Total estimated additional costs to study abroad for the full year:

ranges from $7,290 to $9,120

Details about each fee

Tuition: Same as in Malibu for all IP Programs

Room & Board: $7,455 is equivalent to a freshmen residence hall double with a declining balance Extra Meal Plan. For information on meal plans provided in each program, see program manuals on our website.

Student Government Association Fee: standard for all Seaver students

Textbooks: Exact textbooks are specific to student's course selections. IP will send an email prior to departure with what books you'll need and how to purchase them.

Loan Fees: Applies to students with loans.

Transportation and Personal Expenses: Malibu estimated costs.

International Programs Fee (IP Fee) includes roundtrip airfare, the Educational Field Trip, orientations, and local excursions. Roundtrip airfare costs for students studying both in fall & spring semesters in the same location is $1,220 and is included in the Fall IP Fee. As a result, the Spring IP Fee is $1,220 less. The flight cost for the Washington DC program is $500. If you live outside of California, you can indicate your intent to fly separately from the group when you sign your contract and the round trip airfare will be deducted from the IP Fee.

Local Country Fees: Specific to each program, please see our website for specific information.

PE & Course Fees: Applies to certain courses- see the Seaver Academic Catalog for specific information.

Personal Abroad Expenses Estimate: Personal spending varies by student and program location. Per semester, IP suggests $250 in DC and Shanghai, $350 in Buenos Aires, $750 and Europe.

Passport Fee: Varies depending on where you request your passport and how quickly you request to have it.

Visa Fee: Specific to each program, please see our website for specific information

Costs listed above are relevant for the current 2015-2016 academic year. As stated in the student's contract, these costs will likely increase for the 2016-2017 academic year. However, if the tuition or International Programs charge increases by more than 10% over the current published cost, your student may be released from the terms and conditions of this contract within 30 days of the publication of the new cost.
