Cost to study abroad for 1 semester is $3,645 and 2 semesters is $6,070 above Malibu equivalent costs. Other costs vary depending on program, course selection, and personal spending.

Room & Board: $8,275 is equivalent to a residence hall double with a declining balance Extra Meal Plan. Malibu direct cost for room and board is $7,660 with a basic meal plan. For information on meals provided in each program, visit our website.

International Programs Fee (IP Fee): includes round-trip airfare, the Educational Field Trip, orientations, and local excursions. Round trip airfare costs for students studying in both fall & spring semesters is $1,220 and is included in the Fall IP Fee; as a result, the Spring IP Fee is $1,220 less (Washington D.C. flight cost is $500). Select students can opt out of round-trip airfare and will have a reduced IP Fee on their student account.

Local Country Fees: Specific to each program, please see our website for specific information.

PE & Course Fees: Applies to certain courses – see the Seaver Academic Catalog for information.

Estimated Personal Abroad Expenses: Personal spending varies by student and program location. This includes meals, supplies, weekend travel expenses, and other personal expenses.

Passport Fee: Varies depending on passport services needed.

Visa Fee: Specific to each program, please visit our website for more information.

Costs listed above are relevant for the 2018-2019 academic year. As stated in a student's contract, these costs will likely increase for the 2019-2020 academic year. However, if the tuition or IP Fee increases by more than 10% over the current published cost, students may be released from the terms and conditions of their contract within 30 days of the publication of the new cost.
