admitted to practice in California, the United States District Court for the Central District of California, and the United States Supreme Court. Dean McGinnis has been a longtime member of the American Association of University Women and was a named grant honoree. Her practice of law is now limited to pro bono work for Ventura County organizations/groups in which she has an interest.

J.D., University of Chicago, 1969

Professor McGoldrick began his career as a trial attorney for the U.S. Department of Justice in the attorney general’s Program for Honor Law Graduates, Antitrust Division. He is a member of the California state bar and the American Bar Association. Professor McGoldrick is admitted to practice in the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. He teaches Constitutional Law, Criminal Procedure, and Federal Courts. For the 2004-05 academic year, Professor McGoldrick will be a visiting professor at the University of Memphis School of Law.

Antonio Mendoza
Professor of Law
B.B.A., St. Mary’s University, Texas, 1973
J.D., St. Mary’s University, Texas, 1978

Professor Mendoza began his legal career in private practice representing clients in international business transactions, as well as tax and corporate matters. He continues to specialize in international business transactions. His areas of interest include the planning, structuring, and negotiation of foreign investments—both inbound and outbound, transfer of technology agreements, and the international sale of goods and services, including the related U.S. federal income tax implications. He is also engaged in the study of the mediation and arbitration of international commercial, maritime, and income tax disputes. He conducts extensive lectures and seminars in the United States and Mexico on the legal and tax implications of engaging in international business transactions. The Mexican conferences are presented in Spanish.

A 1995 Rick J. Caruso Research Fellow, Professor Mendoza, who is also a certified public accountant, teaches courses in International Business Planning (Foreign Investment & Transfer of Technology), International Sale of Goods and Services, International Taxation, Cross Cultural Dispute Resolution, Tax Practice & Procedure, and Corporate Finance.

Anthony Miller
Director of the Overseas Program, and Professor of Law

B.A., M.A., California State University,
Long Beach, 1967, 1972
J.D., Pepperdine University, 1977

Professor Anthony Miller has been teaching at Pepperdine University School of Law since 1977. He has taught Torts, Remedies, Constitutional Law Individual Rights, Family Law, Community Property, Domestic Relations Dispute Resolution, Labor Law, Public Sector Labor Law, and Arbitration Practice. While these courses may seem disparate, his interest in family law and labor and employment law actually go well together, both emphasizing the law that governs ordinary Americans in their most important relationships.

These two interests have dominated Professor Miller’s professional life in other ways as well. He has published in both areas. He is the co-author with Swisher and Singer of a casebook entitled Cases, Materials, and Problems in Family Law, 2nd ed. (Lexis). His most recent publication entitled “Baseline, Bright-line, Best Interests: a Pragmatic Approach for California to Provide Certainty in Determining Parentage,” McGeorge Law Review (2003) exhibits Professor Miller’s current interest in the subject of the legal definition of “parent.” His interest in labor and employment law is exhibited by articles on the subject of Wrongful Termination and in his publishing with Grenig a three volume treatise entitled California Government Codes: Forms and Commentary 2nd ed. (West) in which he wrote those portions dealing with public sector labor law.

He has also served as a dispute resolution neutral in both areas of interest: as a divorce mediator and as a labor arbitrator. He is currently on the panel of arbitrators of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and serves as hearing officer and arbitrator for both the City and the County of Los Angeles.

At the law school Professor Miller presently serves as the Director of Overseas Programs with responsibility for exchange programs with the University of Copenhagen and Augsburg University and, along with Professor Colleen Graffy, for the Pepperdine London Program. Formerly he served as the associate dean of the law school. He has taught several dispute resolution courses at Jones School of Law and Community Property as a visiting professor at UCLA.
He is a member of the State Bar of California and has been involved in several appeals including an automatic appeal to the California Supreme Court in a death penalty case.

Rose Anne Nespica
Associate Dean, Administration
and Assistant Professor of Law
J.D., with distinction, University of Missouri, Kansas City, 1978

Joining the law school in 2002, Dean Nespica began law practice at a medium-sized firm, became a partner at a small firm, and spent several years as a solo practitioner in Blue Springs, Missouri, emphasizing family law, and both domestic and international adoptions. She was appointed a master by the Sixteenth Judicial Court of Jackson County, Missouri, hearing cases and serving as a mediator. Dean Nespica has been a frequent seminar presenter on family law, adoptions, and legal issues in hospice care, and has been a local media expert on adoptions.

Between college and law school, she taught high school English, speech and debate. While in practice, she was an adjunct professor of business law, business communications, and taught employment law to MBA students.

Joel A. Nichols
Assistant Professor of Law
B.A., summa cum laude,
Abilene Christian University, 1995
M.Div., Emory’s Candler School of Theology, 2000
J.D., with high honors, Emory University, 2000

Professor Nichols graduated from Emory University’s Law and Religion Program, where he was a Robert W. Woodruff Fellow in Law and a participant in the M.Div. Honors Program. At graduation, he was awarded Order of the Coif at the law school and the Award for Academic Excellence at the theology school. He then served as a law clerk for Judge Gerald Bard Tjoflat on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit in Jacksonville, Florida.

Prior to joining the faculty in 2003, Professor Nichols practiced law at Wilmer, Cutler & Pickering in Washington, D.C., where he represented clients in state and federal courts in complex civil litigation (including contracts, civil rights, FOIA, and habeas corpus). He also participated in internal corporate investigations and represented several pro bono clients.
Professor Nichols has a particular interest in the intersection of law and religion, and has authored articles and book chapters addressing matters of family law, constitutional law, human rights, and legal/theological history. His articles have been published in Journal of Church and State, Emory International Law Review, Emory Law Journal, and The Federal Lawyer, among others.

Professor Nichols is a member of the District of Columbia Bar and the State Bar of Texas. This year he will teach Law and Morality, Contracts, and Remedies.

He became a professor of law in 1982. He was awarded the Chambership Fellowship in Legislation at Columbia School of Law, and received an LL.M. with a concentration in administrative law from Columbia in 1981.

Professor Ogden was a consultant to the Administrative Conference of the United States on two different projects from 1982–1984, and 1987–1989. He authored the final report entitled Public Regulation of Siting of Industrial Development Projects, which provided the basis for A.C.U.S. Recommendation No. 84 1 (1 C.F.R. Section 305-841) adopted in June, 1984. His second study focused on governmental ethics with an emphasis on ethics program assessment at the General Services Administration. Professor Ogden was the editor and contributing author for California Public Agency Practice, a three-volume treatise on California administrative law published in 1988, and he was the editor and principal author of the 1997 two-volume revision of that treatise, entitled California Public Administrative Law, both published by Matthew Bender Publishing Company. Professor Ogden was an active participant in commenting on consultant reports and proposals with the California Law Revision Commission study on the California Administrative Procedure Act (1990 to 1996), and he was a consultant to the California Law Revision Commission for the Administrative Rulemaking study from 1996–1998. Professor Ogden is the author of a number of law review articles, with a concentration in administrative law subjects.

Professor Ogden was a member of the law faculty committee that helped to establish the Pepperdine Legal Aid Clinic at the Union Rescue Mission in 1998–2000. He was the founding faculty editor of the Pepperdine Dispute Resolution Law Journal in 1999–2000, and he was instrumental in bringing the Journal of the NAALJ to Pepperdine Law School in 2000–2001. He is the current faculty editor of the Journal of the NAALJ. Professor Ogden helped organize the Evidence for ALJ’s conference held at Pepperdine in May 2001, and he has made a number of presentations on administrative law and judicial ethics topics for the National Association for Administrative Law Judges conference. He was the 1999 NAALJ fellowship recipient, and his paper on Demeanor Evidence was published in the Journal of the NAALJ in spring 2000.

Professor Ogden teaches Administrative Law, Civil Procedure, Professional Responsibility, and Remedies. He has also taught on demeanor evidence and judicial ethics topics for the National Association of Hearing Officers Annual Conferences in 2002 and 2003.

Brittany Stringfellow Otey
Director, Pepperdine Legal Aid Clinic
and Assistant Professor of Law

*B.A., Westmont College, 1997
J.D., Pepperdine University School of Law, 2001*

While attending Pepperdine School of Law, Professor Otey served as a note and comment editor on both the Pepperdine Law Review and the Dispute Resolution Law Journal. She participated as a member of the nationally-acclaimed trial advocacy team and served as vice-president of the Christian Legal Society. In addition, she volunteered at the Pepperdine Legal Aid Clinic at the Union Rescue Mission.

Upon graduation, Professor Otey clerked at the Orange County District Attorney’s Office, before going into private practice in Long Beach, California. Practicing primarily family law, and wills and trusts, Professor Otey continued to take pro bono cases from the Pepperdine Legal Aid Clinic.
Professor Otey now directs the Pepperdine Legal Aid Clinic located in the Union Rescue Mission in downtown Los Angeles. Utilizing law clerks and volunteer attorneys, the clinic serves over 175 homeless and formerly homeless clients each month in the areas of family law, resolving tickets and warrants, expungements, housing, and government benefits. Professor Otey also teaches the accompanying legal aid and family law clinical courses and supervises the Pepperdine Public Counsel Adoption Project.

L. Timothy Perrin
Associate Provost and Professor of Law
B.A., summa cum laude,
Lubbock Christian University, 1984
J.D., cum laude, Texas Tech University, 1987

While in law school, Professor Perrin served as a staff member and then associate editor of the Texas Tech Law Review and was awarded membership in the Order of the Coif and the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society. Upon graduation, he worked as an associate with the law firm Gary, Thomasson, Hall, & Marks, practicing general civil litigation from 1987 to 1992. He began teaching at Pepperdine University School of Law in 1992 and was appointed Associate Provost in January 2003.

Professor Perrin teaches Civil Pleading and Procedure I and II, Evidence, Selected Problems in Evidence, Trial Practice, and Honors Trial Practice. He was named a Luckman Distinguished Teaching Fellow, 1996–2001, and during the 1998–99 academic year he served as the Rick Caruso research fellow. Professor Perrin is a faculty advisor for Pepperdine’s highly successful interschool trial teams.

Professor Perrin is a member of the Texas bar and the American Bar Association.

Perrin loves his work as a law professor at Pepperdine, commenting, “I can’t imagine a better job than teaching at Pepperdine Law School. I relish teaching at a university that affirms the important role of faith in legal education and in lawyering. I find great satisfaction as I attempt each day to better integrate my faith commitment into my teaching and scholarship.” As much as he loves teaching at Pepperdine and working with law students, Perrin finds his greatest joy in spending time with his family.

Richard M. Peterson
Director of the Special Education Clinic
and Assistant Professor of Law
B.S.L., Western State University College of Law, 1978
J.D., Western State University College of Law, 1979
M.D.R., Pepperdine University, 2001

Following admission to the California State Bar in 1979 Professor Peterson spent twenty years practicing law as a trial attorney where he frequently served the community as a mediator, arbitrator, and legal representative of developmentally disabled persons victimized by criminal acts or other civil wrongdoings.

Professor Peterson has served as an educational consultant conducting workshops in anger management and conflict resolution curriculum for K-12 teachers, administrators, counselors, psychologists, and probation officers in public, private and alternative schools in New York, Delaware, Virginia, Florida, Colorado, Missouri, and California. He was a presenter at the Los Angeles United School District Safe Schools Conference (2002), Mental Health in Schools Conference in Pasadena, California (2001) and provided monthly teacher development workshops on these subjects for the Compton Unified School District during the 2001-02 school year. Professor Peterson has more than thirty years experience working with adolescents and teenagers in a variety of capacities including service as a director of youth organizations for his church, athletic coach, adult leader for various troops of the Boy Scouts of America, and has taught numerous religious classes.

He is a passionate advocate for persons with disabilities having served nearly five years as a member of the Board of Directors of the Regional Center of Orange County, three years as president, and is a frequent speaker to parent organizations, educators, psychologists and related service providers on topics including special education law, dispute resolution, collaborative negotiation, and problem solving. He was the recipient of the E. Kurt Yeager Servant Leadership Award for outstanding service to people with developmental disabilities at the RCOC Spotlight Awards in 2002.

Professor Peterson now focuses his energies on the Special Education Advocacy Clinic where he directs law students providing advocacy and training to parents of children with developmental disabilities who are regional center consumers. He teaches Special Education Law and Disability Law.
Ronald F. Phillips
Vice Chancellor, School of Law Dean
Emeritus and Professor of Law

B.S., Abilene Christian University, 1955
J.D., University of Texas, 1965

Referred to as the “architect and administrator of the Pepperdine University School of Law,” Ronald Phillips served as its dean for twenty-seven years. In June 1997, he was honored with the title of dean emeritus and assumed his responsibility as vice chancellor full-time. In this position, he works with alumni and friends in seeking support for the law school and university. In honor of his distinguished career, Dean Phillips has also been named the first occupant of the Ronald F. Phillips Chair in Law—a permanent chair that will provide a place for distinguished faculty in the years to come.

He is a member of the state bars of California and Texas, the American Bar Association, the American Law Institute, the Los Angeles Bar Association, the Association of American Law Schools, and the Christian Legal Society. He was a California commissioner of the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws from 1988 to 2003. He is a Life Fellow of the American Bar Foundation. He was the chair of the section on the Administration of Law Schools in 1982, was on the Committee on Courts from 1985 to 1987, and is admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court and U.S. Court of Military Appeals. Prior to his deanship at Pepperdine, he had a private law practice and was an adjunct professor at Abilene Christian University. He was also a corporate staff attorney at McWood Corporation and its successor, the Permian Corporation, also in Abilene, Texas.

In reference to his outstanding career as dean, he says that “I am deeply blessed. Few people have been able to spend such a significant portion of their lives in such a rewarding endeavor.”

Robert Popovich
Associate Professor of Law

B.S., with honors,
California State University, Northridge, 1975
M.B.T., University of Southern California, 1977
J.D., summa cum laude, Pepperdine University, 1989

As a Pepperdine law student, Robert Popovich was the first in his class and the business editor of the Pepperdine Law Review. He has worked as a CPA, staff accountant at Deloitte Haskins and Sells in Los Angeles, director of taxes for Informatics General Corporation, and CPA, manager at Deloitte Haskins and Sells/Strand Wolfe & Lutton in Ventura County. He was CEO, chairman of the board, Lindmar Data Corporation, CPA, director of taxes/financial planning at Shipley/ Hoffman Associates, a law clerk at Helm, Purcell & Wakemen, and an associate at Irell & Manella.

He is admitted to practice in California and the U.S. District Court, Central District, and is a member of the American Bar Association, the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, and the California Society of Certified Public Accountants.

Robert J. Pushaw
James Wilson Endowed Professor of Law
B.A., summa cum laude, La Salle College, 1980
J.D., Yale University, 1988

In law school, Robert Pushaw served as notes editor of the Yale Law Journal and received an Olin Foundation Fellowship. After graduation, he clerked for Judge James Buckley of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit, then worked as an associate for Davis Wright Tremaine in Seattle.

Joining the University of Missouri School of Law faculty in 1992, Professor Pushaw taught Constitutional Law, Federal Courts, Contracts, and Estates & Trusts. In 1998, he won the Blackwell Sanders Distinguished Faculty Achievement Award as the law school’s top teacher. In 2000, he received the William Kemper Fellowship for Teaching Excellence, the University of Missouri’s highest teaching honor.

Professor Pushaw’s scholarship studies the influence of eighteenth-century Anglo-American political and legal theory on the development of the modern law governing the Constitution (especially the Commerce Clause) and the federal courts (particularly the justiciability doctrines and inherent judicial powers). At the University of Missouri, he twice earned the Shook Hardy & Bacon Excellence in Research Award. Professor Pushaw’s scholarly writings have appeared in the Yale Law Journal, Michigan Law Review, Cornell Law Review, Georgetown Law Journal, Iowa Law Review, Constitutional Commentary, Notre Dame Law Review, BYU Law Review, and the Election Law Journal, as well as in symposium issues published by the principal law reviews at North Carolina, William & Mary, Florida State, and Arkansas.
Peter Robinson
Acting Director of the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution and Associate Professor of Law

B.A., magna cum laude, University of California,
San Diego, 1977
J.D., Hastings College of Law, 1980

Prior to joining the Pepperdine community, Peter Robinson was the director of the Christian Conciliation Service of Los Angeles, a non-profit dispute resolution center. In that capacity, he mediated more than 300 disputes and pioneered how a religiously based mediation center could serve public agencies through governmental grants. His five years of legal practice included serving as a staff attorney with the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation with a specialty in ERISA (Employee Retirement Income Securities Act).

Professor Robinson has presented advanced negotiation and mediation skills training in more than thirty states, and in Asia, Argentina, Holland, and Israel. Clients he has served include the following: Asian Development Bank; the United States Information Agency; county, state, and national level bar associations; government agencies at the local, state, and national levels; and private sector companies in the legal, real estate, consulting, manufacturing and insurance industries, as well as the JAMS/Endispute Company. He has served as secretary of the Southern California Mediation Association, the president of the board for the Christian Conciliation Service of Los Angeles, and the executive committee for the Los Angeles County Bar Association’s ADR section. He is a member of the California state bar and the American Bar Association ADR Section.

Professor Robinson teaches Alternative Dispute Resolution Processes, Mediation Seminar, Negotiation and Settlement Advocacy, and Communication and Conflict.

Shelley Ross Saxter
Professor of Law

B.S., summa cum laude, Pepperdine University, 1980
J.D., University of California, Los Angeles, 1989

While in law school, Professor Saxter served as the managing editor of the UCLA Law Review. Upon graduation, she clerked for the Honorable Wm. Matthew Byrne, Jr. of the Federal District Court for the Central District of California and then worked briefly as a corporate associate for the Century City law offices of O’Melveny & Myers.
Professor Saxer enjoys writing articles that address topics where land use issues intersect with constitutional concerns. She has published articles dealing with liquor store overconcentration in urban areas, the use of religious institutions for homeless shelters, conflict between local governmental units over commercial land use decisions that impact surrounding communities, eminent domain and zoning conflicts with First Amendment rights.

Since joining the Pepperdine faculty in 1991, she has taught courses in real property, community property, remedies, environmental law, and land use. She has integrated technology into her teaching by using presentation software in the classroom, web-based course materials, and e-mail communication with her students. Professor Saxer has also spoken at AALS and CALI sessions about the use of technology in the classroom. She enjoys teaching because of the rewarding interaction with law students. Her students are the most important part of her life as a faculty member, and she especially enjoys helping them find ways to succeed both academically and personally in their pursuit of legal studies.

When not performing her obligations as a faculty member, Professor Saxer joins her husband and four daughters to perform in local community theater and church productions. She also volunteers at the local middle school as the musical director of the annual musical.

Professor Saxer is a member of the Order of the Coif, the American Bar Association, and the California state bar, Property and Environmental Law sections. She has also been admitted to practice before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Mark S. Scarberry
Professor of Law

A.B., magna cum laude, Occidental College, 1975
J.D., University of California, Los Angeles, 1978

Professor Scarberry decided during his first year at UCLA Law School that he wanted to teach law. He graduated first in his class and then joined the Pepperdine law faculty in 1982 after four years’ practice experience with Jones, Day, Reavis & Pogue, Los Angeles. His major academic interests are bankruptcy (particularly Chapter 11 business reorganizations), contracts, legal philosophy, and constitutional law (particularly freedom of religion).

During 2004–05 Professor Scarberry will teach Remedies, Religion and the Constitution, Business Reorganization in Bankruptcy, and Mergers and Acquisitions. Except when it is time to grade bluebooks, he is amazed that law teachers actually are paid to teach (rather than having to pay for the privilege).
Marci L. Smith
Assistant Professor of Law
B.A., cum laude, Brigham Young University, 1988
J.D., magna cum laude,
Brigham Young University, 1991

After a decade in private practice, Professor Smith joined Pepperdine in August 2002 as an assistant professor of Legal Research & Writing.

Professor Smith received her law degree in 1991, magna cum laude, from Brigham Young University. She served as the articles editor for the Brigham Young University Law Review and was nominated to the Order of the Coif.

Upon graduation, Professor Smith joined the Los Angeles office of Latham & Watkins. In 1997, she joined O’Donnell & Shaeffer, which is also located in downtown Los Angeles. In 2001, Professor Smith continued her practice in Century City with O’Melveny & Myers. At each of these firms, Professor Smith handled a variety of intellectual property and complex business disputes.

Professor Smith is a member of the California bar and continues to practice law on a limited basis. In her spare time, Professor Smith enjoys participating in triathlons.

Kenneth W. Starr
Dean and Professor of Law
A.B., George Washington University, 1968
M.A., Brown University, 1969
J.D., Duke University, 1973

Dean Starr is admitted to practice in California, Virginia, the District of Columbia, and the U.S. Supreme Court. In the 1970’s, he clerked for The Honorable David W. Dyer of the U.S. Court of Appeals, Fifth Circuit, and for U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

While in private practice, he was a partner at Kirkland & Ellis and Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. In addition to working in the private sector, he has served as Counselor to U.S. Attorney General William French Smith, Judge for the U.S. Court of Appeals, D.C. Circuit, Solicitor General of the United States, and Independent Counsel on the Whitewater matter. As Solicitor General, he argued twenty-five cases before the Supreme Court involving a wide range of governmental regulatory and constitutional issues of commercial importance.

Dean Starr is a member of numerous professional organizations and boards, including the American Law Institute, the Supreme Court

Dean Starr’s areas of expertise are antitrust, federal courts and federal jurisdiction, and constitutional law. He will teach Current Constitutional Issues in the spring.

Peter T. Wendel
Professor of Law
B.S., cum laude, University of Chicago, 1979
M.A., St. Louis University, 1980
J.D., cum laude, University of Chicago, 1983

Professor Wendel was born and raised in Webster Groves, Missouri, and attended the University of Chicago, where he graduated in 1979 with a B.S. in Political Science. He earned a master’s in Urban Affairs from St. Louis University, and then promptly returned to the University of Chicago where he received his J.D. in 1983.

Professor Wendel began his legal career in 1983 in St. Louis. After three years, he returned to the University of Chicago as a Bigelow Instructor and Lecturer in Law. He served for three years as an assistant professor at St. Louis University School of Law before joining the Pepperdine faculty in 1991. Since 1998, he has taught some classes at UCLA School of Law on a visiting basis. A member of the Illinois, Missouri, and American Bar Associations, Professor Wendel teaches courses in Real Property, and Wills and Trusts. The aspect of teaching that he enjoys the most is the constant intellectual challenge inherent in legal analysis.

Professor Wendel has most recently published Exam Pro-Property with West Publishing Company.

Maureen Arellano Weston
Associate Professor of Law
B.A., magna cum laude, University of Denver, 1987
J.D., University of Colorado, 1992

Professor Weston joined the Pepperdine faculty in 2001, coming from the University of Oklahoma where she taught Civil Procedure, Pretrial Litigation, Alternative Dispute Resolution, and Disability Law. Before teaching at Oklahoma, Professor Weston worked for the Colorado law firms of Faegre & Benson, and Holme Roberts & Owen. Admitted to practice in Colorado, she is a member of the American Bar, Hispanic National Bar, and Colorado Bar Associations. Weston also serves as the co-chair for the ABA Section in Dispute Resolution, Education Committee.

Professor Weston teaches Alternative Dispute Resolution, Mediation, Sports Law, Negotiation and Settlement Advocacy, Legal Ethics, and Civil Procedure.

SCHOOL OF LAW
GENERAL INFORMATION
School of Law

ACCRREDITATION

Pepperdine University School of Law is on the list of law schools approved by the American Bar Association, holds membership in the Association of American Law Schools, and is fully accredited by the Committee of Bar Examiners, State Bar of California. Graduates are eligible to apply for admission to practice in any state.

Pepperdine University is accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Senior Colleges and Universities of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, 985 Atlantic Avenue, Suite 100, Alameda, CA 94501, (510) 748-9001.

PURPOSE AND PHILOSOPHY

The purpose of the Pepperdine University School of Law is to provide highly qualified students with a superior legal education. The school seeks to prepare students for positions as counselors, advocates, and judges, as law-trained business persons, and as researchers, teachers, and philosophers of the law. These ends are furthered by a program of academic excellence combined with practical experience.

In keeping with the philosophy of Pepperdine University, the School of Law maintains a Christian emphasis. This heritage leads to a special concern for imbuing students with the highest principles of professional, ethical, and moral responsibility. An effort is made to call together a faculty, staff, and student body who wish to share this experience of quality legal education in a value-centered context.

It is the philosophy of the School of Law that members of the legal profession serve their clients and society best when they possess, in addition to legal knowledge, a genuine commitment to high standards of personal conduct and professional responsibility. Therefore, the school tries to convey to its students not only the knowledge of how to employ the law, but also an awareness of the responsibilities to society that accompany the power inherent in that knowledge.

BUILDING AND LIBRARY FACILITIES

The School of Law occupies the Odell McConnell Law Center, located on the university’s 830-acre campus overlooking the Pacific Ocean in Malibu, California. The facility contains the Jerene Appleby Harnish Library, the Irvine Lecture Hall, the Salathé Library Wing and Classroom, the Mendenhall Courtroom, the Gunder Conference Room, the Rainey Conference Room, the Smith Atrium, the Stauffer Administrative Center and Tower, the Di Loreto Dining Room and Patio, the Darling Trial Courtroom, the Armand Arabian Judge’s Chamber, the Duane and Lucille Faw Student Lounge, the Stegall Faculty Wing, the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution, the Hirsch Classroom, the Garner Conference Room, the Jones Administrative Suite, the Brock Conference Room, the Karns and Karabian Faculty Library, the Fineman Faculty Lounge, the Thompson Terrace, a large auditorium-classroom, other classrooms, faculty offices, a bookstore, and offices for student services and activities.

The Jerene Appleby Harnish Library is the focal point of the School of Law. Containing in excess of 355,000 volumes, the library has developed from a fine working library for law students and faculty into one which also emphasizes research capabilities. The law student will find the library divided into working areas such as state materials, federal materials, periodicals, foreign materials, and texts and treatises. The library’s acquisition emphasis is on materials that will be most useful for student and faculty course work preparation and for legal research.

The university’s olympic-size swimming pool, gymnasium, tennis courts, and other recreational facilities are available for law student use. In addition, equestrian trails wind their way through mountain areas on the campus.

INSTRUCTION

The course of instruction provides students with a thorough foundation in the great principles of law. The case method of study is used extensively. The teacher’s role in such a situation is not primarily that of lecturer. Instead, the teacher seeks to draw from the students pertinent observations, possibilities, questions, and arguments related to the fact situation being considered. The classroom environment encourages a lively interchange of ideas between the students and the teacher.

As part of its program of instruction, the School of Law clinical law and externship programs emphasize the practical aspects of the law. Students are eligible to participate in the programs following their first year. Program offerings are set forth under Description of Courses. In addition, students can volunteer to work with homeless men, women, and families in the Pepperdine Legal Clinic at Los Angeles’ Union Rescue Mission, the largest such mission in the country. Pepperdine also sponsors an effective Special Education Law Clinic.

The Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution offers process-oriented and skills-training courses in the non-litigation processes of dispute resolution. Lawyering Process, Negotiation and Planning, Mediation, and Arbitration are only some of the courses offered.

The Center for Entrepreneurship and Technology Law is an innovative program designed to prepare students for both the challenges and opportunities high technology is presenting in areas such as business, entertainment law, securities regulation, and intellectual property rights. Forty students become fellows of the Center each year, participating in externships, special symposia, and a rigorous curriculum.
The curriculum strengthens the speaking and writing skills that are so necessary for effective communication. Legal writing courses, research projects, law review, appellate moot court competitions, mock trials, and daily class participation and preparation help to further develop these skills.

In order to maximize the learning experience, first-year classes normally do not exceed seventy students. A number of small advanced classes and seminars are provided in order to facilitate student participation. Small classes also enable students to become better acquainted with one another and with professors.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT PROGRAM

The Academic Support Program is designed to (1) provide an extended orientation into the learning and testing processes customarily utilized in law school, and (2) assist students who want to improve their academic performance. The program consists of a summer orientation session, a mentoring program held during the academic year, and a second semester study skills course. Enrollment is open to all incoming first-year students, although participation in the study skills course is limited through a selection process.

The summer session of the program consists of a series of classes designed to orient the incoming student to the law school experience. The summer session program instructors cover case briefing, class preparation, the Socratic method of instruction, outlining, study skills, and exam taking. There is no charge for enrollment in the summer session.

CLINICAL EDUCATION PROGRAM

Historically, the prospective lawyer learned law through a clinical, skill-oriented experience. This was accomplished by performing the tasks of a lawyer in the office of a practitioner. Later it was realized that such an education was deficient because it did not provide law students with a foundation in the history and reasoning behind the various areas of law. Legal education then undertook a radical transformation and became almost exclusively a classroom experience. Recent years have seen a trend back to the inclusion of structured clinical experiences as a valuable part of the education of a lawyer.

Pepperdine students have various clinical law opportunities available to them. The externship program places students in actual practice settings in both criminal and civil law, offering experience in interviewing, counseling, negotiating, mediating, advocating, drafting, and planning. Under rules approved by the California State Bar Board of Governors, students may be certified to engage in taking depositions, or trying certain types of cases before a court or administrative tribunal, all under the supervision of a practicing attorney. Students may be placed with a corporation, the district attorney or public defender, public interest legal agencies, or the state or federal judiciary, and they gain practical experience in such areas of law as corporate, entertainment, business, tax, criminal prosecution and defense, juvenile, domestic, labor, and consumer protection.

Pepperdine also offers its students the opportunity to participate in its in-house clinics. The Pepperdine/Union Rescue Mission Legal Aid Clinic serves the men and women who live on skid row in downtown Los Angeles. Students volunteer at the mission, under the direction of Attorney Director Brittany Stringfellow Otey, where they meet with residents regarding their legal problems.

Beginning this year, Pepperdine will reinstitute its Family Law Clinic. In addition, Pepperdine will continue its collaboration with Public Counsel in coordinating an adoption clinic. During the summer, the Clinical Program awards stipends to students working at public interest law offices. Examples of such placements include the International Justice Mission, Legal Aid, and Bet Tzedek.

The Special Education Clinic, directed by Richard Peterson, provides a unique opportunity for students to gain valuable experience advocating for children with disabilities, to ensure that they receive appropriate education and related services as required by law.

Another unique dimension of Pepperdine’s clinical education program is its Dispute Resolution Clinic. Building on skills gained in the broad range of alternative dispute resolution simulation courses offered, students in the Dispute Resolution Clinic facilitate settlement of disputes between actual litigants in local courthouses under the direct supervision of Pepperdine faculty.

FACULTY

The varied backgrounds and experiences of the faculty, most of whom have had significant law practice experience, contribute substantially to the student’s understanding of the profession. Faculty positions are filled by individuals who have achieved a high level of competence in their areas of the law, who possess scholarly aptitudes and the ability to communicate effectively in a classroom setting, and who also demonstrate, through their own lives, strong identification with the mission of the School of Law.

THE LAW STUDENT’S RELATIONSHIP TO THE PROFESSION

Students at Pepperdine University School of Law are treated as members of the legal profession to which they aspire and are expected to conduct themselves accordingly.

The American Bar Association’s Code of Professional Responsibility provides as follows: “A lawyer should maintain high standards of professional conduct and should encourage fellow lawyers to do likewise. He should be temperate and dignified, and should refrain from all illegal and morally reprehensible conduct. Because of his position in society, even minor violations of law by a lawyer may tend to lessen public confidence in the legal profession. Obedience to law exemplifies respect for law. To lawyers especially, respect for the law should be more than a platitude.”

A similar moral responsibility rests upon the Pepperdine law student in every aspect of law school life. The Academic Honor Code, administered by elected student representatives, is a central part of the culture of the law school. The theme of the honor system is that the integrity of the lawyer is the basis of our legal system. The Student Code of Conduct governs non-academic behavior. Both the Academic Honor Code and the Student Code of Conduct are on the law school website, and all students are required to be familiar with them http://law.pepperdine.edu/current/policies/student_handbook/.

Legal Ethics Program

In order to implement the responsibility-oriented philosophy of the School of Law and to instruct students concerning required standards of professional conduct, the School of Law has adopted a pervasive program for teaching legal ethics. The program begins with the orientation of incoming students to the basic concepts of professionalism. There is also a required upper division course which helps develop a more thorough knowledge and understanding of the legal profession and the ethical conflicts that confront its members.

Additionally, all other courses offer the opportunity for students to make further inquiry into ethical concerns related specifically to the subject matter of the particular course. Faculty members will include the discussion of legal ethics where deemed appropriate and beneficial, and students are urged to ask questions concerning ethical implications of the substantive material being covered.

Ira Sherman Center for Ethical Awareness

In 1980, the Ira Sherman Center for Ethical Awareness was jointly created by Pepperdine University School of Law, the Los Angeles County Bar Association, and The Los Angeles Daily Journal Company. The Sherman Center is named in memory of Mr. Ira L. Sherman, the long-time chairman of the Los Angeles County Bar Association’s Professional Responsibility Committee. The purpose of the Center is to foster increased awareness of legal ethics by California attorneys. The Center also helps to increase public awareness of the legal profession’s efforts to promote the highest ethical conduct on the part of attorneys.

One of the principal activities of the faculty director of the Sherman Center, Professor Gregory L. Ogden, is consulting with attorneys, both informally and formally, about legal ethics problems and questions. Alumni are especially encouraged to consult with and seek guidance from the director of the Sherman Center.
Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution

The Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution, established in 1986, provides unique opportunities for law students and professionals to participate in the dispute resolution movement, described by a former dean of Harvard Law School as the “most important social experiment of our time.” It is one of the most comprehensive law school dispute resolution programs in the United States and is consistently ranked among the top programs in the country (including number one in 1998, 1999, and 2003) by academics surveyed in the past six years by U.S. News and World Report. The Straus Institute’s initiatives are divided into five programs: Academic, Conferences and Workshops, Research and Publication, Reconciliation, and Service.

ACADEMIC PROGRAM

The Straus Institute offers more dispute resolution academic programs than any other American law school. Those who possess a law degree from recognized law schools can earn an LL.M. in Dispute Resolution. Law and other graduate students, as well as mid-career professionals, can participate in the only Master of Dispute Resolution (MDR) degree program offered by an American law school, or the largest professional certificate program in the nation. Through these three programs, Pepperdine offers more options and opportunities for students wanting to prepare themselves for professional dispute resolution work.

Faculty

The Institute’s academic programs rely on a rich and uniquely assembled faculty: nine full-time School of Law professors; more than twenty-five prominent professors from universities around the world who teach the one- and two-week intensive courses as visiting professors; and more than fifteen successful mediators and arbitrators from Southern California who serve as adjunct professors.

Creative Formats

The Institute designed the curriculum to be completed by full-time students in one year or by part-time students over several years. Recognizing that many of the individuals interested in dispute resolution are mid-career professionals, the Straus Institute has created accommodating schedules for its classes. Each year, there are four options for academic classes: regular fifteen-week semester classes, seven-week classes, January and May weeklong intensives, and two-week summer school courses. The semester-long courses meet once a week and are scheduled so that three classes can be taken with a commitment of only one afternoon and evening per week. As a result, it is possible to earn an LL.M. or master’s degree in as little as twenty-two weeks, spread over a two or three year period (Malibu campus). Likewise, it is possible to complete the certificate program in just twelve weeks, spread over one or two years (Malibu campus). In addition, seven-week and two-week intensive courses offered at the school’s Orange County campus (Irvine, California), can be applied to any of the three programs.

Courses

According to an American Bar Association study of dispute resolution programs in American law schools, the Straus Institute leads the U.S. in the number of different courses and the number of sections of those courses offered each year. While many schools offer a handful of courses in dispute resolution, Straus offers thirty-two different courses in its academic program. Multiple sections of core courses are offered every semester resulting in more than forty-five sections of dispute resolution courses each year. Core academic courses move beyond the important theoretical foundation to emphasize the skills of practice. A wide variety of elective courses provides an advanced focus on application to specialized areas of practice. Following is a list of courses:

- Advanced Mediation
- Advanced Trial Practice
- Alternative Dispute Resolution Processes
- Appellate Advocacy
- Arbitration
- Arbitration Practice
- Commercial and International Dispute Resolution
- Communication and Conflict
- Complex Litigation
- Cross-Cultural Negotiation and Dispute Resolution
- Current Issues in International Dispute Resolution: The European Experience

• Selected Issues in Dispute Resolution: Healthcare
• Selected Issues in Dispute Resolution: Labor
• Selected Issues in Dispute Resolution: On-Line Dispute Resolution
• Social Psychology of Conflict
• Trial Practice
• Trial Preparation and Settlement

International Study Tours

In addition to the courses offered in Malibu and Orange County, the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution offers two annual intensive study tours.

Current Issues in International Dispute Resolution – the European Community in London, England, and Geneva, Switzerland. Students spend the first six days in London, have the weekend on their own, and reconvene on Sunday evening in Geneva for the remaining four days of class. This course, which is usually scheduled the last two weeks in May, is designed to provide a professional setting for international study, features a prominent faculty team, a limited number of students, and an unparalleled opportunity not only to learn about but also to experience private and public sector international dispute resolution institutions. The program utilizes collaborative consulting scenarios and includes classroom activities and site visits in London and Geneva.

Current Issues in International Dispute Resolution – East Meets West: Consensus and Resolution Across the Pacific in Hong Kong and Beijing (ABA approval pending). Participants in this course will study the impact of culture on dispute resolution in two of the most vibrant cities in Asia—Hong Kong and Beijing. This program will focus on the cultural nuances of Asia and the United States as they impact the three main ADR processes; negotiation, mediation, and arbitration. Participants will learn from U.S. and Asian professionals who have successfully negotiated, mediated, and arbitrated matters between American and Chinese concerns. In Hong Kong the class meets every morning, with site visits in the afternoons. A field trip to Beijing will take place during the class. The site visits will support the assignment for students acting as consulting groups to advise their clients on culturally sensitive approaches to resolving a complex case problem.

Externships/Theses

The dispute resolution clinics and externships provide real-world, hands-on experience to refine professional skills. Each externship is a two-unit course and involves 120 hours of observation and practice in a supervised setting. The Institute has cultivated myriad externship placement opportunities with such agencies as the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, the Los Angeles Superior Court, the Thesis projects require a six-unit commitment over at least two semesters and must be completed under the direction of a faculty member. Topics must be approved before registering for thesis units. The LL.M. writing project is a two-unit experience through which every LL.M. student not completing a thesis will be required to perform scholarly research and writing on a topic of individual interest under faculty supervision.

LL.M. in Dispute Resolution

The twenty-eight-unit LL.M. curriculum is unique in several respects. Degree candidates can select from four areas of concentration: Arbitration, Mediation, International Dispute Resolution, and Litigation. They may also opt to pursue a more general course of study.

Requirements to earn the LL.M. Degree are completion of the required courses listed below (twelve units), either a thesis project or two externships and an LL.M. writing project (six units), and five elective dispute resolution courses chosen from the above list (ten units) for a total of twenty-eight units.

Required Courses
• Negotiation and Settlement Advocacy
• Mediation Seminar
• Arbitration, Arbitration Practice, or International Commercial Arbitration
• Communication and Conflict
• Social Psychology of Conflict
• LL.M. Seminar

Master of Dispute Resolution (MDR)

The thirty-two-unit MDR program prepares graduate students and mid-career professionals from a wide variety of fields—law, business, public policy, education, ministry, medicine, and social science—to provide leadership regarding the resolution of conflict.

Requirements to earn the MDR degree are completion of the required courses listed below (eighteen units—sixteen units for law students or lawyers), either a thesis or three externships (six units), and four dispute resolution electives for non-lawyers or non-law students (eight units), or five dispute resolution electives for lawyers or law students (ten units) for a total of thirty-two units.

Required Courses
• Interviewing, Counseling, and Planning
• Negotiation and Settlement Advocacy
• Mediation Seminar
• Arbitration, Arbitration Practice,
or International Commercial Arbitration
• Cross-Cultural Negotiation and Dispute Resolution
• Communication and Conflict
• Social Psychology of Conflict
• Dispute Resolution Clinic
• Legal Process (for non-lawyers and non-law students)

Certificate Program

The Straus Institute developed the certificate program to recognize students who complete fourteen units of prescribed course work in dispute resolution. Established in 1989, it is a core part of the dispute resolution curricula and an excellent beginning for work in the dispute resolution field. While available to mid-career professionals, many of the participating students earn the certificate as part of their juris doctor degree because all of these units count toward the eighty-eight units necessary to earn a J.D. from Pepperdine School of Law.

Requirements to earn the certificate in dispute resolution are completion of the required courses listed below (eight units) and two dispute resolution elective courses (six units) for a total of fourteen units.

Required Courses
• Interviewing, Counseling, and Planning
• Negotiation and Settlement Advocacy
• Mediation Seminar
• Arbitration, Arbitration Practice,

Joint MDR and J.D.

Pepperdine law students desiring to concurrently earn a juris doctorate and a master’s in dispute resolution can double-count up to fourteen units from the law program toward the thirty-two units necessary for the master’s degree. Thus, a Pepperdine law student need only complete an additional eighteen units to earn an MDR. These units could be completed over summer sessions allowing students to earn both degrees in three years.

Joint MDR and Master of Public Policy Degree

Students can earn a joint MDR and a Master of Public Policy by completing twenty-six units in dispute resolution (sixteen units of required courses, four units of elective courses, and six units of a thesis project or externship), and fifty-six units in public policy (thirty-two units of required courses, eight units of electives relating to dispute resolution, and sixteen units of elective courses). Students must be admitted to both schools’ programs to participate in this joint degree program.
Joint MBA and Certificate in Dispute Resolution Program

In the fall of 1999, Pepperdine’s Graziadio School of Business and Management and the School of Law endorsed a program allowing MBA students to count up to fourteen units of dispute resolution courses as an MBA concentration. This innovative initiative allows an MBA student to earn a certificate in dispute resolution from the Straus Institute at the School of Law, while formally studying a fundamental management skill and applying those units towards an MBA.

Requirements for Admission

Applicants for admission to the LL.M. in Dispute Resolution must have completed the first degree in law required for law practice or law teaching in the country in which law studies were pursued. U.S. applicants must have an ABA-accredited J.D. degree.

Applicants for admission to the Master of Dispute Resolution or Dispute Resolution Certificate Program must have received a bachelor’s degree from an approved college or university prior to registration. In addition, MDR applicants who do not have a graduate degree from an approved university must complete the Graduate Records Examination (GRE), the Law School Admission Test (LSAT), or the GMAT, and request that the score be reported to the School of Law.

GRE, LSAT, and GMAT scores are valid for three years. An applicant who has successfully completed a graduate degree from an approved university has the option of submitting an application on the basis of his/her graduate level academic record in lieu of a GRE, LSAT, or GMAT score. A GRE, LSAT, or GMAT score is not necessary for application to the LL.M. or certificate programs.

All foreign applicants must submit a TOEFL score along with a financial statement indicating that they have the necessary funds to attend the program.

Applications for all three programs are due by February 15 for consideration to commence studies for the summer or fall semesters, and by August 15 to commence studies in the Winter Intensive Program or spring semester. To request an application or additional information, contact: jim.stott@pepperdine.edu, or call him at (310) 506-4655.

CONFERENCES AND WORKSHOPS

Supplementing the Straus Institute’s academic program is a series of national conferences and workshops presented each year. “Mediating the Litigated Case” is the Institute’s premier six-day training program that is offered as an open-enrollment course each spring, and for various court systems throughout the year. The Institute also offers twelve three-day skills-development programs during its June “Professional Skills Program.” In partnership with the Daily Journal Corporation, the Institute created the Masters Forum, an invitation-only event for the most accomplished mediators in the nation. In early November, the Institute hosts the annual Southern California Mediation Association Conference, which involves hundreds of participants in a one-day gathering. Periodically, the Institute presents a specialty focus conference like this year’s “Dispute Resolution and Technology-Driven Companies,” bringing together managers and dispute resolution professionals who deal with conflicts in that context. Each conference provides an opportunity for professionals, and those who want to be professionals, to work with faculty from around the world.

RESEARCH AND PUBLICATION PROGRAM

Important to any field is the intellectual examination of it. Accordingly, the Straus Institute conducts scholarly research and publishes the results for the academic academy, students, and practitioners. Full-time School of Law faculty who teach dispute resolution courses have published the following books and articles in the recent past:

Roger P. Alford

Robert F. Cochran, Jr.
“ADR, the ABA, and Client Control: A Proposal that the Model Rules Require Lawyers to Present ADR Options to Clients,” 41 S. Tex. L. Rev. 183 (1999).

An up-to-date listing of all School of Law faculty publications can be found at law.pepperdine.edu/visitors/scholarship.jsp

RECONCILIATION PROGRAM
This program underscores the Institute’s commitment to fostering spiritual and ethical values. From its beginning, the Institute has run a special program to assist religious organizations as they face potentially harmful disputes. The Straus Institute has helped churches, families, communities, and organizations deal with the inevitable conflicts of life in creative, relationship-building ways through proactive worship and congregational consultations throughout the nation.
SERVICE PROGRAM

Service is the hallmark of the Straus Institute and an important contributor to its educational effort. Whether it is mediating in Africa, teaching in the inner city, introducing mediation to an Asian nation, helping indigent clients in a local court, consulting with an international corporation, or calming an angry church, Institute faculty regularly move from the isolation of the classroom to real-world service in dispute resolution.

FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Limited financial assistance is available for students enrolled in the LL.M., master’s degree, and certificate programs. Students may be eligible for Stafford loans and private loans depending on their financial circumstances, the availability of funds allocated to the university, and the student’s classification in the program. Full-time status is required for some programs. For more information, please see the Financial Assistance section on page 96.

In addition to the programs available through the university, several dispute resolution fellowships are awarded each year for students in the LL.M. and master’s degree programs. A separate application is required for consideration of a fellowship. Applications are due April 15 and recipients are awarded fellowships for the following academic year. Fellowships consist of grant assistance, the amount of which varies each year. For the 2004–05 academic year, the institute selected ten fellows, each of whom will receive up to $7,500 in tuition remission. The program provides the opportunity for special work in research or teaching assistance.

London Program

Established in 1981, the London Program offers second- and third-year law students the opportunity to study, intern, moot and travel in England and throughout Europe. The program offers both a six-week summer session and a fall semester.

During the summer session students can complete from two to nine units of course work as well as attend a number of cultural and legal events. Accommodations in central London are provided in dormitory-type housing.

During the fall semester students should complete a minimum of twelve units. They may moot against the Inns of Court, gain clinical internship experience and take part in the popular European Institutions Tour. The tour takes the group through Belgium, Luxembourg, and France to visit the European Parliament, the European Court of Justice, and the European Court of Human Rights. During some years, a trip to The Hague in the Netherlands is also provided, in which students tour the International Criminal Courts. In the fall, students secure their own housing with the assistance of the London office.
Students from other law schools accredited by the American Bar Association are a welcome addition to the London student body. Enrollment in the summer and fall London Programs is limited to fifty students.

The London Program is located in a Pepperdine-owned listed building constructed after the Great Exhibition of 1861. Its many architectural features complement the facility which includes classrooms, resource library, computer facilities, and offices. It is located in the prestigious Knightsbridge and South Kensington areas, close to Hyde Park, Harrods, Kensington Palace, and the Victoria and Albert Museum.

The curriculum is designed so that students may complete certain second- and third-year requirements, while enriching their legal education with a variety of international and comparative law courses. Required courses often taught in London include Constitutional Law, Corporations, Remedies, Wills and Trusts, and a Professional Responsibility (Ethics) course. Elective courses unique to the London Program include European Union Law, International Entertainment and Copyright Law, and International Public Law. Also taught on a regular basis is International Commercial Arbitration, which can be credited to the Certificate Program in Dispute Resolution. Course offerings vary depending upon which professor is in residence from Malibu. Additional units can be earned through independent studies, moot court competitions, and clinical placements.

Brochures and applications are available through the Admissions Office. Information may also be obtained by telephone: (310) 506-7597, e-mail: London@law.pepperdine.edu, and Web site: law.pepperdine.edu/current/centers_programs/london/.

In the summer of 2005, the London Program will emphasize International Entertainment Law. Three relevant courses will be offered: Copyright Law, International Entertainment Law: Film and Television, and International Entertainment Law: Music Industry. In order to take the Music Industry course, students must enroll in the Film and Television course.

In addition to the regular fall and summer programs available in London, the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution offers an annual two-week intensive course entitled Current Issues in International Dispute Resolution: The European Community in London, England, and Geneva, Switzerland. Students spend the first six days in London, have the weekend on their own, and reconvene on Sunday evening in Geneva for the remaining four days of class. This course, which is usually scheduled the last two weeks of May, is designed to provide a professional setting for international study, features a prominent faculty team, a limited number of students, and an unparalleled opportunity not only to learn about but also to experience private and public sector international dispute resolution institutions. The program utilizes collaborative consulting scenarios and includes classroom activities and site visits in London and Geneva. Interested parties should contact the Straus Institute directly.

A student may participate in all of the study abroad programs (summer and fall London Programs, the Straus Institute Programs in London/Geneva and Hong Kong/Beijing and the exchange programs with the University of Augsburg and the University of Copenhagen) as long as the student does not exceed thirty units in study abroad programs. Units which are taken in study abroad programs at other law schools also count toward the thirty unit maximum.

EXCHANGE PROGRAMS

University of Copenhagen

In 2003 Pepperdine University School of Law and the University of Copenhagen reached an agreement to exchange two students each fall and spring semester. In this program, Pepperdine students are officially enrolled at Pepperdine and pay normal tuition to Pepperdine, but they will take their classes in Copenhagen at the University. The classes are in English but taught by Danish professors. Courses in International Law and Danish Law will be offered. Credits are transferred as pass/fail credits. Housing for Pepperdine students at the University of Copenhagen is available but not guaranteed. Arrangements for housing in Denmark must be made directly with the University of Copenhagen.

University of Augsburg

The exchange program with the University of Augsburg, Germany, takes place in the summer. Courses are offered in German and European Law, and some of the courses emphasize economic law. The lectures are in English. Pepperdine students are officially enrolled at Pepperdine. Tuition is paid to Pepperdine and the credits granted are transferred as pass/fail credits. Housing is available at the University of Augsburg on a limited basis. Arrangements for housing in Augsburg must be made directly with the University of Augsburg.

Students who are interested in these programs should inquire at the Overseas Programs office by telephone (310) 506-7597 or e-mail: London@law.pepperdine.edu.
Joint Degree Programs

JD/MBA DEGREE PROGRAM

In establishing a JD/MBA program, Pepperdine University School of Law recognized the growing need for additional training for lawyers and businesspersons alike to be competitive in today’s global marketplace. The JD/MBA program offered at the School of Law and the School of Business and Management provides the unique opportunity for students to gain the knowledge required to address the increasingly complex legal problems that will arise as American business expands further into the world market.

The JD/MBA program allows the student to compress a five-year program of study into four years. Studied separately, the School of Law juris doctor program is an eighty-eight-unit, six-term program and the School of Business and Management MBA program is a sixty-unit, four-term program. Together as a joint program, they comprise 130 units of study. This is accomplished by offering eighty-two units of law study and forty-eight units of business courses. The law program has fifty-seven units of required courses and twenty-three units of core electives representing areas of business law. Students receive a degree from each program rather than one joint degree.

In most cases, the first year of the JD/MBA program at Pepperdine is completed exclusively in the full-time law program. However, students may begin with the first year of study at the business school. Classes for the program begin in the fall semester of each year.

JD/MPP DEGREE PROGRAM

The Juris Doctor and Master of Public Policy (JD/MPP) program is a joint program between the School of Public Policy and the School of Law. It is designed to strengthen and perfect the preparation of those whose successful leadership depends on a fuller understanding and a stronger skill-set for addressing issues of public policy in the practice of law. The program also explores the interface between the private business sector and an increasingly complex government presence. Reflecting a Christian commitment to subsidiarity and grass-roots problem solving within community, the program addresses the management of nonprofit associations and foundations, understanding that at times, they may depend heavily on a carefully tended relationship with government or may be expected to provide social services on behalf of the government. The Pepperdine program is unique in recognizing the growing importance of the intermediary institutions between the federal government and the individual, as well as the critical role of local, regional and state government. It further acknowledges the need for domestic and global business to appreciate more fully the implications of public policy, both in the United States and other regions, and how to manage those policies.
The four-year joint JD/MPP program requires a total of 120 units: eighty-eight units of law courses and thirty-two units of the public policy curriculum. It thus permits the student to complete in four years what would ordinarily require five years if undertaken separately. Applicants for the joint program must apply and be granted admission to both the School of Public Policy and the School of Law. The admission requirements for potential JD/MPP students are identical to the admission requirements for the JD and MPP degrees if pursued separately.

The first year of study is completed exclusively through either the School of Public Policy or the School of Law, with the second-year studies taken at the school not enrolled in during the first year. The third and fourth years of the program are completed exclusively through the School of Law.

JD/M.DIV. DEGREE PROGRAM

Pepperdine’s newest joint degree program is the Juris Doctor/Master of Divinity (JD/M.Div.), designed to advance the university’s mission of strengthening lives for purpose, service, and leadership. Students with both legal and theological training have critical tools with which to better integrate faith and learning. Graduates of such programs work not only for law firms, but also for churches, non-profit and public policy organizations, and legal advocacy clinics representing the poor and disabled.

Beginning in fall 2004, a student can earn a law degree and a master of divinity in five years, rather than the six years usually required. Students will be required to complete seventy-nine units for law school and seventy-four units for the divinity program. Applicants must apply and be granted admission to both the School of Law and Seaver College, Religion Division.

JD/MDR DEGREE PROGRAM

Students may concurrently earn a juris doctorate and a master of dispute resolution degree. Fourteen units from the Pepperdine juris doctor program can also apply toward the thirty-two units necessary for the master’s degree. A Pepperdine law student need only complete an additional eighteen units to earn the master’s degree. These units could be completed over summer sessions, allowing students to earn both degrees in three years. Applicants must apply and be granted admission to both the juris doctor program and the master’s degree program.
MDR/MPP DEGREE PROGRAM

The Master of Dispute Resolution and Master of Public Policy (MDR/MPP) program is the joint effort between the Straus Institute for Dispute Resolution and the School of Public Policy. Students can obtain both degrees by earning twenty-six units in dispute resolution and fifty-six units in public policy. Applicants must apply and be granted admission to both the School of Law and the School of Public Policy.

The Center for Entrepreneurship and Technology Law

The Center for Entrepreneurship and Technology Law is an innovative new multidisciplinary sixteen-unit certificate program. The Center is designed to prepare students for the heightened demands and unique opportunities which high technology is presenting in areas such as business, entertainment law, securities regulation, and intellectual property rights. In addition to an enhanced curriculum and co-curricular events, students accepted as fellows of the Center will have the opportunity to assist in the Center’s development and facilitation of high technology start-up companies. The Center offers students a challenging, exciting, and unique supplement to the traditional law school curriculum. The Center will prepare students for this modern hybrid of lawyer, business consultant and financial strategist. Additionally, the Center offers periodic topical summits, outside conferences, public service opportunities, clinical externships, business law clinic, and summer fellowships.

The Center’s partners and sponsors in the technological community distinguish Pepperdine University School of Law as the first and only law school to form a strategic alliance with an internationally renowned cutting edge technological research laboratory.

The Center accepts applications from students after they have completed their first year at Pepperdine University School of Law and will be entering their second year of study the following fall. No person on academic probation will be admitted.

For more information on the Center, please see our Web site: http://law.pepperdine.edu/visitors/cetl/.
2004 National Champions, NBLSA Thurgood Marshall Mock Trial Competition (Melissa Alessi, Tina Talim, Sharunne Foster, Kendra Thomas and Professor Chris Goodman).
SCHOOL POLICIES
All policies of the School of Law, both academic and nonacademic, are subject to change within a school year, and therefore all current policies may not be reflected in the most recent catalog of the School of Law.

Admission Information for Juris Doctor Degree

Admission is based on the applicant’s academic record, Law School Admission Test score, and other relevant information, and is governed by the university’s nondiscrimination policy (see Legal Notices). Only those applicants who show substantial promise of successfully completing the study of law are accepted.

Beginning students are admitted only in the fall semester. The school of Law strongly recommends that students in the first year devote themselves full-time to the study of law. In any event, the amount of time spent in any outside employment should not interfere with the full-time study of law and cannot exceed twenty hours per week.

Because of the significant increase in the number of students presently studying law nationally, prospective applicants should be aware that competition for law-related jobs will increase. Applicants should therefore have serious goals and high motivation.

PRELEGAL EDUCATION COURSE OF STUDY

The School of Law does not prescribe a definite prelegal curriculum for its applicants. A broad general education is usually considered better for the study of law than specialized study in subjects closely related to law. Nonetheless, prospective law students should keep certain goals before them in planning their college program. They should strive to acquire the ability to communicate ideas with precision, both orally and in writing, to gain critical understanding of human values and institutions, and to develop the ability to think analytically and creatively.

It is strongly recommended that law students take courses in both basic accounting and economics prior to entering law school. Other helpful courses include those which strengthen the student’s ability to use proper grammar and sentence construction in both written and spoken communication.

For additional information on prelaw study, see the current ABA-LSAC Official Guide to ABA Approved Law Schools, prepared by the Law School Admission Council and the American Bar Association. This book includes material on the law and lawyers, together with individualized information on most American law schools. It may be ordered directly at www.lsac.org.
ADMISSION INFORMATION

ADMISSION TO THE FIRST-YEAR CLASS

Applicants to the juris doctorate program should have received a bachelor’s degree from an approved college or university prior to the time of registration. The following steps must be completed prior to consideration for admission:

Filing of Application

Each candidate must submit a completed application for admission to the School of Law or to LSAC via the LSACD or the LSACD on the web. The application must be accompanied by a $50 non-refundable application fee. The application deadline is March 1.

Law School Admission Test

Each applicant for admission must take the Law School Admission Test administered by Law Services. This test is given four times each year at testing centers established for the convenience of applicants in all parts of the United States and in many foreign countries. Because admission decisions are made beginning in early February, it is recommended that applicants take the LSAT no later than the fall or winter test date of the year prior to expected enrollment, and certainly no later than February of the year in which the applicant is seeking admission. Application forms and information concerning the time and place of the examination may be obtained from LSAC Web site: lsac.org, or the Admissions Office at the School of Law.

Applicants should register for the LSAT no later than thirty days before the test date to assure themselves of a place at the desired test site.

Law School Admission Test Scores are considered valid for a period of five years. Test scores prior to that period of time are not considered by the admissions committee.

Law School Data Assembly Service

The applicant should register with the Law School Data Assembly Service (LSDAS). LSDAS registration options are listed at www.lsac.org. A transcript from each college or university attended should then be sent directly to:

LSDAS
Box 2000-M
Newtown, PA 18940-0993

Please DO NOT send these transcripts to the School of Law. Transcripts showing any work completed after the initial registration with LSDAS should also be sent to LSDAS.
Letters of Recommendation

Two letters of recommendation are required. Recommendations should be furnished by those individuals who can best assess your ability to succeed in law school. When possible, at least one of the recommendations should be provided by a faculty member with whom you pursued your undergraduate studies. Relatives should not be asked to submit recommendations. Pepperdine University School of Law requires that your letters be submitted through the LSAC letter of recommendation service that serves all member schools. This service is included in your LSDAS Registration subscription. Your letters will be copied and sent to us along with your LSDAS Report when the letter of recommendation service has received both letters. To use this service, follow the directions for submitting letters outlined in the 2004–2005 LSAT/LSDAS Registration and Information Book. Provide each recommender with a signed letter of recommendation form from the LSAT/LSDAS Registration and Information Book, page I-9.

THE ADMISSIONS PROCESS

Responsibility for evaluation of candidates for admission is vested in the faculty admissions committee. Upon completion of the file, it is sent to the committee, where objective criteria such as the undergraduate grade point average and the Law School Admission Test score are carefully evaluated. The next stage of evaluation is subjective and includes evaluation of the applicant’s ability to make a positive contribution to the unique environment of a Christian law school, employment experience, extracurricular activities, community involvement, commitment to high standards of morality and ethics, reasons for wanting to study law, competence in writing and speaking, emotional stability, maturity, initiative, motivation, and any other relevant subjective information furnished by the applicant.

DIVERSITY ADMISSIONS

The School of Law seeks to attract students who will bring variety, diversity, and excellence to the study of law. In addition to academic performance, admissions decisions may be based on consideration of other factors that would serve these purposes. These factors include racial and ethnic origin, unique work or service experience, a history of overcoming disadvantage, unusual life experiences, and other qualities that are likely to enrich the learning and living environment at the School of Law.

SPECIAL ADMISSIONS

The university reserves the right to make a small number of special appointments to the entering class each year from among those applicants who may not meet the objective qualifications for admission but whose background, subjective qualifications, special interest, and relationship to the university make them deserving of an opportunity to study law.
CAMPUS VISITS

Prospective students are encouraged to visit the campus and tour the facility. Whenever possible, a campus visit will include a tour of the Odell McConnell Law Center given by a current law student and the opportunity to attend a first-year law class. The School of Law admissions personnel are available Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. until 5:00 p.m. to answer questions and provide information.

ACCEPTING AN OFFER OF ADMISSION

Offers of admission to entering first-year students are made only for the fall semester and cannot be carried over to subsequent years. After receiving notice of admission, the following steps are required to complete acceptance of the offer:

ACCEPTANCE DEPOSIT

The applicant is required to make two deposits to the School of Law. Unless the deposit is received on or before the date stated in the offer of admission, the acceptance may be canceled so that the place may be offered to another applicant. The first deposit of $250 is required by April 15. If written notice of a decision not to enroll is received by the school on or before the June 30 preceding the anticipated date of enrollment, $125 of the acceptance deposit will be refunded to the applicant. Otherwise, the deposit is not refundable. The second deposit of $250 is required by July 1. The second deposit is not refundable. For those applicants who matriculate, the acceptance deposits will be applied toward the first semester’s tuition.

OFFICIAL TRANSCRIPTS

Each applicant, after accepting the offer of admission, must have an official transcript sent to the School of Law directly from each college or university which granted a degree, showing the degree and date awarded. These transcripts, while not required to hold the applicant’s place in the class, must be on file prior to registration. All transcripts and documents submitted become the property of the university and are not returnable. A student’s final admission to the School of Law cannot be granted until such transcripts are on file.

OTHER ADMISSION RELATED POLICIES

Admission with Advanced Standing

Admission with advanced standing may be considered only for individuals who have satisfactorily completed a portion of their studies at a law school approved by the American Bar Association. The student must satisfy the entrance requirements for beginning students at Pepperdine University School of Law. In addition, the student must submit an official law school transcript and a letter of good standing from the school attended that indicates present status and current class rank. A law student disqualified elsewhere because of low scholarship will not be admitted to the School of Law. Credit allowable for advanced standing is determined by the associate dean, based on an official transcript from the school attended. In no case will transferred credit be allowed for more than one year. Transfer students admitted to the School of Law are not eligible to receive an official class ranking but will be given an equivalent rank in class. Transferred units will not be computed in determining the grade point average. Students graduating from Pepperdine University School of Law must complete their last fifty-eight units of study in residence. The deadline for transfer applications and all supporting documentation is July 15.

Readmission After Withdrawal

Students who withdraw from the School of Law are not entitled, as a matter of right, to return. They must compete with other applicants for a place at the time they wish to return.

In making a decision about an application for readmission, the following matters are among those considered:

- whether the student meets the current standard for admission;
- the quality of work done prior to withdrawal;
- the length of time between the withdrawal and application for readmission; and
- the reasons for withdrawal.

Reactivation

Applicants wishing to reactivate an admission file should complete the reactivation form, available on the School of Law Web site. The application may be reactivated if the file was initiated the previous year.

Withdrawal Because of Military Service

Students who are on reserve in the military and are involuntarily called to active duty due to national emergencies may withdraw from courses and the university at anytime during the term. Transcripts will be coded as “WM” (withdrawal due to military service) for withdrawals that occur after the add/drop period. The student will receive a 100% tuition refund. No withdrawal fees will be charged.

If the involuntary withdrawal occurs during the period of a term where the grade of Incomplete (“I”) could be granted, students may request an incomplete from the professor. All appropriate rules for incomplete courses apply with one exception; if the student is still on active duty when the expiration date to complete the course and remove the incomplete occurs, the grade will default to “WM” (rather than “F”) and a full refund will be made to the student.
Along with a letter of intent of withdrawal, the student must submit a copy of his/her military orders.

Admission to the Bar

Applicants for admission to the School of Law should consult the rules and regulations of the Committee of Bar Examiners of the state in which they intend to practice, to determine whether or not there is anything that might affect their eligibility for admission to the bar, and whether they are required to register with the bar of that state when they commence the study of law.

Applicants are advised to keep a careful and detailed record of all employment and residence addresses, no matter how temporary. It is highly advisable to secure from each employer, immediately upon the termination of employment, an affidavit showing the length of service, the capacity in which the student was employed, and the employer’s opinion of the student’s character.

California Registration as a Law Student

The state of California requires that each student seeking to practice law in California must, within three months after beginning the study of law, register with the Committee of Bar Examiners of the State Bar of California, 1149 South Hill Street, 4th Floor, Los Angeles, CA 90015, or at the San Francisco office, 633 Battery Street, San Francisco, CA 94111. A fee is required by the state at the time of such registration.

Registration forms are only available online at calbar.ca.gov.

Examination for Admission to Practice Law

The California State Bar Act requires at least three years of law study to qualify an individual to take the examination for admission to practice law in California. Prospective law students should obtain from the Committee of Bar Examiners a copy of applicable rules, as compliance therewith is the responsibility of the student.

Veteran’s Educational Benefits

Pepperdine University School of Law is approved for the training of veterans.
Financial Information

Tuition and fees cover only a portion of the total cost of educating a student. Because Pepperdine University is a private, independent institution that does not receive operating support from public funds, it relies upon gifts from concerned friends and income from endowments to provide both operational and capital funds not covered by student charges.

CURRENT CHARGES

The following charges are for the academic year beginning August 2004. Pepperdine University reserves the right to adjust the charges at any time before the charges are incurred by the student. Due to economic conditions, it is expected that charges will increase in future academic years.

PAYMENT POLICIES

The student is responsible for the payment of any outstanding balance on his/her student account. All tuition, fees, and room and board charges are due by the first day of each term unless the student is eligible for and has chosen one of the installment payment options listed below. Students who register after the due date are required to pay at the time of registration. Registration and confirmation of class assignments are not complete until financial clearance is received, indicating full or partial payment in accordance with the payment policies described below.

Monthly statements of account for each student account will be sent to the billing address. The student is responsible for keeping his/her billing address current with the records office. The receipt of the statement of account is not a prerequisite for payment of any outstanding balance due.

In the event that the student fails to attend class or leaves the university for any reason, the student must formally withdraw through the records office. In addition, a withdrawing student must contact the Office of Financial Assistance and the Residential Life Office, if applicable. Failure to complete this withdrawal process will result in continued obligation for tuition and other charges.

PAYMENT OPTIONS

The university offers three payment options for students to pay their tuition, and room and board charges.

Simple Payment Option

The balance of the student’s account is due in full by the first day of the term for each term. Finance charges will be charged for each payment that is late.

Installment Payment Options (Two-Payments Option or Three-Payments Option)

If the student’s account has not previously been in default, that student will be permitted to pay the charges for tuition, and room and board remaining after deduction of any financial assistance, in installments as described below.

Finance charges will be charged for each installment payment that is late. The privilege of using one of the installment payment options will be revoked upon any installment payment becoming delinquent. Students who do not comply with payment policies will be required to pay all charges upon future registrations and advance registrations.

Two-Payments Option

Tuition, and room and board charges remaining after deduction of any financial assistance are divided into two equal installments to be paid according to the following schedule. All other charges are due on or before the due date listed on the student’s monthly Statement of Account.

How to Pay

Checks should be made payable to Pepperdine University and should include the student’s name. Books and supplies are purchased at the university or law school bookstore and, accordingly, require separate checks. A fee will be assessed for each returned check. Repeated occurrences of returned checks will necessitate that the student’s future payments be made in cash or by cashier’s check.

Payment for Summer School

All summer school charges are due by the first day of the term. Finance charges will be charged on any delinquent balance.

Billing statements reflecting balances due are produced each month. Any unpaid portion of the minimum amount due is subject to delinquency charges of 0.833% per month or fraction thereof. Credits or payments will apply first to this penalty, and then to the principal.

The student must inform the records office of any change in billing address.

ADVANCE REGISTRATION

Any student whose account is current may participate in advance registration without additional payment until the appropriate due date. No advance registration will be permitted if a student’s account is delinquent.

CLASS CHANGES AND CHANGES IN AMOUNTS DUE

In the event the student incurs additional charges with the adding of classes or through other adjustments, the resulting additional balances due must be paid immediately, or in accordance with the deferred payment option chosen by the student at the beginning of the term.
FINANCIAL AID

In order to assure the availability of any financial aid or other support, the student should contact the financial assistance office early in the admissions process and well in advance of registration. Additional information concerning financial aid may be found in the appropriate section of this catalog.

REFUND POLICIES

University operating expenses and student charges are planned on an annual basis. The refund policies have been established in recognition of both the university’s advance commitment to operating expenses and a spirit of fairness for students who find it necessary to discontinue the use of university services. The policies for dismissal and suspension are the same as for voluntary withdrawal.

Tuition

Consideration for refunds of tuition requires written notice from the student to the records office of the student’s intention to drop a course or withdraw from the university. The date this notice is received by the records office is the effective date for determining the refund amount according to the schedule below.

Students may drop classes without tuition penalty during the add/drop period only. Students withdrawing from courses after the add/drop period are subject to the partial refund policies listed below for the fall and spring semesters.

Through the add/drop period (first two weeks) ........ 100% less $150
During the third week ........................................... 75%
During the fourth week ......................................... 50%
During the fifth week ............................................ 25%
After the fifth week.............................................. 0

A week is five working days within a semester’s schedule.

This refund schedule will be applied to the maximum number of units in which a student was enrolled if the student withdraws or is dismissed any time after the add/drop period. Tuition for classes not meeting on a regular semester schedule will be refunded in the same proportion as the above class time is to the total class time for a regular semester.

Students registered for fewer than ten units who subsequently add courses bringing their total units to ten or more must pay the normal flat-rate tuition amount. Continuing students whose tuition is less than the flat-rate amount because of dropping one or more courses are entitled to a partial refund on the same basis as in the above schedule.
Please review this withdrawal policy on page 89 regarding the ramifications of withdrawal under the Federal Family Educational Loan Program (FFELP).

Room and Other Charges

Room fees, once incurred, are not refundable. All other fees and charges are non-refundable unless specifically stated in the catalog.

Refunds

Refunds are credited to the student’s account. Credit balances resulting from financial aid will be processed automatically and checks will be mailed to the student’s local address. It is the student’s responsibility to ensure that a current address is on file with the Student Accounts Office. Any other credit balances may be refunded after the student makes a written request for the funds. Credit balances on accounts where credit card payments were received will have the credit reversed back to the credit card first and any remaining funds will then be issued as a check. If an over-payment is made by check, there is a ten working day waiting period before funds are returned. Refunds of credit balances will not be made until funds have cleared the bank and are showing on the student’s account. Processing refunds will take approximately two weeks.

SECURITY INTEREST IN STUDENT RECORDS

A student may not receive any diploma, certificate, or official transcript until all accounts, current or otherwise, have been settled in accordance with university policies as described above. Such documents will be retained by Pepperdine University as security for such obligations until they are satisfied.

If a student defaults on payment of a student loan and/or student account balance, all records will be held until the student either pays off the balance owed, or brings the loan and/or account to current status. In addition, every student with a loan must complete an exit interview with the accounts resolution office before any records will be released. Each student also agrees to pay all costs of collection upon default, including, but not limited to, collection agency fees, attorney fees, and location searches.
Financial Assistance

Pepperdine University School of Law offers financial aid to eligible students through university funded grants, scholarships and federal or private loan programs. Over 85% of the student body receives some form of financial aid. The School of Law offers a scholarship assistance program made available through endowed funds, gifts from alumni, and the general appropriation of university funds. Students must meet the eligibility criteria and posted deadlines for need-based grants, scholarships and loans. First-year, transfer and returning students who demonstrate financial need according to the federal analysis formula and complete their financial aid files by the priority deadline may be eligible for the Law Grant and Perkins Loan. The deadlines are April 1 for new and transfer students and May 1 for returning students. The Law Grant and Perkins Loan are subject to the availability of funding and budget for the academic year. Students who do not meet the deadlines can expect to receive a financial aid award that consists primarily of federal and private loans. Students are encouraged to apply for financial aid prior to receiving an admission decision. Students will receive an eligibility notification once they are admitted and their financial aid file is complete. All financial aid provided to School of Law students is administered through the Office of Financial Assistance. The Office of Financial Assistance communicates important information by way of the Law School Dicta, so we encourage your reading on a weekly basis.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

In order for students to be considered for financial aid they must complete the application process and follow the guidelines.

1) Pepperdine University School of Law Financial Aid Application (LAPP)

Complete the Pepperdine University School of Law Financial Aid Application that is located in the Admission packet and on our Web site at law.pepperdine.edu.

2) Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA)

Prospective and returning students can complete the FAFSA or renewal FAFSA on the Web at fafsa.ed.gov. Our Title IV institutional code is 001264. To apply for a PIN number so you can sign the FAFSA form electronically, go to www.pin.ed.gov. We encourage you to submit the FAFSA no later than January 15 so that you meet our priority deadlines at the School of Law. The form takes approximately three weeks to process before the results are sent to us electronically.

3) Eligible Non-Citizen

If you are an eligible non-citizen holding a Permanent Resident Visa Card (green card) forward a clear photocopy of both the front and back of the card.
4) Additional Information

Listed below is additional information that may be required for students and their spouse, if married. Students will be notified if additional documentation is required.

Federal Income Tax Form 1040, 1040A or 1040EZ including all schedules.

Verification Form located on our Web site at law.pepperdine.edu

Citizenship Verification such as a photocopy of your United States passport or birth certificate, Certificate of Citizenship, Certificate of Naturalization, or Forms FS-240, FS 545, DS-1350 or G-639.

STUDENT AID REPORT

Once the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) has been processed, a Student Aid Report (SAR) is send directly to the student. Review the form and make any necessary corrections. Please do not send the form to the Office of Financial Assistance. The federal processor will electronically transmit the data to us, and we will review the electronic version.

ELIGIBILITY NOTIFICATIONS

Eligibility notifications are mailed to new and transfer students on a rolling basis from March through June. Returning students should receive their eligibility notification by June. Returning students planning to attend an off-campus summer program should receive their eligibility notification for the following academic year prior to their departure. The eligibility notification packet has instructions and a checklist to guide you through the loan process in a timely manner.

Note: If the financial aid offer includes loan eligibility, it is the applicant’s responsibility to request and complete the appropriate loan applications. These applications may be obtained from the Office of Financial Assistance, School of Law Web site or by contacting your lender. After completing the loan application, please follow the instructions that were enclosed with your Eligibility Notification. Loan applications should be complete by June 15 to ensure loans are disbursed by the first day of class.

RETURNING STUDENT FINANCIAL AID

The School of Law is dedicated to provide financial assistance on a continuing basis and attempts to award a comparable financial aid package from year to year. Students must reapply for financial aid annually. Financial aid is based on the federal formula of need analysis, therefore, if your expected family contribution (EFC) increases in subsequent years, the financial aid is subject to change. Students must continue to meet the eligibility requirements for grants, scholarships and federal loans in order to receive them in subsequent years.
LOAN DISBURSEMENT PROCESS

Financial aid that is awarded to students will not be disbursed to their student account until all requests for verification documentation is complete. First-time Federal Stafford loan borrowers must complete an on-line entrance counseling session at law.pepperdine.edu prior to the disbursement of loan funds. In order to ensure that your loan funds are here by the start of class, complete the on-line loan application process and on-line entrance counseling no later than June 15.

Student borrowers will need to apply for their Federal Stafford and Private loans on-line at law.pepperdine.edu. It is the student’s responsibility to request and complete the appropriate loan applications. Once students have successfully completed the on-line loan application process the Lenders will send a certification to us electronically.

Please note: Students should come to school with the knowledge that financial aid is intended to cover educational expenses incurred once class has started. Any expenses for off-campus housing, travel, or living prior to the start of school are not covered by financial aid.

LONDON AND SUMMER PROGRAMS

Students attending the fall London program should complete their financial aid files and apply for loans by the appropriate deadlines. Students seeking financial aid for a summer program must complete the summer school applications located in the Office of Financial Assistance. In addition, students should apply for summer loans by the April 1 deadline.

Withdrawal and the Federal Family Educational Loan Program (FFELP)

- The school is required to return any unearned portions of federal monies up to the net amount disbursed. This applies whether tuition is refunded at 100% or not. If a student received a refund check and federal monies have to be returned, the student should expect to repay most, if not all, of the refund check received.

- The student is required to return unearned aid for which the student is responsible up to the net amount disbursed after subtracting the amount the school will return. A student will be notified of this amount, if any.

- Loans are to be paid in accordance with the terms of the promissory note.

- An approved leave of absence will not exceed 180 days in any twelve-month period. If a student does not return from an approved leave, grace period is retroactive to date when the leave began.

- Lenders will be notified of a student’s separation date.
• Any outstanding balances to a student’s account must be paid. If an account is not paid in full, it will accrue finance charges, late fees, and be placed on hold.
• Any private loan funds received in excess of a student’s account balance are reimbursed to the lender. Repayment is in accordance with an individual student’s promissory note.

Types of Financial Assistance

SCHOLARSHIPS AND GRANTS FOR JURIS DOCTOR STUDENTS

Pepperdine University School of Law awards grants and scholarships to students who meet the eligibility criteria. Scholarship and grant funds are based on financial need and the potential for academic and personal achievement at the School of Law. Merit scholarships awards are based on the student’s academic record and are awarded to both entering and returning students.

Faculty Scholars

All applicants for admission to Pepperdine University School of Law are eligible to apply for the Faculty Scholars award, which is based on merit without regard to financial need. It is recommended that applicants have a minimum undergraduate GPA of 3.4 and an LSAT score in the 92nd percentile. Full tuition plus a $5,000 stipend is awarded to each scholar for the first year of law school, and the scholarship is renewed each year contingent upon the scholar remaining in the top 25% of his/her class. As part of the award, the scholar will be asked to participate in various school functions. Participation will be a factor in your renewal.

The Faculty Scholar application is located in the School of Law viewbook and must accompany a letter responding to the following:
• Describe your strongest qualifications for this award.
• Describe your interest in law as a profession.
• Describe your two most significant extracurricular activities (or honors received) in college.
• Describe your most significant employment experience.
• Describe how any of the above would contribute to or identify with the university’s mission.

The application and letter must be received by January 15 and sent to: Admissions, Pepperdine University School of Law, Malibu, California 90263. To be eligible for consideration, your admission file must also be complete by January 15.
Dean’s Scholarship for First-Year and Transfer Students

Students with an undergraduate GPA of 3.3 or higher and a LSAT score in the 86th percentile are automatically considered for the Dean’s Scholarship. No formal application is required. The amount of the scholarship will vary according to funding level and number of qualified applicants, but typically ranges from one-fourth to full tuition. This only applies to students enrolled in juris doctor classes during the fall and spring semesters.

Dean’s Scholarship for Returning Students

Dean’s Scholarships are renewable contingent upon the student being in the top quarter of the class at the end of the academic year. If the student does not finish in the top quarter, but is in the top third, the scholarship may be reduced. In addition, top students in each class not already receiving merit-based funds may receive awards based upon their law school academic performance.

Diversity Scholarships

A limited number of scholarships are available to students who bring significant diversity to the student body. Diversity encompasses qualities and characteristics, which include, but are not limited to, racial or ethnic origin, unique work or service experience, and/or a history of overcoming disadvantage. The amounts of these scholarships will vary according to funding level and the number of qualified applicants. If you want to be considered for this scholarship, you must submit the Diversity Scholarship Application by March 1. This application is included with the application for admission materials to the School of Law, and may be downloaded from the web site.

President’s Scholarship

The President’s scholarship is awarded to students that are active members of the Church of Christ. You must submit a letter from an Elder of your church stating your active membership. President’s Scholarships are renewable, contingent upon submitting each year a new letter from an Elder at a local Church of Christ.

Pepperdine Law School Grant

The Law Grant gives priority to students with exceptional need. The grant is applied to a student’s account such as; one-half in the fall semester and the balance in the spring semester. Financial aid files that are complete by April 1 for first-year and transfer students and May 1 for returning students and demonstrate financial need are automatically considered for the grant.

The Faculty Scholars, Dean’s, Diversity, President’s, and Law Grant scholarships only apply to students enrolled in juris doctor classes at Pepperdine, counting towards their juris doctor degree, during the fall and spring semesters only. These scholarships are not awarded during the summer session, winter intensive, or if you are visiting another school during the fall and/or spring semesters.

Scholarships from Private Sources

Throughout the academic year, private groups outside the university offer scholarships of various amounts. Such scholarships are announced by the financial assistance office in the Law School Dicta.

The following are restricted scholarships awarded annually to returning students. These awards are based on financial need, merit, and potential for academic and personal achievement.

Associated Women for Pepperdine (AWP) Scholarship

Associated Women for Pepperdine is a group of Church of Christ women who raise funds each year to assist deserving members of the Church of Christ attending Pepperdine University’s Seaver College, Graduate School of Education and Psychology, and School of Law. Recipients are selected on the basis of financial need, merit, character, and church membership.

Armenian Student Scholarship

This scholarship was established by Khajak Kassabian, a 1997 School of Law alumnus, to assist law students of Armenian heritage.

Beck-Pfann Memorial Scholarship

Family members and friends have established this scholarship for second-year students in honor of R. Michael Beck and C. Lori Pfann, who had completed their first year at Pepperdine University School of Law and were engaged to be married at the time of their death in an automobile wreck. This fund assists qualified students through a tuition credit. Community service, academic achievement, financial need, and extracurricular activities will be considered.

Beverly Hills Bar Association Foundation Scholarship

Each year the Beverly Hills Bar Association awards scholarships to deserving and economically disadvantaged students. Application processing and deadlines will be announced in the Law School Dicta.

A. Glenn Braswell Scholarship

This scholarship is funded by A. Glenn Braswell for law students with interest/experience in the health care, pharmaceutical, or nutritional supplements industry and a strong record of character and high ethics.

Margaret Martin Brock Scholarship in Law

The individuals selected each year to receive this scholarship are designated as Margaret Martin Brock Scholars. This scholarship fund was established by the late Mrs. Margaret Martin Brock, nationally recognized civic leader, longtime friend of the university, and a founding member of the law school board of visitors.
Kae and Kay Brockermeyer Endowed Scholarship Fund
This fund was established by Kae and Kay Brockermeyer of Wilson, Wyoming, to assist deserving law students who have an interest in trial advocacy and are residents of the state of Texas.

This scholarship, funded by the late Athalie Irvine Clarke, will provide assistance to qualified law students. Mrs. Clarke was a community leader in Orange County and Los Angeles, and a founding member of the law school board of visitors.

Brian Dane Cleary Memorial Scholarship
Family members and friends have established this annual scholarship to memorialize the life of Brian Dane Cleary, a member of the class of 1991, who died in a car accident eighteen days before graduation. The fundamental goal of this scholarship is to assist a well-rounded student who demonstrates financial need and is in the bottom 75% of his/her class. Belief in God is very important, but religious denomination is not. A personal interview is required.

Hugh and Hazel Darling Foundation Endowed Scholarship
The Darling Foundation has generously supported the School of Law in many important projects as well as this endowed scholarship. The sole trustee of the Foundation, Richard Stack, is a member of the law school board of visitors. The scholarship was established to assist deserving students.

Edward D. Di Loreto-Odell S. McConnell Scholarship
The late Edward D. Di Loreto, a longtime friend of the university and a major influence in Pepperdine’s acquisition of the Orange University College of Law by Pepperdine University in 1969, and the late Odell S. McConnell, founder of the Odell McConnell Law Center, home of Pepperdine University School of Law, established a scholarship to aid deserving students of high scholastic standing who are in need of financial assistance.

Kimberly Dawn Ellis Scholarship Fund
Family members and friends have established this scholarship in memory of this first-year law student, a member of the class of 2000, who died in a car accident during her first semester of law school. Scholarships will be provided to help a first-year Jewish law student.

R. Wayne Estes Endowed Scholarship Fund
This endowed scholarship was established by former students, colleagues, and friends of Professor Emeritus R. Wayne Estes. In addition to being a very popular professor who has taken a great personal interest in the professional careers of his students, Professor Estes has also developed an enviable reputation in the field of arbitration. He served as associate dean of the School of Law during the critical time of its move from Orange County to Malibu. Deserving students receive scholarship assistance from this fund.

Judge McIntyre Faries Scholarship
This scholarship was established by John Herklotz to honor an exceptional California jurist, the late Judge McIntyre Faries, who served on the superior court bench for over twenty years.

Froberg-Suess JD/MBA Scholarship
This scholarship was established by alumni, Jay A. Froberg and Greg Suess, to assist JD/MBA students who have successfully completed at least one semester of law school and one semester of business school. Applicants are required to make a moral pledge to give back to the scholarship fund within five years of the date of graduation from Pepperdine’s JD/MBA program. Each recipient who fulfills this moral pledge will be entitled to have his or her name added to the scholarship fund.

Terry M. Giles Honor Scholar Program
An honor scholar program is provided each year by Pepperdine University School of Law alumnus, Terry M. Giles (class of 1974). The Terry M. Giles Honor Scholar is a third-year student selected on the basis of scholastic achievement, co-curricular and extracurricular activities, personality, and character. A personal interview with the donor is required for this scholarship.

Guy P. Greenwald Jr. Endowed Scholarship Fund
This fund was established to provide scholarships to worthy law students who demonstrate financial need.

Jeannine Gregory Scholarship Fund
Family members and friends have established this scholarship in memory of this first-year law student, a member of the class of 2000, who died in a car accident during her first semester of law school. Scholarships will be provided to help law students with financial need.

Warren and Rosalie Gummow Endowed Scholarship
Rosalie and the late Warren Gummow, strong supporters of Pepperdine University School of Law and parents of Todd A. Gummow, a 1986 School of Law graduate, fund this endowed scholarship for students based on financial need and/or merit.

Mark and Michelle Hiepler Endowed Scholarship Fund
This scholarship, established by Mark (class of 1988) and Michelle (class of 1989) Hiepler, in memory of Nelene Hiepler Fox, provides $1,000 to be divided between the writers of the Best Respondent’s Brief and Best Petitioner’s Brief in the yearly Vincent S. Dalsimer Moot Court Competition. Other scholarships will be awarded taking into consideration need, academic study, community involvement, and health care law interest or health care background.
Fred and Lucille Hirsch Endowed Scholarship
The late Fred and Lucille Hirsch were devoted friends of the School of Law. The scholarship that they funded assists qualified students.

JSR Foundation Endowed School of Law Scholarship
The JSR (Joan Stuart Richard) Foundation has generously provided funding for this endowed scholarship to assist deserving students with financial need.

Woodrow Judkins Endowed Scholarship
The Woodrow Judkins Endowed Scholarship was established in 2003 by the Family Trust of Woodrow Judkins to assist School of Law students. Mr. Judkins was born in Spokane, Washington, and upon his death, he left an equal portion of his estate to Pepperdine University, the University of California in Los Angeles, Purdue University, and Olds High School in Eagle Valley, Canada.

Kerrigan Scholarship Foundation
The scholarship was established by Sharon Kerrigan, a 1992 School of Law alumna, and the Kerrigan Family Charitable Foundation, to assist single-parent mothers at the School of Law.

Krist-Reavley Minority Scholarship
This scholarship has been established by noted trial attorney Ronald D. Krist and his wife, Carole, to assist deserving, ethnically diverse students and to honor U.S. Court of Appeals Fifth Circuit Judge Thomas M. Reavley and his wife, Florence. The Krists’ daughter, Karyn, is a 1993 alumna of the School of Law. Mr. Krist and Judge Reavley are longtime members of the law school board of visitors.

Martha Delman and Milton Arthur Krug Endowed Law Scholarship
The late Martha Delman Krug, a loyal friend of Pepperdine University and a respected leader in the Law Affiliates of Los Angeles, provided funds for this scholarship. Her late husband, Milton Arthur Krug, was a distinguished attorney. Scholarship assistance will be awarded to qualified law students.

Julia Kwan Endowed Scholarship
The Julia Kwan Endowed Scholarship was established with a generous gift by Julia Kwan to assist students with financial need who are pursuing a graduate degree at the School of Law.

Albert J. and Mae Lee Memorial Scholarship
The Albert J. and Mae Lee Memorial Scholarship was established as a gift from the Mae Lee Estate in 2003, and is restricted to students with above average scholastic ability who are in need of financial assistance at the School of Law.
Greg Matthews Memorial Scholarship
This scholarship was established in memory of Greg Matthews through private donations made by his family and friends. Greg was a third-year law student at the time of his death in 1982. Scholarship recipients are chosen on the basis of financial need and/or merit.

Odell S. McConnell Scholarship
The late Odell S. McConnell, a graduate of Yale University and Harvard Law School and a distinguished legal counselor for more than half a century, was the founder of the Odell McConnell Law Center in which Pepperdine University School of Law is housed. He established this scholarship to assist deserving students.

J. McDonald and Judy Williams School of Law Scholarship
This scholarship was established by J. McDonald and Judy Williams to assist Church of Christ students who attend the School of Law.

John Merrick Law Scholarship
Friends of long-time Malibu judge John Merrick have established this fund to honor his extraordinary service to the community, Pepperdine University and its School of Law. Judge Merrick has served on the law school board of visitors and been a member of the adjunct faculty. He is one of Malibu’s most beloved citizens. Preference for this scholarship is given to those with an interest in public service.

Charles I. Nelson Endowed Scholarship Fund
This endowed scholarship fund honoring Professor Emeritus Charles I. Nelson was established by Kae Brockemeyer, a former law school classmate, and his wife, Kay, and by Pepperdine alumni, faculty, and friends. Charles Nelson, the second individual hired as a full-time faculty member at the School of Law, has been a most effective teacher and has served as assistant and associate dean during his tenure. He is currently the interim dean of the law school. Scholarship assistance is awarded to qualified individuals.

Gunnar Nicholson Endowed Scholarship
A restricted fund has been established to provide scholarships to deserving students by the Gunnar Nicholson estate. Mr. Nicholson was a pulp and paper industrialist who was widely recognized as one of the leaders responsible for the southern United States producing nearly seventy percent of the nation’s pulp.

Patti Paniccia Law Scholarship
This scholarship, funded by 1981 alumna Patti Paniccia, is intended to provide assistance to a male or female student who is actively parenting a minor child while in law school.
Phi Delta Phi Scholarship

An annual Phi Delta Phi scholarship auction has been established to fund an annual scholarship award. Criteria for selection of this scholarship include financial need, public service, extracurricular activity, and academic record.

Jamie Phillips Endowed Scholarship Fund

This scholarship was established in memory of Jamie Phillips, wife of School of Law Dean Emeritus Ronald F. Phillips. She played a critical role in the development of the school, constantly at the side of Dean Phillips, and fully engaged in all of the school’s activities. For twenty-six years, she helped define the nature of Pepperdine University School of Law, beginning in 1970, near the time of its birth. She considered the law school community as extended family and worked, entertained, and invested her time, talents, and energy tirelessly in its behalf. This scholarship bearing her name provides funds for deserving students.

John Purfield Endowed Scholarship

The late John Purfield established this scholarship to assist qualified students who have demonstrated academic excellence.

Scott H. Racine Award for Excellence in the Study of Taxation Endowed Fund

The Scott H. Racine Award for Excellence in the Study of Taxation Endowed Fund was established as an award restricted to graduating students of the School of Law with financial need who have excelled in the tax curriculum and are pursuing a career in the practice of tax law. Mr. Racine received his B.A. from Bradley University in 1972 and his J.D., cum laude, in 1978 from the Pepperdine University School of Law, where he was student writing editor of the Pepperdine Law Review. He received his LL.M. in taxation from the New York University School of Law in 1979. This award is to be given to students upon graduation from the School of Law.

Bernard Rudman Memorial Scholarship

This scholarship was established in memory of Bernard Rudman, class of 1985, by his fellow classmates.

Eduard and Lottabelle Salathé Endowed Scholarship

The late Eduard and Lottabelle Salathé were among the School of Law’s most generous and loyal friends. The scholarship bearing their names is for deserving students who meet the qualifications that have been established.

Barbara A. Shacochis Scholarship

The recipient of this scholarship must be a member of the Law Review and is selected by a committee that has been designated by the donor, a 1990 alumna and Pepperdine Law Review editor-in-chief.
The Benjamin G. Shatz Scholarship
The Benjamin G. Shatz Scholarship is awarded annually through the generosity of Benjamin G. Shatz (class of 1992) and assists second- and third-year students at the School of Law.

Wadieh Shibley Memorial Scholarship
This scholarship was established in memory of Wadieh Shibley who was the first full-time professor at Pepperdine University School of Law. It provides funds to qualified students on the basis of financial need and/or merit.

The Honorable Raymond Thompson Endowed Scholarship
The late Raymond H. Thompson, superior court judge and professor emeritus at the law school, is credited with strongly influencing California courtroom procedures and etiquette. This scholarship, established in his memory through private donations made by his family and friends, provides funds to qualified students on the basis of financial need and/or merit. Recipients are selected by the School of Law administration.

Thomas and Glenna Trimble Endowed Scholarship
Tom and Glenna Trimble are longtime friends of the University and church leaders in their community. Mr. Trimble received his J.D. from Vanderbilt University. He is chairman of the university board of regents and is a member of the law school board of visitors. The Trimbles’ son, James, is a 1985 School of Law graduate, and their daughter, Julie, is a 1993 graduate. They have established this restricted scholarship to assist deserving Church of Christ students.

The Brian and Devon White Criminal Defense Scholarship
The scholarship was established by Brian and Devon White to assist practicing Christians who are committed to pursuing a career in criminal defense. A practicing Christian is of a Christian faith, the denomination does not matter—Church of Christ, Methodist, Evangelical, Catholic, etc. The student must actively worship with a congregation and be committed to Christ. A letter from his/her minister or priest should confirm their affiliation with a congregation. The student must be committed to pursuing a career in criminal defense, having a job, a job offer, or internship with a public or federal defender’s office, or private criminal defense practitioner.

Howard A. White Endowed Scholarship
A restricted scholarship program has been established in honor of Howard A. White, president emeritus of Pepperdine University, who was affiliated with the school from 1958 until his death in 1991. Dr. White was a minister for a period of his life and was an active church leader until his death. The Howard A. White Scholarship was established by friends to assist Church of Christ students to attend Pepperdine University’s Seaver College and School of Law.
FEDERAL LOANS

Federal loans are available to students who complete the financial aid application process and meet the posted deadlines. In order for students to be considered for a federal loan they must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) and the Pepperdine Law School Application (LAPP) located on our Web site. Federal loan amounts and types will appear on the student’s Eligibility Notification.

Federal Perkins Loan

The Perkins loan is awarded to students who demonstrate financial need according to the federal formula for needs analysis. The Perkins loan interest rate is fixed at 5%, and the aggregate loan limit for graduate students is $40,000. First-year and transfer students who complete their files by April 1 and returning students by May 1 will be considered for the Perkins loan. The loan amounts are applied to the student’s account in increments of one-half each semester. Repayment begins nine months after graduation or when a student drops below half time. The Perkins loan is subject to the availability of funds and funding levels are subject to change.

Federal Stafford Loan

This subsidized loan program has an annual limit of $8,500. The interest rate is variable, adjusted annually, based on the ninety-one-day T-Bill plus 1.7 percent, and is capped at 8.25 percent. The Stafford loan is subject to origination fees. Stafford loan proceeds are electronically transferred to student accounts one-half each semester. Repayment begins six months after the borrower ceases to be enrolled at least half-time.

Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan

Students who do not demonstrate need for the subsidized Stafford may be eligible for an unsubsidized Stafford loan. The unsubsidized loan has a maximum annual limit of $18,500 minus the amount of the approved subsidized loan. The terms are the same as the Stafford loan, except that the student is responsible for the interest that accrues while he/she is in school. The lifetime aggregate loan limit on the subsidized and unsubsidized Stafford is $138,500.

Federal Consolidation Loans

Students can consolidate their federal loans (Perkins and Stafford) into one repayment package. The interest rate is a weighted average interest rate rounded to the nearest 1/8 capped at 8.25%. Repayment is extended up to thirty years depending on the aggregate amount borrowed.
PRIVATE LOANS

Private loan programs are designed specifically to meet the needs of law school students. The maximum limit is the cost of education less other financial aid received. Borrowers must be credit-worthy. The School of Law cannot be held responsible for students denied funds due to credit problems. The in-school interest rate is variable. The after-school interest rate varies according to lender. Repayment begins nine months after graduation. A maximum repayment period of fifteen to twenty years is available and subject to additional fees.

ALTERNATIVE LOANS

Pepperdine University School of Law Loan

The Pepperdine University School of Law provides minimal loans to students with exceptional need only in extreme cases. The loan bears an interest rate of eight percent. Repayment begins six months after graduation with a minimum monthly payment of $50. This loan is subject to the availability of funding.

Hiram Kwan Emergency Student Loan

This fund was established to assist students with short-term financial needs. Students are encouraged to contact the financial assistance office whenever they face financial difficulty. Short-term emergency loans are available for financial emergencies. Financial emergencies are unexpected expenses not included as standard budget items in the Cost of Attendance. The first month is interest free with eighteen percent annual interest charged thereafter. A late fee will be assessed and eighteen percent will continue to accrue until the loan is paid in full. Applications must be approved by the Office of Financial Assistance and Student Accounts.

OTHER FINANCIAL AID SOURCES

Research Fellowships for All Students

A limited number of research assistants will be chosen to assist faculty in research or legal writing instruction.
Federal Work-Study Program (FWS)

The School of Law participates in this federal program, which is designed to promote the part-time employment of students with great financial need, who require earnings from such employment to pursue courses of legal study. Work study jobs are intended to complement a student’s educational program. Wages earned are considered part of the student’s financial aid package. You must complete the financial aid application process in order to be considered for FWS. Interested second-year and third-year students need to inquire in the Office of Financial Assistance.

Student Exchange Program (WICHE)

The School of Law participates in the Student Exchange Program, administered by the Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education, under which legal residents of western states without a law school are entitled to a reduction of tuition at Pepperdine. To be certified as eligible for this program, juris doctorate students must write to the WICHE certifying officer in their home state for application forms. State eligibility requirements vary, and the number of students funded by each state depends upon the level of appropriation by the state legislature. For addresses of certifying officers, write to the Director, Student Exchange Programs, Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education, P.O. Drawer P, Boulder, CO 80301-9752, or call (303) 541-0200.

VETERANS INFORMATION

Information regarding aid from the state of California (CVEI) may be obtained from the State Department of Veterans Affairs, 70 Capitol Avenue, Sacramento, CA 95822.

General Information

For additional information regarding the financial aid process please visit our Web site at law.pepperdine.edu or contact the Office of Financial Assistance at 310-506-4633.
Regulations

RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

It is the intention of the university to adhere to the rules, regulations, policies, notices, financial charges, and other statements and conditions announced in this catalog, or in other publications. Nevertheless, the university reserves the right to modify the requirements for admission or graduation, to change the curriculum, to make and alter rules and regulations concerning the student body, to vary the tuition, fees, and manner of payment, or to make other desirable or necessary changes.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Students are expected to read and comply with notices and bulletins posted on the bulletin boards maintained by the administration of the School of Law, as well as the contents of the latest School of Law catalog, student handbook, and academic policy statement. The administration publishes via email a weekly newsletter, the Law School Dicta, which contains important notices and news.

USE OF THE NAME OF PEPPERDINE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

Students in the School of Law, either individually or collectively, shall not, without the written consent of the proper authorities, use the name of Pepperdine University or the School of Law in connection with any activity of any kind outside of the regular work of the school. Violation of this rule may result in disciplinary sanctions.

UNIVERSITY STUDENT CONDUCT POLICY

Pepperdine University expects from all of its students the highest standard of moral and ethical behavior in harmony with its Christian philosophy and purposes. Engaging in or promoting conduct or lifestyles inconsistent with traditional Christian values is not acceptable.

All students of the School of Law owe a continuing duty to report in writing to the dean of the School of Law any conviction, guilty plea, or plea of nolo contendere (no contest to the charge), except regarding minor traffic offenses. The report must be made within fourteen days of the conviction or plea. The university reserves the right to dismiss a student, after reasonable notice and an opportunity to be heard, who has been convicted or pled guilty or nolo contendere to an offense other than a minor traffic violation, or who fails to notify the School of Law of a conviction or plea as described above.

STUDENT CODE OF CONDUCT

Violations of school policies and regulations, or conduct adverse to the best interest of the school, including the school’s reputation in its pursuit for academic and moral excellence, or to other students, may lead to suspension, dismissal, withholding the granting of a degree, or other disciplinary measures. Students who are disciplined for violating the school’s code of conduct may be subjected to a hearing to determine the student’s continued eligibility to receive financial aid, pursuant to the university’s written policy on this issue, which can be obtained from the financial assistance office.

The university expects from all of its students and employees the highest standard of moral and ethical behavior in harmony with its Christian philosophy and purposes. Engaging in or promoting conduct or lifestyles inconsistent with traditional Christian values is not acceptable. Students should refer to the School of Law Student Handbook for a more detailed explanation of the code of conduct and potential discipline thereunder. Also included in the School of Law Student Handbook is the substance abuse policy.

ACADEMIC HONOR CODE

The School of Law has adopted an Academic Honor Code and enforcement procedures. While the ultimate decision in any disciplinary matter is reserved for the School of Law administration, great weight is given to findings and recommendations of the Student Honor Board in its disposition of alleged Academic Honor Code violations. Copies of the Academic Honor Code are made available to all students in the School of Law Student Handbook.

HEALTH INSURANCE REQUIREMENT

All graduate students are required to carry health insurance. If you do not have private medical insurance, the University offers an affordable injury and sickness policy that is underwritten by the Mega Life and Health Insurance Company. Enrollment is open at the beginning of each trimester. All international students are required to purchase the group insurance by Mega Life if their out-of-country policy does not cover them in the United States.

The Mega Life group policy assists in meeting not only common illnesses, but also the financial burden of illness and accidents involving care beyond that available in the Student Health Center. Enrollment forms are available from the Student Health Center and One Stop on the Malibu campus and at each education center.

For information regarding student health insurance contact the Student Health Insurance Coordinator at (310) 506-4830 or studentinsurance@pepperdine.edu. To view or print the insurance brochure and/or enrollment form go to: studentresources.net.
Student Life

STUDENT BAR ASSOCIATION

All juris doctorate students are automatically members of the Student Bar Association. The officers of the Student Bar are elected by the student body. The Student Bar serves the student body by sponsoring social and educational functions during the year and by representing the students in matters involving the school administration. The Student Bar also establishes and maintains relations with the local bar associations in order to foster extracurricular activities that will help the individual student to develop socially and professionally in the community.

LAW REVIEW

The Pepperdine University Law Review is a legal journal edited and published by School of Law students selected on the basis of scholarship and/or the ability to do creative research and writing. The students write comments and notes on legal developments and significant cases, as well as edit the lead articles and book reviews written by teachers, lawyers, judges, legislators, and other scholars. Membership on the Law Review staff is recognized as both an honor and a unique educational experience. Invitations for law review participation are extended to second-year students who ranked academically in the top ten percent of their first-year class. Additional students are admitted by a “write-on” competition, open to second-year students who ranked academically in the top fifty percent of their first-year class.

DISPUTE RESOLUTION LAW JOURNAL

The Dispute Resolution Law Journal is published semi-annually, and provides practitioners and academics with an insightful perspective on the rapidly developing dispute resolution field. The journal features scholastic contributions similar to those found in traditional law reviews, as well as material written from the dispute resolution practitioner’s perspective. Law students are selected on the basis of scholarship and/or the ability to do creative research and writing in the field of dispute resolution.

NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF ADMINISTRATIVE LAW JUDGES JOURNAL

In collaboration with the National Association of Administrative Law Judges, the law school semi-annually publishes the National Association of Administrative Law Judges Journal. This journal is recognized as the finest and most scholarly publication exclusively focusing on developments affecting the administrative judiciary. A student staff works with a faculty editor in publishing the journal. Students are selected on the basis of scholarship and/or the ability to do creative research and writing in the field of administrative law.
MOOT COURT

Pepperdine has achieved a national reputation for excellence in training students to be advocates. During the first year, students participate in an appellate advocacy experience requiring the writing of a brief and presentation of oral argument. Upper division students compete for positions on teams that Pepperdine fields for interschool appellate and trial advocacy competitions. These competitions include the National Moot Court Competition, the Robert Wagner Labor Law Competition; Rendigs Products Liability Competition, Stetson International Environmental Law Competition, the ATLA Trial Competition, the National Trial Competition, and the San Diego Consumer Attorneys Trial Competition.

The Vincent S. Dalsimer Moot Court Competition has been the school’s upper division intramural competition for thirty years. Each year prominent legal figures preside as judges over the final round.

Each November the Moot Court Board hosts the National Entertainment Law Moot Court Competition. Teams from law schools across the nation compete in this national competition.

The moot court program is administered by the Moot Court Board, composed of second- and third-year students with experience in moot court competitions. Board membership is an honor and a demanding responsibility.

HONOR BOARD

The Honor Board, comprised of law students, has the responsibility of enforcing the School of Law Academic Honor Code. Only those students demonstrating the highest integrity and ethical concerns are considered for placement on the board. With faculty and administrative approval, new Honor Board members are selected by current Honor Board members.

NATIONAL STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Several national legal fraternities and other student organizations have local chapters on the campus.

STUDENT MEMBERSHIP IN LOCAL BAR ASSOCIATIONS

Law students in their last year of school are eligible to become student members in local bar associations. This enables the student to make valuable contacts with practicing members of the profession and benefit from the associations’ activities.

LAW STUDENT DIVISION-AMERICAN BAR ASSOCIATION

Students are encouraged to apply for membership in the Law Student Division of the American Bar Association.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT OFFICE

The School of Law maintains a Career Development Office (CDO) to provide students, new graduates, and alumni with a variety of services related to employment. These include providing information and resources, career and job search advice and support, and access to the job clearinghouse services of the CDO. Finally, the CDO provides the comprehensive benefits of an aggressive and systematically conducted marketing effort, designed to develop jobs and enhance the responsiveness of employers to the Pepperdine law graduate.

Law firms, corporations, government agencies and others involved in hiring legally trained individuals are invited to participate in Pepperdine’s fall and spring on-campus interview programs. Each year employers are increasingly responsive to the progress at Pepperdine.

The following is a partial list of legal employers who have participated in the program:
The CDO functions as a broker for information with resources, periodicals, directories, and trends in the profession. Information is a necessary component to an effective job search and a satisfying career path.

The CDO's staff provides advice on all career-related and job search activities, including resumes, cover letters, videotaped mock interviews, salary negotiation, and planning a career sequence. Advising is offered one-to-one, in specially written materials and in regularly scheduled workshops. Advising begins November 1 of the first year of law school.

Finally, the CDO is a clearinghouse for job listings for positions during law school, summers, and post-graduation. These are the backbone of the employment services, and the CDO actively pursues these jobs throughout the year. In the last year, over 800 listings were processed.

Communication between the CDO and law students is facilitated by a weekly email newsletter that describes programs, deadlines for interviewing firms, speakers, workshops, and lists the most current law clerking jobs.

In short, the CDO assists the transition of Pepperdine law students to the workplace by developing employment leads, establishing on-going relationships with employers, maintaining a steady flow of pertinent information, and talking to students about their career plans.
PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The innovative School of Law Professional Development Program is designed to ensure that Pepperdine students develop exceptional career development skills. In addition to a large number of optional services, the development program requires the following:

- attending the career development workshop series in the first year of law school;
- meeting with a designated representative of the Career Development Office (CDO) at least once during each year of law school; and
- fulfilling a cumulative 120 hour legal experience requirement, which can be met through pro bono work, work in a law office, completion of a Pepperdine legal clinic or an externship.

Satisfactory completion of the requirements of the School of Law Professional Development Program is necessary for graduation starting with the Class of 2006.

BOOKSTORE

A bookstore, operated by Follett College Stores and maintained on campus, sells books and other materials related to the study of law.

CAFETERIA

Food and beverages are provided for sale through Sodexho Food Services in the Edward and Jill Di Loreto Dining Room and from vending machines.

HOUSING

A limited number of students can be housed in the George Page School of Law apartment complex. Information on securing a room assignment and a list of rules and regulations for student housing can be obtained by contacting the Residential Life Office, Pepperdine University, Malibu, CA 90263 (310) 506-4104.

SUPPORT GROUPS

Amicus Pepperdine and Law School Associates are support groups composed of a growing number of individuals who are interested in the continued advancement of the School of Law. Their contributions aid in funding scholarships.

Graduates of the School of Law become members of the University Alumni Association and have an opportunity to take part in alumni activities.
STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Pepperdine University is committed to complying with all mandates set forth in Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act and the Americans with Disabilities Act. Students with disabilities requesting accommodations should contact the University’s Disability Services Office (DSO) before the academic program begins. Upon verification of the student’s disability, the DSO will work with each student and the School of Law on a case-by-case basis to determine appropriate accommodations and maintain academic integrity of the courses.

Inquiries should be directed to Lauren Joyce, Director of Disability Services at (310) 506-6500. Please visit the DSO Web site at pepperdine.edu/disabilityservices/ for further information.

Juris Doctorate Requirements

The juris doctorate will be conferred after completion of the following requirements:

• timely filing with the School of Law Records Office of formal application to graduate;

• satisfactory completion of required and elective courses comprising eighty-eight units;

• satisfactory completion of the School of Law Professional Development Program (see description under “Services for Students, Career Development, page 116).

• satisfactory completion of the upper division writing requirement (see Academic Policy Statement, section 14.12);

• satisfactory completion of the residence study requirements of the American Bar Association and the State Bar of California (see Academic Policies below);

• recommendation of the faculty; and

• participation in the School of Law’s graduation ceremony.

The top 2% of the graduating class will graduate summa cum laude, the next 5% will graduate magna cum laude, and the next 18% will graduate cum laude.

Academic Policies

ACADEMIC STANDARDS POLICY

A more complete statement of academic policy is found in the School of Law’s Academic Policy Statement, which is included in the School of Law Student Handbook located at: http://law.pepperdine.edu/current/policies/student_handbook/. All students should familiarize themselves with the full policy statement. The following is a summary of some of the more significant provisions.

ACADEMIC ENROLLMENT

Three calendar years is the maximum time students may take to earn their degrees without written permission from the associate dean for academics, although the three years need not be consecutive. All students are required to carry at least twenty-six units during any twelve-month period. Students must complete at least twelve semester hours of credit per semester except during the second semester of the third year if a lesser number will qualify them for graduation. Students must obtain permission from the associate dean for academics to take more than sixteen units in a single semester. A student may take as many as seventeen units in a single semester, but no more than thirty-two units in the fall and spring semesters combined.
ABA RESIDENCY STUDY REQUIREMENTS

The American Bar Association requires that a graduate be a full-time student for ninety weeks. A student enrolled in ten or more units for six of the School of Law’s fourteen-week semesters satisfies the residency requirement. Proportional residency credit is given for courses outside the regular semester periods, except that enrollment as a full-time student for five regular semesters is required.

EARLY GRADUATION

A student may graduate in fewer than three years if sufficient residency credits are earned. Any student planning to graduate early should consult with the associate dean for academics prior to the end of the first year.

PROGRAM OF CLASSES

The course of study consists of three years during which the student attends classes five days per week. A summer program is offered with classes primarily offered in the evening. A winter intensive program is offered during the winter break. Other one- and two-week format courses are offered between the spring and fall semesters.

STUDY ABROAD PROGRAMS

A student may participate in all of the study abroad programs (summer and fall London Programs, the Straus Institute Programs in London/Geneva and Hong Kong/Beijing and the exchange programs with the University of Augsburg and the University of Copenhagen) as long as the student does not exceed thirty units in study abroad programs. Units which are taken in study abroad programs at other law schools also count toward the thirty unit maximum.

WITHDRAWAL FROM CLASSES

Students may add or drop a course up to the end of the second week of classes without approval. Changes after that time require the approval of the associate dean for academics and may result in a notation of “W” on the student’s transcript. Students who withdraw from a class without notifying the records office and without completing the required documents may receive the grade of “fail” for the course.

WITHDRAWAL FROM THE SCHOOL OF LAW

Any student wishing to withdraw or request a leave of absence from the School of Law must complete the appropriate withdrawal forms provided by the records office, and must arrange for a conference with the associate dean for academics, to discuss the withdrawal or obtain approval for a leave of absence.
TRANSFER TO OTHER UNIVERSITIES

If a student plans to transfer to another university in order to graduate from that university, the student will need a letter of good standing and a transcript. The student should request in writing a letter of good standing from the associate dean for academics. The form for requesting transcripts is available in the records office.

Pepperdine will not grant permission for its students to take their second or third year at another law school and receive a degree from Pepperdine. Upon written request, permission may be granted to attend summer school at another ABA-approved school.

EXAMINATIONS

As is customary in law schools, grading is based largely on the final examination in each course, except for skills training courses and courses which require substantial research and writing. Final examinations are graded anonymously, with students using examination numbers instead of names on their bluebooks. Midterm examinations may be given in any course. Professors have discretion to make a small adjustment to the final grade based on factors which include, but are not limited to, quality of preparation and recitation, attendance, and willingness to participate in discussion.

The law school permits students to take the essay portions of final examinations on student laptop computers. The software program for the taking of such examinations is provided by the school. With the exception of take-home examinations, students may not take examinations on laptop computers using any program other than the proprietary program approved by the school. Students should be aware that the program is currently unavailable for MacIntosh computers.

CLASS ATTENDANCE, ACADEMIC PROBATION, AND DISMISSAL

Regular attendance is required in all courses. Students will be dismissed from courses for excessive absences. A student dropped from more than one course for non-attendance will be dismissed from the School of Law.
A student with a cumulative average below 72 after the spring semester will be academically dismissed unless the faculty grants a petition to be permitted to continue on probation. A student must maintain a yearly average of 72 or above, and a cumulative academic average of 72 or above at the end of each academic year in order to remain in good academic standing. Dismissals will occur when a student’s grade point average in any academic year is less than a 72 unless the faculty grants a petition to be permitted to continue on probation.

PORTABLE COMPUTER USAGE IN THE CLASSROOM

To maintain an atmosphere conducive to learning in the classroom and to avoid distraction to others, the faculty has adopted the following principles of good practice regarding the use of portable computers in the classroom:

- Only portable or notebook computers may be used in the classroom. Use of modems or printers in the classroom is prohibited.
- In purchasing portable computers, students should make sure that the keyboard is one which does not “click” when the keys are depressed. If other students complain, computers that make excessive noise may be excluded from the classroom.
- Classrooms C, D, E, F, and G are equipped with power outlets for each seat. Students are encouraged to use these outlets for their computers. Students should purchase an extra battery so that power can be replaced if the installed battery is depleted.
- Computers should be set so that no audible signal is heard (e.g., when the battery is low).
- Software should be installed so that there is no sound when the software is “booted up” or used.
- In any situation in which the use of a computer or computers causes a disruption in the classroom, the professor may require that such usage be discontinued.

INFORMATION FOR VETERANS

Veterans, members of the armed services, and qualified dependents who desire counseling regarding VA benefits should contact the records office. Necessary forms are available there. Students intending to use VA benefits should be aware of the following policies:

1. It is the students’ responsibility to notify the records office immediately when they increase or decrease their unit load, withdraw, or take a leave of absence. Students must inform the representative each semester regarding the number of units in which they are enrolled.
2. It is the students’ responsibility to pay their own tuition. The VA considers its payments to be a reimbursement rather than a subsidy. Certification is done in the fall semester after completion of registration. It usually takes six to eight weeks from the time a student’s papers are processed by the records office until a check is received. The initial check would be expected about October 10–15, including payment for all classes through September.

3. Appropriate credits for previous education will be granted.

4. All students using VA benefits must make satisfactory progress toward their educational objectives. In general, unsatisfactory progress for veterans’ benefits will result should a student fail to maintain a grade point average of 72 for any academic year or cumulatively. Students who withdraw from the School of Law may have their benefits terminated as of the beginning of the semester of withdrawal. If a student is dismissed for academic reasons, benefits will be terminated as of the date of dismissal. A student whose benefits have been terminated in this manner is not automatically entitled to restoration of benefits, but must await a determination by the Veterans Administration. Students who fail to complete all courses attempted will have their benefits adjusted.

5. Students who drop a course (or courses) during a period of enrollment will have their benefits adjusted accordingly, effective as of the beginning of the enrollment period, except in extenuating circumstances. Should a student not return for the succeeding semester, benefits will be terminated on the ending dates for the previous enrollment period.

6. All students, including those receiving VA benefits, will receive official grade reports at the end of each semester. These grade reports include all course work attempted, units completed, and grades earned for the term. The cumulative and semester grade point averages are also listed for the student’s information. All academic credit is made a part of the student’s permanent file located at the office of the director of student records. Students wishing to review their academic progress records may do so by presenting proper identification in person to the director of student records.

ADDITIONAL RULES

A student who takes any state bar examination before graduation from the School of Law without first obtaining written permission from the dean will be subject to expulsion.

Students are not permitted to attend classes for which they are not officially enrolled without written approval from the dean.

Students enrolled in the School of Law may audit an elective course upon payment of the auditor’s fee, if any, established by the School of Law.

All academic matters requiring the decision or approval of the dean may in the alternative be decided or approved by the associate dean for academics.
Academic Awards and Honors for Juris Doctor Students

CENTER FOR COMPUTER-ASSISTED LEGAL INSTRUCTIONS (CALI) AWARD

The Center for Computer-Assisted Legal Instruction (CALI) will award a certificate to the student achieving the highest grade in each law class.

WITKIN AWARD FOR ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

The Witkin Legal Institute at West Group awards a certificate to the top student in certain designated courses.

DEAN’S HONOR LIST

Students whose semester averages are 80 or above and who are in the upper fifteen percent of their class will be placed on the Dean’s Honor List. Students must be enrolled for a minimum of nine graded units in a semester in order to qualify for the Dean’s Honor List. The Dean’s Honor List will be compiled and published for each semester.

THE ORDER OF THE BARRISTERS

The Order of the Barristers is a national honorary society that recognizes graduating law students who have excelled in moot court, mock trial, and other advocacy programs. The School of Law administration nominates qualified students for membership.
Legal Notices

Students and prospective students should read this catalog carefully. The catalog, along with other published bulletins and student handbooks, describes student rights and duties with respect to the university. Enrollment constitutes an agreement by the student to abide by the rules, regulations, and policies of Pepperdine University.

All students of the School of Law owe a continuing duty to report in writing to the dean of the School of Law any conviction, guilty plea, or plea of nolo contendere (no contest to the charge), except regarding minor traffic offenses. The report must be made within fourteen days of the conviction or plea. The university reserves the right to dismiss a student, after reasonable notice and an opportunity to be heard, who has been convicted or pled guilty or nolo contendere to an offense other than a minor traffic violation, or who fails to notify the School of Law of a conviction or plea as described above.

PROVISIONS SUBJECT TO CHANGE

The provisions of this catalog, including rules of conduct, academic offerings, and all charges, are subject to change by Pepperdine University. It is anticipated that costs will increase in future years due to inflation, strengthened academic and extracurricular offerings, or other factors.

APPLICABILITY OF CATALOG PROVISIONS

The academic offerings and policies in this catalog are applicable only to students who enroll prior to the 2005 fall semester and who attend Pepperdine University after August 1, 2004.

ADMISSION CONTINGENT UPON TRUTHFULNESS

Applicants are advised that the university’s decision to admit them is contingent upon the truthfulness of the information contained in the application files submitted by the applicant and/or persons in the applicant’s behalf, including letters of recommendation. Discovery of false information subsequent to admission is, at the university’s discretion, grounds for withdrawal of the offer of admission or for immediate dismissal at any point in the student’s course of study. Such dismissal shall result in forfeiture of all charges paid and academic credits earned.

NONDISCRIMINATION POLICY

Pepperdine University does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of any status or condition protected by applicable federal or state law in administration of its educational policies, admissions, financial aid, employment, educational programs, or activities.

The School of Law does not discriminate against any person on the basis of any sexual orientation which such person may have. However, sexual conduct outside of marriage is inconsistent with the school’s religious traditions and values. Therefore, as a matter of moral and faith witness, the faculty, staff, and students of the School of Law are expected to avoid such conduct themselves and the encouraging of it in others.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT POLICY

Pepperdine University reaffirms the principle that its students, faculty, and staff have a right to be free from sex discrimination in the form of sexual harassment by any member of the university community.

Sexual harassment is defined as an attempt to coerce an unwilling person into a sexual relationship, or to subject a person to unwanted sexual attention, or to punish a refusal to comply; or to create a sexually intimidating, hostile, or offensive working, living, or educational environment. This definition will be interpreted and applied in a manner consistent with accepted standards of mature behavior, academic freedom, and the mission of the university.

The University Equal Opportunity Director is responsible for the coordination of nondiscrimination efforts and the monitoring of employee and student complaints alleging discrimination. The Equal Opportunity Office is located in the Charles B. Thornton Administrative Center at Malibu; the telephone number is (310) 506-4208. Grievances should be directed to the dean’s office and complainants are encouraged to exhaust institutional procedures before seeking relief outside the university.

STUDENT RECORDS POLICY

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, also known as the Buckley Amendment or FERPA, provides, generally, that (1) students shall have the right of access to their educational records, and (2) educational institutions shall not release educational records to non-school employees without consent of the student. “Students” as used in this notice includes former students, but does not include applicants who have not attended Pepperdine University.

Right of Access

With a few exceptions provided by law, students at Pepperdine University may see any of their educational records upon request. Access must be granted no later than forty-five working days after written request. Students further have the right, under established procedures, to challenge the factual accuracy of the records and to enter their viewpoints in the records.

Students may waive their right of access to recommendations and evaluations in the cases of admissions, applications for employment, and nominations for awards. Pepperdine University may not require students to sign a waiver of their right of access to their records, but students and prospective students should be aware that users of recommendations and evaluations made without a signed waiver may discount their helpfulness and validity.

Disclosure of Student Records

With several exceptions provided by law, Pepperdine University cannot release personally identifiable information from the educational records of students to prospective employers, government agencies, credit bureaus, etc., without the written consent of the student. Students and alumni applying for jobs, credit, graduate school, etc., can expedite their applications by providing the university with written permission to release their records, specifying which records and to whom the release should be made. The student’s written consent is not required for the disclosure of grades, disciplinary action, or other information to parents of students who are dependents for federal income tax purposes. Parents requesting information may generally be granted access after submission to the university of an affidavit or other evidence of federal income tax dependency.
The university has designated the following categories of information as directory information, which may be released to the public without consent of the student: student’s name, address, telephone number, major field of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, weight and height of members of athletic teams, dates of attendance, degrees and awards received, and the most recent previous public or private school attended by the student.

Students may request that certain categories of directory information not be released to the public without their written consent. Such requests shall be submitted in accordance with the student records policy of the university.

Further Information

This notice is not intended to be fully explanatory of student rights under FERPA or California law. The student records coordinating office maintains copies of the official Pepperdine University Student Records Policy, which contains detailed information and procedures regarding these rights. Students may obtain a copy of that written policy upon request to this office:

Upper Division Required Courses for the Juris Doctorate

Law 733. Constitutional Law–Federal and State Power Relationships (2)

The role of the judiciary in the federal government, including jurisdiction of courts, cases and controversies, and standing of parties. The distribution of federal power among the coordinate branches of the federal government, and the division of power between the federal and state governments.

Law 742. Constitutional Law–Individual Rights and Liberties (3)

The concepts of due process and equal protection as they affect the relationship between government and the people. The right of free speech and freedom of religion, and the prohibition of government establishment of religion.

Law 803. Corporations (3)

A study of the basic principles of the legal concept of the corporate entity, including the theory and practice of corporate structure and distribution of powers and duties among shareholders, directors, and officers.

Law 904. Evidence (4) (also offered in London)

The admission and exclusion of evidence, and the basis in logic or policy for the rules. The course aids the student in the evaluation of factual situations in order to determine what evidence would be properly receivable in a trial. The allocation of the burdens of persuasion and of producing evidence, and the effect of presumptions are examined.

Law 814. Federal Income Taxation (3–4)

A study of the individual nonbusiness taxpayer, characteristics of income, inclusions and exclusions, personal deductions, exemptions and credits, sales and other dispositions of property, capital gains and losses. A study of the gross income and deductions of the business taxpayer, including expenses and losses incurred in business or profit seeking activities, bad debts and worthless securities, depreciation, amortization, investment credit, and depletion.

One Professional Responsibility (Ethics) Course Chosen from the Following Five Courses:

Law 2614. Ethical Lawyering (2-3)

A survey course exploring the lawyer’s ethical responsibilities and the general principles of law governing the legal profession. Focuses on the ABA Model Rule of Professional Conduct, including the lawyer’s duties as an officer of the court, the lawyer’s duties to the client, and the lawyer’s duties to third parties. Includes discussions of the interplay of law, ethics, and morality, and the concept of law as a profession.
Law 2616. Ethical Criminal Practice (2-3)

Focuses on the ethical responsibilities of prosecutors and criminal defense lawyers, including examination of the following topics in the context of criminal practice: respective autonomy of the attorney and client; the duty of confidentiality and its limits; conflicts of interests; and ethical responsibilities in the investigation and trial of criminal cases.

Law 2618. Ethics of Public Interest Lawyering (2-3)

Focuses on the ethical responsibilities of public interest lawyers, including examination of the following topics in the context of civil public service practice: “justice” as a goal in the lawyer’s work; representation of a client with mental health disabilities or a child; the government attorney’s duties of zealousness and confidentiality.

Law 2620. Ethical Corporate Practice (2-3)

Focuses on the role of the lawyer in negotiating corporate and business transactions and in litigation disputes on behalf of corporate and business entities. Topics include: independence of in-house counsel; duties of confidentiality and loyalty in the context of corporate and business entities; avoidance of conflicts in merger and acquisition transactions; and ethical obligations relating to whistleblowing and exposure of corporate misconduct.

Law 2622. Faith, Morality, and Legal Practice (2-3)

Focuses on the question of “how shall I be an effective lawyer and remain consistent with my ethical, moral and religious values?” Explores general issues of morality of legal practice through the perspective of religious traditions and value systems. Topics may include: ethical, moral and practical challenges of modern legal practice; compatibility of law, morality and religion; potential frameworks for integrating legal specific scenarios in which the work of a lawyer may conflict with religious and personal notions of morality.

Law 723. Remedies (3)

The impact of traditional equity jurisdiction on U.S. legal systems; a study of the maxims of equity; an analysis of the forms of equitable relief, including injunction, constructive trusts, equitable relief for breach of trust, failure to perform fiduciary duties, fraud, duress, and mistake; quasi-contracts, rescission, reformation, and specific performance of contracts; rights of vendors and purchasers, including equitable conversion, unfair competition, abatement of nuisances, and declaratory judgments.

Law 824. Wills and Trusts (3–4)

An examination of the family wealth transmission process including intestate succession; creation, execution, alteration, and revocation of wills and trusts; rules relating to interpretation and construction; examination of uses and functions of charitable, resulting, and constructive trusts, and the Rule Against Perpetuities.
Elective Courses

Law 222. Accounting For Lawyers (2)
A study of the basic principles, conventions, and methods of accounting to help lawyers understand the economic environment in which they function, with specific reference to the accounting problems encountered in such courses as Taxation and Corporations. This course is for students without a substantial foundation in accounting.

Law 872. Administrative Law (3)
The organization, authority, and procedures of administrative agencies in rule-making and adjudication; and judicial review of administrative rulings and decisions.

Law 1400. Advanced Criminal Procedure (2)
A study of the phases of criminal prosecution, including pretrial and trial issues, sentencing, and posttrial remedies. Specific subject areas may include prosecutorial discretion, grand jury proceedings, discovery, presumption of innocence, and prosecutorial misconduct. Special attention will be paid to the distinctive ethical and strategic problems faced by prosecutors and defense counsel.

Law 1432. Advanced Family Law (2)
Studies the application of legal principles and practice techniques to issues facing the attorney in the handling of family law cases including child custody, evaluation of assets and good will, how to choose and use expert witnesses, discovery techniques, enforcement of premarital agreements, settlement negotiations, and attorney fees.

Law 2012. Advanced Legal Research (2)
A continuation of the research program begun during the first-year required course, Legal Research and Writing. The class will examine the theoretical principles of information retrieval, the historical development of legal publishing, and practical techniques and strategies of research. Students will acquire skills in traditional and computer-aided legal research that will prove invaluable when writing seminar papers, working on law review writing projects, or writing briefs and memoranda in law offices. The major project of the course will be a critical research guide to bibliographic and non-bibliographic resources in a specific legal subject area.

Law 2111. Advanced Legal Writing Workshop (1)
This course is designed to refine students’ legal writing technique. Students review basic writing principles and write seven short closed legal memos. The course meets every other week for two-hour sessions during which students critique each other’s memos. Enrollment is limited to twelve students, and students must write a one to two page memo on why they want to take the course to be considered for enrollment. The memo should be submitted to the professor before registering for the course.

Law 1522. Advanced Mediation (2)

Advanced Mediation is a continuation of the basic mediation course. It assumes an understanding of the mediation process on which it is based, but it goes beyond the basics to provide in-depth examination of important issues in mediation practice such as convening the mediation process, multi-party mediation, mediator bias, mediator ethics, and mediator qualifications. In addition, the course provides substantial advanced skills development through the use of experiential exercises and practice mediations.

Law 1442. Advanced Securities Regulations (2)

This course examines the federal securities laws governing investment advisers, investment companies, broker-dealer fraud, tender offers, insider trading, and regulation of the securities markets.

Law 404. Advanced Trial Practice (2)

An advanced study of the trial skills used by counsel at trial, including the direct and cross examination of lay and expert witnesses, voir dire, opening statement, closing argument, the use of exhibits, and ethical considerations. The class will emphasize “learning by doing”—students will actively participate in classroom exercises and will be critiqued. The class will build on those skills learned in Trial Practice. All students will be required to complete a full trial. Prerequisite: Law 402 Trial Practice.

Law 2192. Advanced Torts Seminar (2)

This course will cover the moral and ethical foundation of tort law and its proper role in America today. The course will explore some current tort issues such as wrongful life, wrongful birth, duties to the unborn, duty to rescue, tort liability for sexual misconduct, child abuse and harassment, professional liability, police torts, government liability, privacy protection, and automobile accident compensation.

Law 1392. Alternative Dispute Resolution Processes (2)

Focuses on the non-litigation processes of dispute resolution and their relationship to traditional litigation. The course involves the study of negotiation, mediation, mini-trials, private judges and special masters, court-annexed and private arbitration, as well as court related settlement options, such as panel evaluations, settlement conferences, and summary jury trials.

Law 232. Antitrust (2 or 3)

A survey of Antitrust laws, enforcement by FTC and Antitrust Division of Department of Justice, and private litigation.
Law 1672. Arbitration (2)
An introduction to the law of arbitration, including the enforcement of agreements and awards, and the conduct of the arbitral proceeding, with particular emphasis on domestic commercial and/or labor disputes.

Law 1632. Arbitration Practice (2)
This course is designed to introduce students to the process of arbitration with an emphasis on the skills necessary for the process to function well. The many applications of arbitration including its use in labor, medical malpractice, construction, securities, and civil disputes are explored. Hearing procedures are examined and students participate in exercises as advocates and arbitrators. Topics such as the scope of judicial review, the enforcement of arbitration awards, and the application of the arbitration process to the public and private sectors are included.

Law 1523. Business Planning (3)
Advanced study of corporate organization, capitalization, merger and acquisition, reorganization, and dissolution with emphasis on financial and tax planning. Prerequisites: Law 803 Corporations, Law 814 Federal Income Taxation.

Law 1592. Business Reorganizations in Bankruptcy (2 or 3)
This course is a study of the process of Chapter 11 business reorganizations in bankruptcy from both the legal and business standpoints. The course will consider (1) the causes and prediction of business failures, (2) the decision to seek protection under the bankruptcy laws or to use alternative methods for resolving the financial problems, (3) the permissible purposes for which Chapter 11 reorganizations may be used, (4) the operation of the business during the reorganization, (5) the negotiation and confirmation of the plan of reorganization, (6) the rights of creditors and shareholders in the reorganization, (7) the powers of the debtor in possession, (8) valuation of the business, and (9) related tax and financial reporting issues.

Law 2572. Christian Perspectives on Law (3)
Christians historically have had widely differing views of law (ranging from disdain to devotion). This seminar will explore that range of views and wrestle with whether the Christian faith has anything special to say about what the law should be. It will explore Christian perspectives on a variety of legal topics, as well as the schools of legal thought that dominate legal education today.

Law 1733. Civil Rights (3)
This course focuses on the modern scope of remedies for constitutional torts. The course traces the history of federal civil rights protection under 42 U.S.C. section 1983 and examines comparatively the context for the development of civil rights under state law. Topics include actions against state officials, Bivens actions, remedies for private acts under “color of law,” affirmative duties, governmental immunity, damages, and attorney’s fees.

Law 325. Clinical Law–Civil Externship (1 unit seminar, maximum 4 units fieldwork)

Through the Civil Seminar and field placements in a variety of legal settings in the public and private sectors, students develop their skills in analysis, negotiation, planning, writing, and counseling. Placements within the entertainment industry enable students to experience the theories and strategies taught in prerequisite business, labor, and intellectual property law courses. The Civil Seminar explores the role of the lawyer in society, access to legal assistance, legal ethics and morality, comparative practice environments, strategies for problem-solving, and reflective learning. Students actively participate in preparing and leading class discussions. All students are required to enroll in the seminar concurrently with their first civil externship.

Law 335. Clinical Law–Criminal Externship (maximum 6 units fieldwork)

Students assist in all aspects of client representation as either prosecutors or defense counsel. Under the California State Bar Practical Training of Law Students program, students may be certified to appear in court on behalf of clients under the direct supervision of a licensed attorney. Field placements emphasize the skills of analysis, planning, investigation, negotiation, client interviewing and counseling, problem-solving, and professional responsibility. Students are also required to enroll in Law 331, Clinical Law-Criminal Practice Seminar, concurrently with their first Criminal Program externship placement. The seminar is a two-credit simulation and discussion class focused on developing practice skills (analysis, reasoning, advocacy) and exploring dynamics of the attorney/client relationship in this context.

Law 331. Clinical Law–Criminal Practice Seminar (2)

This seminar is required for those enrolled in a criminal law externship. It involves practical skills training in handling criminal trials, as well as lectures on various aspects of criminal procedure.

Law 360. Clinical Law–International (1) (London Program only)

Students in the London program may earn one unit credit (two units with prior approval by director) for participating in the London Clinical Program. Students attend a series of lectures, visit English courts, keep a weekly journal, and complete a minimum of sixty hours work in their clinical placement. Placements include American law firms, Barristers chambers, Solicitors firms, human rights organizations, and the Department of Justice at the U.S. Embassy in London.
Law 315. Clinical Law–Judicial Externship (1 unit seminar, maximum 10 units fieldwork)

Through a Judicial Seminar and externship placements in judicial chambers at all levels of the federal and state judiciary, students explore the role of the judiciary; ethical dilemmas presented by questions of competent representation, justice, fairness and morality; reflective learning skills and strategies for problem-solving. Students are required to enroll in the Judicial Seminar concurrently with their first judicial externship. Field placements provide the opportunity for development of student skills in legal analysis, research and writing under the supervision of a judge, and many offer an overview of litigation practice.

Law 1342. Commercial and International Dispute Resolution (2)

An advanced study of processes used to resolve disputes in the commercial field with special emphasis on international commercial transactions. Mediation, arbitration, and hybrid processes are examined. Law 1422 Mediation Seminar, Law 1672 Arbitration, and Law 1392 Alternative Dispute Resolution are suggested.

Law 1893. Commercial Law–Sales (3)

An in-depth study of the law concerning sales of goods. The course will focus on Article 2 of the UCC but will also cover Article 5 (letters of credit, which are often used to pay for goods in international transactions), Article 6 (bulk sales of goods), Article 7 (documents of title, such as bills of lading used in sales transactions), and other related commercial and consumer law. Topics will include formation, interpretation, and enforcement of sales contracts; risk of loss; documentary sales; rejection and revocations of acceptance of goods; breach of warranty in commercial and consumer cases; buyers’ and sellers’ remedies; issues concerning delivery of goods title; and modes of payment.

An in-depth study of the law concerning personal property secured transactions and commercial paper (checks, drafts, and promissory notes). The course will focus on Articles 3, 4, and 9 of the UCC but will also cover relevant consumer protection law and the effect of the Bankruptcy Code on the Article 9 secured party. Topics in secured transactions will include creation and perfection of security interests, future advance and after-acquired property issues, fixture security, floating liens, priority questions, rights of secured party and debtor on default, and security interest in bankruptcy. Topics in commercial paper will include negotiability; liability of parties to an instrument; the holder in due course doctrine; accommodation parties; bank collection process; stop orders and set-offs; wrongful dishonor; issues concerning lost, stolen, forged and altered checks, and checks dishonored for lack of sufficient funds; and electronic funds transfer systems.
Law 1122. Communication and Conflict (2)
This course focuses on the vehicle of human communication in the context of conflict. It addresses the challenges to effective communication caused by interpersonal, intrapersonal, intergroup or intragroup conflict, and the role of communication in resolving such conflicts. Substantial attention is paid to the methods of communication most effective in dealing with differences, particularly those that could be used by professionals in the dispute resolution processes of negotiation and mediation. The course is taught in an interactive format utilizing lectures, observation, discussions, and experiential exercises.

Law 1852. Communications Law (2)
This course surveys legal issues associated with the regulation of the mass media. Particular emphasis will be upon the regulation of the broadcast media and the legal differences between print and broadcast media. The defamation and privacy limits on speech in this area will be carefully considered. There will be some discussion of the reconciliation of First Amendment rights with administration of justice requirements. Regulatory and licensing issues will be given lesser attention.

Law 802. Community Property (2)
The rights of the respective spouses in their property under the California community property system; consideration of community property defined; management and control; liability for debts; dissolution of the community. (This course is not a degree requirement but is highly recommended for all persons taking the California bar examination.)

Law 1322. Comparative Law (2)
A comparative study of various legal systems and the influences which those systems have had upon American jurisprudence. Particular attention will be given to the Roman, French, and German legal systems.

Law 1743. Complex Litigation (3)
This course will explore advanced civil litigation skills through a combination of lecture and writing assignments. Lectures will cover subjects such as class actions, discovery, and judicial control of complex litigation. Writing assignments will be geared toward practical litigation skills. Students will work together in team “law firms,” in order to plan litigation strategies and to draft federal court documents, including complaints, motions, discovery documents, and pre-trial briefs. This course is highly recommended for students interested in litigation.
Law 903. Conflict of Laws (3)
Rules governing the choice of law to be applied when the laws of a jurisdiction other than those of the forum may affect the rights of the parties; choice of law applied in federal courts; jurisdiction of courts to affect personal and property rights; extraterritorial effect of judgments, comity, and full faith, and credit.

Law 1112. Constitutional Law Seminar (2)
An in-depth study of selected constitutional law issues with particular attention given to First Amendment rights. Important constitutional issues of current concern are also emphasized. A research paper that analyzes and attempts to resolve conflicting constitutional interests is required. Prerequisite: Law 742 Constitutional Law–Individual Rights and Liberties.

Law 912. Copyright Law (2–3)
Problems related to the protection of artistic and creative properties, including a study of the methods for securing and maintaining a copyright, the laws that govern the exploitation of the entitlement created by a copyright, and the problems and methods of protecting those rights.

Law 1103. Creditor’s Rights and Bankruptcy (3)
A study of creditor’s rights basically dealing with attachments, liens, executions, fraudulent conveyances, and common law assignments; a fundamental analysis of the rights, powers, and duties of the bankrupt, creditors, and court officers.

Law 1902. Cross-Cultural Negotiation and Dispute Resolution (2)
This course surveys the impact cultural differences have on dispute resolution processes. It integrates theories of dispute resolution with an analysis of differences in language, customs, values, and world views from culture to culture. The course will survey the impact culture has on a variety of dispute resolution processes, including negotiation, mediation, arbitration, and litigation. Particular focus will be placed on cross-cultural negotiations and mediations. The course is designed to equip the student with an analytical framework within which he or she may evaluate and use dispute resolution processes involving individuals from different cultures.

Law 2362. Current Issues in International Dispute Resolution (2)
This course will provide an introduction to international dispute resolution in a particular region of the world: Europe, Asia, Latin America, or North America. The course will focus on the laws, practices, and institutional framework of international dispute resolution in the respective region of study. This course may be incorporated in a study-abroad program.
Law 1282. Dispute Resolution and Religion (2)

Through case studies, simulated learning, and discussion, this course examines the influence of religion, its values and guidelines, on the resolution of conflict. The primary focus is on the Judeo-Christian heritage with an examination of dispute resolution processes in Judaism and Christianity, including traditional approaches utilized by religious groups such as Mennonites and Quakers. Themes from other world religions reflected in American society are considered. Examination of the relationship among substantive law, judicial processes, and religions’ dispute resolution systems will be included. Students will be required to research and write a paper on a selected topic.

Law 380. Dispute Resolution Clinic (2)

Under faculty supervision, students apply mediation theory and refine their skills as third-party neutrals by facilitating settlement negotiations between litigants in Small Claims court and in other referred disputes. Student fieldwork is shared and analyzed in a weekly seminar focused on developing advanced mediation skills and continued learning through critical review. Prerequisite: Law 1422 Mediation Seminar.

Law 1912. Dispute Resolution in Education (2)

This course is an advanced study of processes used to prevent, manage, and resolve conflict in the education environment. Special emphasis is placed on the role of faculty and administrators, and the practical skills useful in conflicts regarding legal disputes, goals and objectives, access to education, compliance with government regulations, interpersonal relationships, and school/community issues. Non-collective bargaining dispute resolution options are considered with a focus on collaborative negotiation and mediation. The emphasis is on learning through simulation exercises, case studies, and discussion.

Law 042/043. Dispute Resolution Law Journal (variable)

Members of the staff receive credit for their work on the Dispute Resolution Law Journal. The amount of credit will vary according to the number of semesters in which a student participates. No credit is awarded until the student has fulfilled the commitment to the journal, at which time a pass/fail grade will be assigned to the credits based on the student’s performance. All members are required to write publishable articles and to do editorial and staff work.

Law 1932. Domestic Relations Dispute Resolution (2)

An advanced study of the processes used to resolve disputes that arise in the area of domestic relations, such as marriage dissolution, child custody and visitation, and property division. Emphasis on negotiation and mediation in domestic relations context. Law 102 Family Law, Law 1492 Negotiation and Settlement Advocacy, Law 1422 Mediation Seminar, and Law 402 Trial Practice are suggested.

An in-depth study of music industry contracts, including an examination of the common law, the statutory law, and the business considerations that govern the relationships between songwriters, artists, managers, producers, engineers, booking agents, record companies, publishing companies, concert promoters, and tour sponsors. Prerequisite: Law 1622 Entertainment Law.

Law 942. Entertainment Law Seminar–Special Problems in the Television Industry (2)

An in-depth study of television industry contracts and the business relationship of agents, attorneys, and entertainment executives that govern the result in the television programming from development of the “pitch” through actual production of movies or television series. Prerequisite: Law 1622 Entertainment Law.

Law 1242. Environmental and Public Policy Dispute Resolution (2)

An advanced study of dispute resolution processes used in resolving environmental, natural resources, and public policy disputes. Particular focus is on negotiated rule-making and mediation as useful processes. Law 1162 Environmental Law and Law 1422 Mediation Seminar are suggested.

Law 1162. Environmental Law (3)

A general survey course on domestic environmental law that focuses on major federal environmental statutes and includes the following areas: Clean Air Act, Clean Water Act, Waste Management (CERCLA/Superfund & RCRA), the National Environmental Policy Act (Environmental Impact Statements), the Administrative Procedure Act, the Endangered Species Act, the Toxic Substances Control Act, the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide, and Rodenticide Act, and the study of common law toxic torts.

Law 422. Estate Planning Seminar (2)

A course designed to focus attention on the interrelating aspects of estate planning, including counseling with the client, formulation of the estate plan, tax planning, and drafting of documents. Attendance to be on a regular basis, supplemented by significant independent research.
Law 1762. European Union Law (3) (London Program only)

Financial and trading rules of the European Union (EU), within the general context of the different legal systems of its member states. First the course will attempt to distinguish between the two contrasting legal traditions of the common law and civil law within the Common Market. Second, it will consider in detail the reasons for the creation of the European Union and its present institutional structure. The final part of the course will be devoted to a study of the substantive trading and financial laws in force in the EU.

Law 102. Family Law (2–3)

Legal relationships engendered by familial associations. The course deals with reciprocal rights and duties of the parties, and considers duties to children and rights of parents. It also deals with legal incidents relative to parent-child status, adoption, and emancipation of children; and aspects of dissolution, nullity, separation, and spousal and child support.

Law 242. Federal Courts (3)

A study of selected problems in federal jurisdiction, including diversity of citizenship and existence of a federal question, and a study of federal rules of civil procedure.

Law 2462. Federal Courts Seminar (2)

This seminar is designed for students who want to broaden their understanding of the federal judiciary. The seminar examines particularly important doctrines and topics related to the law of federal jurisdiction. A central theme is the federal courts’ great discretion in exercising jurisdiction and managing litigation. The course features intensive discussion of selected issues such as judicial review, justiciability, abstention, and inherent judicial powers. The course also entails writing a research paper addressing federal courts issues. Students who successfully complete this course enhance their ability to research a legal issue thoroughly and to write a concise, well-organized argument.

Law 1842. Federal Estate and Gift Taxation (2–3)

Law 2323. Federal Income Taxation of Business Entities (3)

The study of the federal income taxation of C corporations, S corporations, partnerships, and limited liability companies (“LLCs”), and the holders of ownership interests in such entities, including the federal income tax consequences of operations, contributions of capital to the entity, distributions by the entity, and acquisitions, dispositions, and rearrangements of the entity.

Federal income tax implications in the acquisition, development, and disposition of real property. Prerequisite: Law 814 Federal Income Taxation.

Law 2252. Financing for High Tech Start-Ups (2)
The course covers the legal, business, and technology-related issues connected with funding high-tech businesses, including, but not limited to, obtaining multiple rounds of financing (from angel investment, venture capital financing, and institutional funds), creating and adding value, attracting talent and establishing the “real” management team, studying valuation methodology, and considering various exit strategies.

Law 992. Gender and the Law (2)
This course examines issues, laws, and rationales courts have used to uphold or strike down either discriminatory or preferential treatment of men and women based upon their gender, including equal protection, Title VII sex discrimination and harassment, pregnancy, Equal Pay Act, Title IX equality in education, women in the military, First Amendment rights to belong to single sex organizations, gender orientation, divorce, child custody, rights of unwed fathers, rape, the use of self-defense in domestic violence, abortion, women's criminal responsibility for fetal health, surrogacy, and affirmative action.

Law 010. Honors Appellate Advocacy (2)
Second- and third-year students study composition, mechanics, and advocacy style for federal appellate court briefs. Organization and presentation of effective oral argument is a component of the class. Enrollment is limited and requires the approval of the professor.

Law 0403. Honors Trial Practice (2)
This class is designed to provide additional trial experience for students who excelled in Law 402 Trial Practice. Each student in the class will be required to participate in multiple trials. Interest in participating in interschool trial competitions is one factor considered in granting approval for enrollment. This advanced trial practice class requires the approval of the professor for enrollment. Prerequisite: Law 402 Trial Practice.

Law 1972. Human Rights (2–3)
This course will address certain rights that should be afforded all people in order to assure that they are treated as “humans,” both in time of peace and war. Those rights may include human rights such as free speech, the right to worship, and the right to live as and where one wishes; political rights, such as the right to vote and to fair treatment in the courts; economic rights, such as the right to a minimum standard of living, and various other topics, such as torture and capital punishment. The course will also focus on domestic, regional, and international enforcement mechanisms.

Law 842. Immigration Law (2)

The course examines the criteria and eligibility for temporary and permanent status of foreign persons attempting to enter the United States. It includes the examination of family-based, employment-based, and refugee-based visas for admission into the United States. In addition, the course includes an extensive analysis of issues relating to inadmissibility, deportation, and removal of aliens from the United States, as well as defenses and waivers on the grounds of inadmissibility and removal.

Law 501. Independent Study (2)

In exceptional circumstances and at the dean’s discretion, students may obtain credit for writing an original paper under the direction of a faculty member. The paper must be of substantial merit, which is of publishable quality and in a form suitable for law review publication. Students will not be allowed to do more than one independent study. Independent studies are graded on pass/fail basis only.

Law 1262. Insurance Law (2)

A study of the law of insurance considered in relation to economic functions, business practices, and other legal and social institutions, with emphasis on problems arising under current policy forms, including regulation of insurance carriers, insurable interests, selection and control of risks, formation of insurance contracts, waiver and estoppel, and adjustment of claims.

Law 2512. Intellectual Property Survey (2-3)

This survey course introduces the four fundamental types of intellectual property protection: patent, trademark, trade secret, and copyright. Additionally, some time will be spent exploring the concepts of unfair competition and the right of publicity. This course is designed to give students a general working knowledge of the types of IP protection available, as well as the strengths and limitations of each type and how they may be used to complement on another. A technical background is not required, even for the patent materials.

Law 272. International Business Transactions (2)

The course is a transaction-based approach to the study of international business transactions. The coverage will include the international sale of goods and services, the international transfer of technology, and the foreign investment. The course will address the legal and business issues facing a foreign national investing or doing business in the United States as well as U.S. persons engaged in business or investing abroad.
Law 372. International Commercial Arbitration (2–3) (also offered in London)

A study of legislative regimes and caselaw affecting the settlement by arbitration of disputes arising from international contracts and similar transactions. Particular attention is paid to the enforcement of arbitration agreements and awards, the role of treaties and administering institutions, and the interplay between national courts and arbitral tribunals.

Law 274. International Entertainment and Copyright Law (2–3) (London Program only)

This course examines the law of copyright in the international setting. It looks at the development of copyright in common law legal systems and compares that to the development in civil law systems. It discusses the international conventions and treaties, as well as the law of the European Union. International dealings in copyrighted works within the film, television and music industries are examined along with the future of copyright in the digital age.

Law 2082. International Environmental Law (2) (London Program only)

This course examines the role of international law in the protection of the earth’s environment. It views the international organizations that develop environmental laws and policy, and the roles, rights, and obligations of states in enacting and enforcing those laws. Environmental issues covered include marine pollution, hazardous waste, nuclear energy, endangered species, and how international disputes in these areas are settled.

Law 2133. International Investment Disputes (2-3)

This course addresses the treaty-based systems established to allow foreign direct investors and host states to arbitrate disputes arising from alleged breaches of international law. In addition to examining the major treaties affecting the field, the course will survey the many important doctrines bearing on tribunal jurisdictions, claim admissibility, and the enforcement of awards against a state. Matters of process design will also be considered.

Law 270. International Litigation (2)

Designed to be a seminar, the course combines lecture and problem solving in addressing the following topics: basic choice of law and choice of forum analysis; international judicial assistance (service of process and discovery abroad); enforcement of judgments internationally; alternative dispute settlement mechanisms (conciliation and arbitration); enforcement of arbitration awards; prejudgment remedies; and sovereign immunity.
Law 262. International Public Law (2) (also offered in London)

A study of the law of nations, including the sources of international law, jurisdiction of states over persons and property, recognition of states and governments, state responsibilities, governmental immunities, treaties, international organizations, legal status of use of force, and the protection of human rights.

Law 1012. International Tax (3)

A study of federal income tax implications of (1) U.S. nationals doing business abroad, and (2) foreign nationals doing business in the United States; a study of tax treaties currently entered into by the United States; and a review of tax incentives and penalties for U.S. citizens doing business abroad.

Law 1962. International Trade (2)

This course analyzes the national and international constitutional framework of the complicated regulatory legal system affecting international economic relations, including questions regarding the WTO, NAFTA, the executive-congressional relationship in the United States, and the process of formulation and adoption of United States trade legislation. The course will take up various regulatory legal principles and how they operate at both the national and international level, dealing with subjects such as trade dispute resolution, tariffs and tariff negotiations, quotas, normal trade relation clauses, national treatment clauses, escape clauses, dumping and antidumping duties, export subsidies, countervailing duties, investment, and other topics. The course will also address trade linkage questions, such as the relationship between trade and labor, the environment, intellectual property, and human rights. The goal of the course is to give a rounded appreciation of the interplay between national and international rules as they affect government actions, which influence private international transactions.

Law 1712. Interviewing, Counseling, and Planning (2)

A study of the function and professional skills of lawyers during the critical processes of interviewing and counseling. Substantive focus on preventive law and client-centered planning. Course draws from fields of communication and psychology as well as law. Emphasis on learning through simulation exercises, case studies, and discussions.

Law 2162. Islamic Law (2)

This course is designed to introduce students to the origins and sources of Islamic Law such as the Quran, Al Hadith (traditional), and Ijithad (jurisprudence). It will also review the application of Islamic Law in the present Islamic countries as the law of the land, or as adopted and incorporated in the laws of commerce, economics, personal status (marriage, divorce, inheritance) and obligations.
Law 2200. Jewish Law (2)

This course provides a forum for students to explore the history, literature and process of Jewish law. No knowledge of Hebrew or prior study of Jewish law is required for the course. Following introductory classes on the sources and structure of Jewish law, the course will examine the dynamics of the legal system by looking at such areas as: biblical interpretation in civil and ritual law, capital punishment, self-incrimination, the duty of confidentiality, abortion, the interaction of Jewish law with other legal systems, and the application of Jewish law in the Israeli legal system. There will be an emphasis on comparative analysis, and course materials will include discussion of Jewish law in contemporary American legal scholarship. Grades are based upon a research paper, a draft of which each student will present to the class toward the end of the semester.

Law 2152. Judicial Decision-Making (2)

This seminar explores methods and dynamics of decision-making, primarily at the trial course level. Participants learn skills associated with sound decision-making through a series of practical exercises in the trial court setting. Insights and skills gained from the seminar enhance participants’ ability to make sound decisions, not just as trial lawyers or judges, but in nearly every facet of their professional and private lives. The seminar is of particular interest to those who may be interested in becoming a trial judge.

Law 1192. Jurisprudence (3)

An examination of different views of the law, the role of law in society, where law comes from, and how it is determined. Emphasis is placed on the judicial process and its interrelation with social behavior. The course studies a view of jurisprudence from a biblical worldview, and explores the major Western secular schools of jurisprudential thought in historical context, including contemporary debates.

Law 112. Juvenile Law (2)

Problems related to the status of minors, including jurisdiction of the state, detention, responsibility for committed acts, responsibilities of parents, and the handling of both criminal and civil matters involving juveniles.

Law 143. Labor Law (3)

Problems arising from the employer-employee relationship, as affected by the common law, the federal labor relations acts, and the union contract. The course also briefly considers the union-employer relation, the employer’s duty to bargaining, arbitration, and other methods of resolving labor disputes.
Law 1352. Labor Law Seminar (2)
A research and discussion class emphasizing labor law and collective bargaining in the public and private sectors of American society. A research paper emphasizing a particular section of the labor law field will be required. Prerequisite: Law 143 Labor Law.

Law 1312. Land Use Planning (2)
A study of the legal, political, and economic factors involved in the private and governmental control of land use.

Law 1873. Law and Biotechnology Seminar (2–3)
This seminar will survey legal, ethical (including moral and religious perspectives), and public policy issues raised by recent advances in the life sciences, with an emphasis on those associated with the decoding of the human genome, and the employment of new genetic and cellular technologies by the biotechnology industry. Topics covered will include the following: the regulation of biomedical research; intellectual property rights in biological materials and technologies; assisted reproduction and the use of genetic screening and testing technologies; the impact of DNA testing on family and criminal law; the impact of behavioral genetics research on the law; genetic privacy and discrimination issues; bioengineered organisms and foods; gene therapy and stem cell research; the use of life prolongation technologies; and the issues surrounding genetic enhancement and cloning technologies.

Law 2072. Law and Economics (2)
This course addresses the economic analysis of law. The course will explore what it means for the law to be efficient; the extent to which a quest for economic efficiency explains the development of the law; and the extent to which efficiency should be the guiding star in the development of the law. Unless otherwise noted in the schedule of courses, prior coursework in economics is not necessary, and the course will include an introduction to the tools of microeconomics analysis. However, the course may be taught from time to time in an advanced version for those students who already are conversant with economic principles.

Law 1472. Law and Morality Seminar (2)
A study of the relationship between law and morality. The seminar will explore whether the law is based on moral principles, whether it should be based on moral principles, and if so, how such moral principles should be derived. The course may explore civil disobedience, “victimless” crimes, capital punishment, regulation of abortion, racial and other forms of discrimination, sexual conduct and drug use, the duty to rescue, enforcement of promises, concepts of fault in tort law, the place of moral principles in martial dissolution, and whether the development of the moral character of its citizens is an appropriate end of government. Students will be required to research and write a paper.
Law 852. Law and Religion Seminar (2)

This course represents basic relationships between religion and law in a civilized society. The chief model used to develop and illustrate these relationships is Judeo-Christian history and heritage. The Bible and the Talmud are the primary sources. Special attention is given to the religious and ethical dimensions of judicial and governmental law as reflected in the sources.

Law 1982. Law and the Disabled (2–3)

This course considers developing law regarding physically and mentally disabled persons. Areas of concern include the following access to education, employment and transportation; architectural barriers; income maintenance; right to treatment and to refuse treatment; guardianship. Regulations protecting legal rights of the handicapped will be analyzed.

Law 1200. Law and the Visual Arts (2)

This course provides students with an overview of the legal issues raised by the production, sale, and collection of visual art (e.g., painting, sculpture, photography). The course will consider problems in drafting, representation, consignment, commission, sale, and participation agreements from the vantage point of the artist, dealer, and collector. It will also consider First Amendment problems, international commerce in illicit art, forgeries, and national patrimony.

Law 2142. Law of Cyberspace (2)

The course will begin with an overview of the Internet, and will then cover regulation of the Internet, including computer crime laws, fraud and abuse laws, ISP liability and the First Amendment, jurisdiction of cyberspace disputes and choice of law, intellectual property rights, domain name rights, trade secrets, patents and unfair trade, licensing, corporate liability, financial considerations, and criminality.

Law 1301. Law Office Management (1–2)

Management postulates applied to law offices; forms of practice; legal assistants and the use of systems for professional and business functions; time-keeping and fees; bookkeeping; client relationships; the law office staff manual; library and retrieval systems; calendar and monitor systems; essential equipment and law office layout; and developing a practice.

Law 002/003. Law Review (variable)

Members of the Law Review staff receive credit for their work on the Law Review. The amount of credit will vary according to the number of semesters in which a student participates. No credit is awarded until the student has fulfilled the commitment to the Law Review, at which time a pass/fail grade will be assigned to the credits based on the student’s performance. All members are required to write publishable articles, and to do editorial and staff work.
Law 1300. Lawyering Process (3)

This course is designed to give students a “hands on” experience in making lawyering decisions, relating to clients, and researching and drafting documents typically used in the civil litigation process. Students handle and develop several fictitious case files, and are expected to research and draft such diverse assignments as opinion letters, complaints, answers, pretrial motions, discovery requests, and motions for summary judgment. Students are given instruction and feedback regarding the lawyering techniques involved in client counseling, legal research, legal analysis and writing, and advocacy.

Law 122. Legal History (2)

This course is an introduction to the study of the history of law, including the sources of the Anglo-American tradition and the changing role and reputation of the legal profession. Topics in ancient and modern law will be explored, including biblical law, Jewish law, Roman law, canon law, and contract law. The social, economic, religious, philosophical, and political origins of law will be discussed, and students will be challenged to examine their own roles in shaping future legal history. Readings consist of both primary and secondary works by legal historians.

Law 1232. Legal Process (2)

This course is designed for non-lawyers and non-law degree seeking students in the graduate dispute resolution programs. This course provides students an understanding of law, its role in society, and the dispute resolution principles that have emerged from it. It familiarizes students with the court system, its operation, and the challenges it faces in serving as this society’s traditional formal dispute resolution forum. The course examines the efforts to reform the justice system, and the relationship between such reforms and the alternative dispute resolution movement of the last two decades. The course is taught using a traditional law school case method, but it includes substantial personal contact with those most prominently involved in the justice system—practicing lawyers and sitting judges—as well as personal observation of the court system.

Law 1372. Legislation (2)

A study of the construction and interpretation of statutes; timely responsiveness in legislation, emergency legislation, adoptive legislation, comparative legislation, exemptive legislation, reconciliatory legislation, and legislative oversight. The drafting of a model-annotated statute on an assigned topic is required.

Law 1422. Mediation Seminar (2)

A seminar that examines the dynamics, benefits, constraints, and skills related to third-party intervention in the resolution of legal disputes. The course explores mediation as a collaborative process of resolving conflict, the legislative, ethical, and practical constraints on its use, as well as the skills needed to serve in a mediation capacity. There is an emphasis on learning through simulation exercises that are drawn from the labor, family, commercial, community, and environmental areas.

Law 2262. Mergers and Acquisitions (2)

This course is designed to allow students to focus on transactional lawyering in the area of corporate mergers and acquisitions. It will examine the duties and risk of both sellers and buyers in these transactions. The statutory coverage of the course will include the federal securities laws that relate to seller financing and mergers, The Williams Act, and state takeover laws.

Law 111. Moot Court Board (1)

Members of the Moot Court Board receive credit for organizing intra-school moot court competitions and for working with the interschool moot court teams.

Law 005. Moot Court–Dalsimer Competition (1)

Students participate as a two-person team in the Vincent S. Dalsimer Moot Court competition on a credit basis. Those who elect to participate and who demonstrate satisfactory proficiency will receive one unit. All participants write an appellate brief and engage in competitive oral argument.

Law 008. Moot Court–International (1) (London Program only)

Students in the London program may earn one unit credit for participating in the London Moot Program. Students attend a series of lectures, visit English courts, take part in an advocacy class given by barristers, participate in an internal “moot-off” competition, review video-taped feedback, and moot against one of the four English Inns of Court or English law schools.

Law 001. Moot Court–Interschool Competition (1)

Law 2106. Multimedia Law (2)

Multimedia law examines those creative products that combine the following elements: sound, visual images, text, user interactivity, and software. The course will examine the application of law to multimedia products, and will encompass the storage and movement of proprietary digital data throughout all of the newly emerging media.

Members of the staff receive credit for their work on the National Association of Administrative Law Judges Journal. The amount of credit will vary according to the number of semesters in which a student participates. No credit is awarded until the student has fulfilled the commitment to the journal, at which time a pass/fail grade will be assigned to the credits based on the student’s performance. All members are required to write publishable articles, and to do editorial and staff work.

Law 1492. Negotiation and Settlement Advocacy (2)

A seminar that examines the dynamics, constraints, and skills associated with the negotiation and settlement process. The theories of negotiation are examined through current literature. Negotiation skills are learned through simulation exercises, and issues related to the use of negotiation are addressed through class discussions. Course content is drawn from the fields of law, psychology, communication, and business.

Law 1832. Patent Law (2)

Fundamentals of patent law relating to standards of patentability, patent claims, interpretation, licensing, and enforcement are presented in reference to patent litigation.

Law 1292. Products Liability (2)

Development of the concept of product liability. Specific problems and a survey of civil actions for harm resulting from defective and dangerous products with reference to parties and proof of negligence, warranty, misrepresentations, and strict liability in tort.

Law 2352. Race and the Law (3)

This course examines how and why race, racism, racial preferences and racial biases inform and shape our legal structures and impact the legal decision-making process, and explores the possibilities of transforming the law to more adequately fulfill the promise of equal protection. The course explores different views of what race means, what constitutes racism, and the historical and legal background of major racial groups in the United States. The course also focuses on the application of the equal protection doctrine across groups, in areas such as education, employment, housing, voting rights, freedom of expression, popular culture, and crime.

Law 312. Real Estate Finance (2–3)

The law of mortgages, deeds of trusts, liens, rights, and duties of parties before and after foreclosure, receivership, priorities, subordination, and suretyship.

Law 1603. Real Estate Transactions (2–3)

A study of various aspects of real estate transactions, including the following: contracts of sale; brokerage; buyer-seller rights and obligations; title insurance; development; financing and tax consideration. Very little emphasis will be devoted to the land use and approval process (see Law 1312 Land Use Planning). Problems and negotiations may be included.
Law 2533. Religion and the Constitution (3)
This course addresses constitutional law, primarily the First Amendment, as it applies to religion. The course focuses on the Free Exercise Clause and the Establishment Clause but also covers relevant aspects of freedom of speech. The course includes a review of the history of religious freedom in America and of the views of the founders.

Law 2108. Restorative Justice (2)
This seminar explores the restorative justice movement, an exciting and rapidly expanding alternative to contemporary criminal justice. Restorative justice incorporates aspects of alternative dispute resolution and civil law into criminal matters in order to pursue overarching goals of healing and reconciliation. The course considers where the movement originated, how it has developed in the past twenty years, the opportunities and challenges it confronts, and specific ways in which it can be implemented in the criminal process.

Law 1243. Securities Regulations (3)
Federal and state laws governing offer and distribution of securities to the public by corporate issuers and others; regulation of securities markets, and rights and liabilities of purchasers. Prerequisite: Law 803 Corporations.

Law 1652. Selected Problems in Evidence (2)
In-depth examination on certain recurring evidentiary problems, particularly those problems currently being litigated. Each student will be required to research, write, and present a paper to the class on a selected problem. Prerequisite: Law 904 Evidence.

Law 1512. Sentencing and Corrections (2)
The course will provide a critical examination of criminal sentencing and corrections law from state, federal, and juvenile courts. Federal sentencing guidelines will be compared to California determinate and indeterminate sentencing laws. The course will examine issues related to the three-strike law, prosecuting juveniles as adults, parole and probation, plea bargaining, death penalty, and prisoner rights, in the context of federal and state prosecutions. Theories of punishment, rehabilitation, and other social policies underlying sentencing and corrections law will also be discussed.

Law 1302. Social Psychology of Conflict (2)
This course provides an understanding of conflict in the context of the people involved and their relationship to each other. It draws from both the fields of psychology and sociology to provide a framework for understanding and assisting those who are parties to acute conflict that often ends up in the legal system. The course format includes lectures, discussions, and experiential exercises.
Law 1882. Special Education Law (2)
This course introduces students to legal advocacy for those protected by federal and state special education law. While a substantial body of legislation has evolved to protect the rights of this group of citizens, there is a shortage of qualified practitioners available to provide for their legal representation. This course will explore the legal history of Special Education Law, its current status, and future trends. Exercises and activities will be undertaken to develop practitioner skills to implement the student’s knowledge of substantive law. Guest speakers from various functions of special education will supplement course material. This course is a prerequisite for participation in the Pepperdine Special Education Legal Clinic.

Law 2282. Special Issues in Dispute Resolution (2–3)
This course is designed to be a general course in which can be housed one-time offerings that will not likely be frequently repeated. Examples would be Advanced Negotiation, Dispute Resolution in the Entertainment Industry, Dispute Resolution in Employment, and Dispute Resolution in E-Commerce.

Law 1252. Sports Law (2–3)
A study of the professional and amateur sports law aspects of torts, contracts, antitrust, labor, and criminal law; special problems such as players’ agents, workers’ compensation, professional drafts, amateur eligibility rules, products liability, privacy, sex discrimination, liability disclaimers, and enforcement of personal service contracts.

Law 142. State Constitutional Law Seminar (2)
This course presents a comparative and systematic study of state constitutions. Topics include the history, nature, and function of state constitutions, and the influence of state constitutions on the development of the U.S. Constitution. A discussion of the modern role of the state constitution on issues of democratic self-government in a diverse society, and a critique of the ratification of constitutional amendments through popular initiative are also included. Students are required to select a topic on state constitutional law, present a research paper, and defend the paper in class.

Law 922. Trademarks, Unfair Competition, and Unfair Trade Practices (2)
Problems related to the protection of commercial marks and products, including a study of the methods for securing and maintaining protection, the laws that govern exploitation of the marks and products, and problems and methods of protecting those rights.

Law 402. Trial Practice (3)
A study of the methods and procedures of counsel in various aspects of trial. Students will actively participate in direct- and cross-examination of witnesses, making objections, methods of impeachment, use of depositions, introduction of exhibits, the importance of ethics, decorum, and personal mannerisms in the courtroom. Participation in complete practice trials; learning through actual experience. Prerequisite: Law 904 Evidence.

Law 007. Trial Practice Competition (1)

Students participating in interschool competitions may receive one unit of credit upon recommendation of the faculty advisor and approval by the dean.

Law 1172. Trial Preparation and Settlement (2)

Preparation of the trial from the first interview with the client; investigation of the facts; choice of forum; practical aspects of discovery; importance of depositions and how to conduct them; preparation of witnesses for discovery and trial; preparation of trial file; and settlement negotiations. Prerequisite: Law 904 Evidence.

Law 972. War Crimes (2)

War Crimes is the study of the evolution and application of the rules governing the initiation and conduct of war, and of the treatment of combatants and civilians during time of war. This is an interdisciplinary law course, and includes topics and precedent in public international law, legal philosophy, and U.S. military and civil law. The Nuremberg Trial, 6 F.R.D. 69 (International Military Tribunal 1946), its genesis, resolution, and future application, will be discussed at length.

Law 1482. White Collar Crime (2)

This course will explore both state and federal fraud violations, focusing on strategies for the successful prosecution and defense of these serious charges. Among the topics covered will be conspiracy, grand theft, money laundering, structuring, tax fraud, mail fraud, wire fraud, the RICO Act, and murder for financial gain.

Law 1222. Workers’ Compensation (2)

Historical development, social theory, and operation of Worker’s Compensation statutes, including compensability of injuries caused by accidents arising out of and in the course of employment, benefits payable, limitation of common law rights, and tort liability of third parties.

Directions to the Campus

The campus is located at Pacific Coast Highway and Malibu Canyon Road. From Los Angeles and points south-take the Santa Monica Freeway west to Pacific Coast Highway (State Highway 1) and follow Pacific Coast Highway to Malibu Canyon Road. Turn right on Malibu Canyon Road, and you will see the campus entrance just off Pacific Coast Highway. From San Fernando Valley-take the Ventura Freeway (Federal Highway 101) to Las Virgenes Road-Malibu Canyon and proceed toward Pacific Coast Highway. Just before reaching Pacific Coast Highway, you will see the campus entrance on your right. From Ventura and points north-take Pacific Coast Highway to Malibu Canyon Road, turn left on Malibu Canyon Road, and you will see the campus entrance on your left.

My Philosophy

To live as nobly as I can
And be in all respects, a man.
To take my share of good or ill,
Rely on hope and honor still.
To keep ambition’s fires aflame;
Strive for perfection, not for fame.
To share a life of happiness
With those good friends in whom I’m blest.

To be the same when no one’s near,
As when I am with friends most dear.
To be courageous, undismayed,
By all mistakes that I have made.
To cling to honesty always
With peace of mind to close my days.
To take from life the very best and live life with the keenest zest.

To keep my self-esteem intact
In what I think and how I act.
To be concerned wholeheartedly
For those in need of charity.
To do for others willingly,
What I would have them do for me.
To give to others some love each day;
Love is not love till given away.

To keep my faith in God and truth
As I have kept it since my youth.
To leave some monument behind,
My having lived to keep in mind.
To do the best that I can do
And let that stand my record true.

These resolutions made by me
Shall be my life’s philosophy.
