Fall Program ABA Disclosures

IX. Disclosures

The following information must be disclosed when program information is initially made available to prospective students (i.e., on the program website, in the initial announcement or brochure, and in any communication sent directly to prospective students):

1. Dates, location(s), description of the program, and anticipated enrollment:

*Pepperdine's 2018 London Fall Program is a full fall semester in London. The Fall Semester in London begins on August 13 (arrival date), 2018 and ends on Friday, December 14, 2018 including exams. Since the inception of the London Program in 1981, students from Pepperdine and other American law schools have enjoyed what is often referred to as "their best law school experience" -- studying law at Pepperdine in London. Pepperdine Law School's International Program in London has been approved by the American Bar Association. Pepperdine University School of Law offers a fall semester program in London at our own London facility. The Pepperdine London House is located in the attractive Knightsbridge and South Kensington area of London. Pepperdine's Fall London Program is run and operated solely by Pepperdine University School of law and not in conjunction, partnership, or through the use of another educational institution.

The program also includes a number of cultural and legal-related outings and trips designed to enhance the educational experience. All students will come away from their London experience with knowledge of the British political and legal system as well as an appreciation for the culture. To that end, the Fall program offers lectures on the British political and English legal systems, a walking tour of the Inns of Court including Middle Temple and a visit to Parliament. Students studying in the Fall will additionally visit a Magistrate's Court or the Commercial Court, the Central Criminal Court known popularly as the Old Bailey, and the Royal Courts of Justice.

In the Fall 2018 program, we expect that up to 50 students from Pepperdine University School of Law and other American law schools will reside in London and take courses from a full-time faculty member who also serves as the director of the program, as well as an American trial judge, and a number of London-based barristers, solicitors and faculty members from London area law programs.

Students may enroll in one or more of the terms but may not, under ABA guidelines, take more than one-third of their total law school units in overseas programs.
The program is structured so that students may complete certain core American law requirements while enriching their legal education with a variety of elective international and comparative law courses.

2. The nature of the relationship with the foreign institution, if any, other than the provision of facilities and minimal services:

Pepperdine's Fall London Program is run and operated solely by Pepperdine University School of Law and not in conjunction, partnership, or through the use of another educational institution.

3. The number of students who participated in the program the previous year from the sponsoring law school(s) and the number from other schools (if the program is open to other students):

In the Fall 2017 program there were 38 students including 4 visiting students.

4. If the program is not limited to students from U.S. law schools, the countries likely to be represented and the expected number of students from those countries:

The Program is limited to students from U.S. law schools.

5. Description of each course and number of credit hours:

Law 822. Criminal Procedure (3)
An examination of the major stages of a criminal prosecution. The course will emphasize the vital constitutional issues and rights affecting the accused, including probable cause, search and seizure, wiretapping, pre-trial identification, interrogations and confessions, and right to counsel.

Law 904. Evidence (3)
The admission and exclusion of evidence, and the basis in logic or policy for the rules. The course aids the student in the evaluation of factual situations in order to determine what evidence would be properly receivable in a trial. The allocation of the burdens of persuasion and of producing evidence, and the effect of presumptions are examined.

Law 402. Trial Practice (3)
A study of the methods and procedures of counsel in various aspects of trial. Students will actively participate in direct- and cross-examination of witnesses, making objections, methods of impeachment, use of depositions, introduction of exhibits, the importance of ethics, decorum, and personal mannerisms in the courtroom. Participation in complete practice trials; learning through actual experience. Prerequisite: Law 904 Evidence or concurrent enrollment.
Law 1972. Human Rights (2)
This course will address certain rights that should be afforded all people in order to assure that they are treated as “humans,” both in time of peace and war. Those rights may include human rights such as free speech, the right to worship, and the right to live as and where one wishes; political rights, such as the right to vote and to fair treatment in the courts; economic rights, such as the right to a minimum standard of living, and various other topics, such as torture and capital punishment. The course will also focus on domestic, regional, and international enforcement mechanisms.

Law 2133. International Investment Disputes (2 units)

This course addresses the treaty-based systems established to allow foreign direct investors and host states to arbitrate disputes arising from alleged breaches of international law. In addition to examining the major treaties affecting the field, the course will survey the many important doctrines bearing on tribunal jurisdictions, claim admissibility, and the enforcement of awards against a state. Matters of process design will also be considered.

Law 372. International Commercial Arbitration (2 units)

This course provides a comprehensive overview of international arbitration law and practice. Topics explored include the making and enforcement of arbitration agreements; the selection and appointment of the arbitral tribunal; preliminary proceedings, including procedural orders and interim relief; the arbitration hearing; and the making and enforcement of the arbitral award. Particular attention is paid to the enforcement of arbitration agreements and awards, the role of the New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards and other treaties, and their interplay with national laws as a backdrop for private arbitration agreements.

Law 1762. European Union Law (3 units)

Financial and trading rules of the European Union (EU), within the general context of the different legal systems of its member states. First the course will attempt to distinguish between the two contrasting legal traditions of the common law and civil law within the Common Market. Second, it will consider in detail the reasons for the creation of the European Union and its present institutional structure. The final part of the course will be devoted to a study of the substantive trading and financial laws in force in the EU.

Law 8. Moot Court–International (1 unit)

Students in the London program may earn one unit credit for participating in the London Moot Program. Students attend a series of lectures, visit English courts, take part in an advocacy class given by barristers, participate in an internal “moot-off” competition, review video-taped feedback, and moot against one of the four English Inns of Court or English law schools.

Students in the London program may earn one unit credit (two units with prior approval by director) for participating in the London Clinical Program. Students attend a series of lectures, visit English courts, keep a weekly journal, and complete a minimum of 52.5 hours (1 unit) work in their clinical placement. Placements include American law firms, Barristers chambers, Solicitors firms, human rights organizations, and the Department of Justice at the U.S. Embassy in London.

6. Schedule of classes with days and times for each class:

The schedule of classes with days and times for each class will be provided in the Spring term. It will be similar to the current term which is online.

7. Requirements for student performance and grading method:

As is customary in law schools, grading is based largely on the final examination in each course, except for skills training courses and courses which require substantial research and writing. Final examinations are graded anonymously, with students using examination numbers instead of names on their examinations. Midterm examinations may be given in any course. Professors have discretion to make a small adjustment to the final grade based on factors which include, but are not limited to, quality of preparation and recitation, attendance, and willingness to participate in discussion. The law school permits students to take the essay portions of final examinations on student laptop computers. The software program for the taking of such examinations is provided by the school. With the exception of take-home examinations, students may not take examinations on laptop computers using any program other than the proprietary program approved by the school.

Grading

Letter grades are used with an typical upper division median of B+. The following numerical weights are assigned to letter grades:

8. Enrollment limitations on any courses offered and criteria for enrollment, including prerequisites:

There are no prerequisites and no limit on enrollment except for Trial Practice which has a corequisite, Evidence, and is capped at 16, International Moot Court which is capped at 24, and International Clinical Law which is subject to availability and is highly competitive. In the past, 90% of students who have applied for a clinical have been able to participate but not always with their first choice of placement.

9. A statement that acceptance of any credit or grade for any course taken in the program, including externships and other clinical offerings, is subject to determination by the student’s home school:

Visiting students must have permission from the academic dean or associate dean of their school attesting to their being in good standing and agreeing to accept the units earned in transfer. The acceptance of course credit or grade is subject to the discretion of the visiting student’s home school.

10. Descriptive biographies of program director:

Professor Carol A. Chase

Professor Carol A. Chase has been a member of the Pepperdine Law School faculty since 1990, and she regularly teaches Criminal Law, Criminal Procedure, Evidence and Trial Practice. Prior to joining the Pepperdine Law School faculty she served as an Assistant United States Attorney in the U.S. Attorneys Office Criminal Division in Los Angeles. She has also been a litigation associate in the Los Angeles offices of Hughes Hubbard and Reed and Skadden, Arps, Slate Meagher and Flom. Professor Chase is a coauthor of a law school textbook, The Art and Science of Trial Advocacy, and the Case File Supplement thereto, and has authored articles published in various law reviews. She received her A.B. Summa Cum Laude from UCLA and her JD from UCLA Law School.

14. Description and location of classrooms and administrative offices:

Classes are held at Pepperdine University’s London House at 56 Prince’s Gate, London, SW7 2PG which is located in the exceptionally nice Knightsbridge/South Kensington area of London. The Administrative offices are located here as well.

15. The extent to which the country, city, and facilities are accessible to individuals with disabilities:

Pepperdine University welcomes students with disabilities who are otherwise qualified for the London program. In compliance with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act, the University does not discriminate on the basis of disability. Students should recognize that those laws do not apply to public buildings and other facilities in England and the rest of Europe and many are not configured to accommodate disabilities. The Pepperdine London Center is accessible to disabled students even though access may be somewhat difficult. A portable ramp for wheelchair access can be arranged. There is a small elevator giving access to the upper floors of the building although it will not accommodate a wheelchair. Wherever possible, it is the policy of the university to reasonably accommodate the needs of those persons having disabilities. Such disabilities should be made known to the Malibu Director of International Programs in advance so that appropriate arrangements, where possible, can be made.

16. Circumstances under which the program is subject to cancellation, how cancellation will be communicated to the students; what arrangements will be made in the event of cancellation, and information about any prior cancellations, if any:

The London program is subject to cancellation, without prior notice, based upon financial exigency or if fewer than ten students have enrolled in the program fourteen (14) days prior to the commencement of the term. In that event, students will be contacted by email and the deposits paid by students will be fully refunded.

17. U.S State Department Travel Warnings or Alerts:

a) The latest information and warnings about overseas travel can be found on the US State Department web site. If, prior to the commencement of the program, a Travel Warning or Alert is issued by the U.S. State Department for the country in which the program is conducted, all students who have confirmed their acceptance with a deposit will be notified promptly by email and will be given an opportunity to withdraw from the program.

b) If, during the course of a program, a U.S. State Department Travel Warning or Alert is issued for the country in which the program is conducted, all enrolled students will be notified by email of the warning, and given an opportunity to withdraw from the program.

18. Refund policy in the event of student withdrawal as permitted in paragraph 16, or program cancellation or termination:

In the event that students withdraw as permitted in 16, 17 and 18 above, or if the program is terminated, the students will be refunded fees paid, except for that portion of the activity fee that has been utilized prior to the date of withdrawal or termination.

University operating expenses and student charges are planned on an annual basis. Refund policies for withdrawals for reasons other than those specified in paragraphs 16, 17 and 18, above, have been established in recognition of both the University's advance commitment to operating expenses and a spirit of fairness for students who find it necessary to discontinue the use of University services. The policies for students who leave the program due to dismissal and suspension are the same as for those who leave due to voluntary withdrawal.

The refund policies are found in the Law School's academic catalog, in the section on financial information.

Tuition
Consideration for refund of tuition requires written notice from the student to the Records Office of the student’s intention to drop a course or withdraw from the University. The date this notice is received by the Records Office is the effective date for determining the refund amount according to the schedule below. Students may drop classes without tuition penalty during the add/drop period only. Students withdrawing from courses after the add/drop period are subject to the partial refund policies listed below for the fall and spring semesters.
